CHAS. E. SANDALL SAYS:

"THIS INDUSTRY OPERATES IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST"

To maintain good beer-selling conditions in Nebraska, this Committee is engaged in educating tavern owners and checking tavern conditions . . . assisting authorities to guard against bad practices and maintain the high class of retailers and beer taverns—all in the public interest. Those who have traveled in other states agree that Nebraska's Liquor Control Statute, properly enforced as it is, is one of the best methods of handling the sale of beer in the United States.

OUR NOBLE EXPERIMENT

(An Editorial from the Sutton, Neb., News, August 17, 1944)

In November Nebraska citizens will be called upon to voice their opinion with the liquor question—an attempt by the dry forces headed by "Three-gun" Wilson to saddle the state with a new era of homebrew, bathtub gin, an army of state agents, bootleggers and lawlessness.

To say the present liquor laws or the manner in which much of the liquor is dispensed is satisfactory would be a statement of untruth. To say that prohibition with all its evils was the answer is much more of an illusion.

Nebraska boasts one of the best liquor control commissions in the nation aided by a set of laws with teeth in them, but their greatest handicap has been the lack of co-operation among the residents of Nebraska in aiding the commission to enforce the laws on the statutes. Too much time has been spent by too many people harping "the old saloon days were better than what we have now." That may be true, we never had our foot on the rail in a saloon, so wouldn't know. But we do know that a mere law on the books doesn't prohibit. Laws won't keep the chicken house stills from distilling.

Education to temperance and a more strict enforcement of our laws is the answer and with the drys devoting their efforts to these two fundamentals, ferreting out the violators, a more rigid character investigation of tavern applicants, and a wholesale enforcement of our good laws will bring the liquor "question" under control in short order.

This writer's greatest "beef" is the "double-cross" being handed our boys fighting overseas. While the boys are away, the folks at home are attempting to "decide" the liquor question. Sure, these boys are allowed to vote, but you can't keep a bayonet out of your guts with one hand and scratch a ballot with the other.

Wait until the fellows are back—then we will vote on the prohibition amendment and decide the question for all time.

If you are buying a laxative answer these 3 Questions first

Ques. Why do most people choose a popular laxative instead of a lesser known product? Ans. Because a popular-seller can generally be counted on to give satisfaction or it could not have won the respect of its users.

Why is Black-Draught made in 2 forms? Ans. Because many think the new granulated form is even easier to take.

Black-Draught costs only 25c for 25 to 40 doses. It is purely herbal, usually prompt, thorough, satisfactory. Caution, use only as directed.
