

FORMER KLANSMAN RESIGNS AS IND. GOP. LEADER

Indianapolis, June 22 (ANP) One of the state's outstanding Dewey backers resigned last week under fire after a storm of protest centered around his appointment as Indiana's national Republican committeeman, Robert W. Lyons, a self-confessed former klansman, read his resignation before a meeting of the state's delegates to the Republican National convention.

Recanting his former membership in the KKK, Lyons said he had declined to surrender his post as national Republican committeeman because of widespread criticism. The hooded order was politically powerful in Indiana during the 1920's.

J. Frank McDermott Jr., Attica, publisher and president of the Indiana Bricker-for-President club, charged that Lyons literally used a blackjack on the Republican party in Indiana. Achorning to McDermott, his personal canvass disclosed that most Indiana Republicans were for Bricker until Lyons is said to have declared he would not resign until 20 of the Indiana delegates voted for Dewey. Twenty-six of the state's 29 delegates have thrown their support behind Gov. Dewey for Presidential nomination. Lyons' rule lasted less than two weeks. He was appointed national committeeman on June 2, to succeed Ernest M. Morris of South Bend.

Sen. Samuel D. Jackson arrived here and went on record as saying that he intends to refute any charges that he has ever been connected with the KKK. Jackson will soon open his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.
