NEW! "BACTERIOSTATIC" FEMINE HYGIENE
now finding great favor among women...
Many doctors urge the regular use of douches for women who want to be refreshingly clean—for women troubled by offending odor, itching or discharge. Some products may be harmful germicides which burn, harden and damage sensitive tissues. But NOT Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash! Instead—Pinkham's Sanative Wash is an effective "bacteriostatic" (a new, modern trend). It not only discourages growth of the more vulnerable bacteria, but cleanses, deodorizes, relieves minor irritations and discharge. Despite its great strength—Pinkham's Sanative Wash has a beneficial effect on delicate membranes. Inexpensive! Lydia E. Pinkham's SANATIVE WASH ACTUALLY HELPS PEEL OFF UGLY LAYER OF SURFACE

Take the positive POSLAM way to skin improvement. CONCENTRATED for quick action, Poslam helps reduce redness... peel away rough, embarrassing "pimple layer." Not a cosmetic but a 35-year old MEDICATION. Apply before making up or leave on overnight. Six active ingredients cling where needed. We call it "the ointment without disappointment." 50c, drugists.

EISENHOWER, GREETING NAACP CONFERENCE, PRAISES NEGRO TROOPS IN NORMANDY

Chicago—In a greeting read to the NAACP Wartime Conference at its opening session here July 12, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Commander of the Allied Invasion Forces, praised the work of Negro troops during the invasion.

The message, transmitted to Walter White through the War Department Bureau of Public Relations in Washington, stated: "Negro troops did their duty excellently under fire on Normandy's beaches in a zone of heavy combat and suffered substantial casualties. You may well be proud of the accomplishments of Negro troops. In conjunction with all our forces in the European Liberation campaign they have made their full contribution to the initial success."

"Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Commander." Van Jackson, librarian, Atlanta university; and Dr. Alfonso Elder, of the department of education, Atlanta university.

In Columbus, Dr. J. C. Brewer and P. L. Taylor, editor of the Columbus World, appeared at the Muskegoe court house and went through the same ceremony. The Citizens Democratic club of Muskegoe has already filed suit against the county Democratic executive committee as the result of a ballot refusal during the county primary on July 23.

Another suit is pending in August as the result of vote denial in the Richmond county primary on June 24. Filed by the Augusta Civic League, the suit charges the Richmond county Democratic executive committee with having violated the constitutional rights of five of the club's officers, who attempted to vote in the primary. The officers appeared again at the statewide primary Tuesday and hinted that they may amend their court action to include the state Democratic executive committee, since it was a ruling by this body which barred the participation of Negro citizens on July 4.

L. J. Jones, president of the Young Men's Civic club of Moultrie and assistant secretary of the Georgia Association of Citizens Democratic clubs, made an effort to vote in his community, but was prevented by police from even reaching the polling place. He was warned by a burly officer not to "come another step" and after securing the officer's name, returned home.

Jones wired Georgia's attorney general, T. Grady Head, several weeks ago when more than 500 members of his club were denied registration. Head ruled that they should be registered, a ruling that incurred the ire of J. J. McClendon, county registrar, who also serves as chairman of the county Democratic executive committee. McClendon, who grudgingly qualified the group upon receipt of Head's ruling, was quoted as saying, "You can pay your poll taxes if you want to, but you'll never vote in the primary as long as I'm chairman."

Court action against both state and various county Democratic executive committees will be filed immediately after a call meeting of the Citizens Democratic clubs, Atty A. T. Walden said.

Negroes Barred from Vote in Georgia

(Continued from page 1) a battery of news cameramen. A throng of white newspapermen followed A. T. Walden, Atlanta lawyer, and president of the Georgia Association of Citizens Democratic clubs to the polls. Accompanied by Prof. C. A. Bacote of the history department, Atlanta university and E. M. Martin, secretary of the Atlanta Life Insurance company, they met the same rebuff as did the others. Others who offered themselves at the polls in Atlanta were Dr. Ira D. A. Reid of the sociology department, Atlanta university; Dr. R. A. Billings, former national president of Phi Beta Sigma; Cliff Mackay, editor, Atlanta Daily World; Dr. Wallace

MINTO CATO SPEAKS OF CHAPEAUX, CUSINE AND SONG

By Dolores Calvin
New York City (CNS) Even for a miserable storm to be raging outside, Miss Minto Cato, an Arkansas born lady with a rich voice well remembered in such operas as "Aida," "La Traviata" and "Il Trovatore," nestled up in her cozy apartment on St. Nicholas avenue and burst forth with her exuberant personality.

She's all excited about the first affair of the Negro National Opera Company's New York Chapter of which she is chairman. It's an all-star concert featuring scenes from three operas, "Aida," "Faust" and "La Traviata." And she's proud of the chorus which has been trained by her. The big event invaded Town Hall on Sunday, July 9th.

Miss Cato, born LaMinta, is of a musical family and started to entertain as early as six years old. She taught for three years at Athens, Ga., where she produced school plays, directed and wrote dialogue. She was the second and last Negro woman to sing the title role in "Aida" at the N. Y. Hippodrome Theatre with an all white company.

Some of her Broadway musicals were "Connie's Hot Chocolates," "Showboat," "Blackbirds," "John Henry" with Robeson and others. It was interesting to note that in "Showboat," the singer carried the role of Queenie while a then unknown, Kenneth Spencer, played Joe.

She also taught and produced the opera "Il Trovatore" at the Manhattan Theatre which is now the CBS Theatre. In this she sang the role of Azucena which received wild acclaim.

She loves to train people—young weeks ago when more than 500 members of his club were denied registration. Head ruled that they should be registered, a ruling that incurred the ire of J. J. McClendon, county registrar, who also serves as chairman of the county Democratic executive committee. McClendon, who grudgingly qualified the group upon receipt of Head's ruling, was quoted as saying, "You can pay your poll taxes if you want to, but you'll never vote in the primary as long as I'm chairman."

Court action against both state and various county Democratic executive committees will be filed immediately after a call meeting of the Citizens Democratic clubs, Atty A. T. Walden said.
