Lt. Geo. C. Hill of Salsbury, Md., on his arrival at Seattle, Wn.,

By H. W. Smith

I attended Friday morning, August 8th, two special conferences that four members of the Fore-runners, an inter-racial organization, held with Nebraska's Senator Hugh Butler and Howard Buffet, congressman from the Second Nebraska district. The four members of the committee were Marcell Johnson, president, Alston Phelps, Corlieus Thomas, and Charles Washington. Washington acted as spokesman for the group.

The senator told the group that he believed that the problem of racial differences would not be solved completely for many generations. Gradually improvements are being made, he said, but we need to do a daily job of educating and convincing people in their hearts before we can hope to solve this problem satisfactorily.

He advocated that the work of the fair employment practice committee should be continued, but not under a separate bureau. It should be a part of the Labor department, he thought.

If no other method of doing away with the poll tax as a requirement to vote could be found, he said he would favor an amendment to the constitution to do away with it. He also favors any legislation that would do away with lynchings.

Congressman Buffet said, "I firmly believe that the colored members of the armed forces should be allowed to do their full part in helping to win the war and not just the clean-up work."

He has been made disturbed by the fact that we are trying to bring justice to people in other lands when justice is not accorded all of our own people.

The work of the fair employment practice committee has his approval and he believes that any other operations than fair employment practice would be tragic.

Any constitutional amendment that would rid us of the poll tax has his support as does any legislation that would do away with lynchings.
