Townsend Club No. 11

Our Townsend Club did not meet last Monday night for the duration, we are only meeting the second and fourth Monday nights in the month and through the Omaha Guide, we extend an invitation to every one to meet with us. The Townsend battle is waging on many fronts. And already we have succeeded in gaining almost our number of Congressmen we needed to sign our bill 1649 for a hearing. We are out to get a hearing at this session of Congress. At this stage of our fight with certain victory almost within our grasp, we cannot afford to spare any effort on expense in a well directed effort to win over those Congressmen of good will whose support we are seeking.

Herbert F. Haren of Chicago National organization director of the Townsend Plan Movement said there isn't a power on the face of God's earth that can ever prevent the Townsend plan from becoming national law. So far no one in the United States has been able to find anything wrong with Townsend Bill HR. 1649 now pending before the 78th National Congress. Come out and join us. Membership fee is only 25 cents per year. Don't forget the free mass meeting which will be held Sunday, October the 22nd 3 pm.

It will be held at 2608 Franklin Street in the Morning Star Baptist Church. We will be there looking for you. Read The Omaha Guide.

20,000 Fans Witness Tuskegee's Victory Over Wilberforce

(by Louis Simpkins) Chicago, (PPNS) 20,000 excited fans found wholesome release from the tension of a world at war when they poured into the vast stands of Comiskey Park Friday night to witness the 15th Annual football classic between the Tuskegee Tigers and the Wilberforce Bulldogs. Sparked by the sensational playing of Alva Tabor, team captain, Tuskegee upset the mighty warriors from the Buckeye State with a 19 to 14 victory, in a game rich with thrills and spectacular plays.

The powerful bright lights above the park illuminated the colorful pageant as the two teams jugged on the field clad in their vivid colored armor. The Tuskegee squad made a handsome team in their colors of crimson and gold; while the Wilberforce eleven looked equally striking in green and gold. A mild temperature and a cool northeast wind made the setting ideal for football.

The shrill whistle of the referee marked the opening kickoff, which was greeted by a wild cheer from the crowd that echoed far into the outer darkness of the night. With cleats pounding in the gridiron the two teams charged down the field and clashed when Williams of Wilberforce who received the kickoff from Tuskegee was brought down on the 35 yard line. The ice was broken shortly afterwards when Capt. Demmon passed to King, who thundered around right end and over the goal line for the first Wilberforce touchdown. The kick was good making the score 7 to 0. At this point Tuskegee unleashed its deadly aerial attack that paved the way to the Wilberforce goal line for a touchdown by Crawford. The kick was blocked. At the beginning of the second half, Wilberforce quickly bolstered their score by 7 points after Balor on a line play hit Tuskegee's right end in a driving attack for the second and final touchdown for Wilberforce. Hall's kick was good. One of the game's greatest thrills came when McClellan, who was a veritable powerhouse for Wilberforce, intercepted a pass by Tabor in tended for Perry and zig zaggged 80 yards to Tuskegee's 10 yard line. Taking to the air in a desperate attempt to stave off what seemed like inevitable defeat in the last quarter, Tabor led his men in a spirited charge that netted the Tigers two touchdowns and one successful goal kick, ending the game in a last minute thriller with a decisive victory of 19 to 14.

INDICT 30 TRANSIT WORKERS IN PHILA. STRIKE

(Special)—PHILADELPHIA —The Federal Grand Jury investigating the recent transit strike, which followed the upgrading of eight Negro employees has indicted 30 transit workers for violation of the Smith Connally Act and mildly rebuked the management of the Philadelphia Transportation Co., for failing to take proper action to avert the walkout. With a pat on the back to company unions and a slap at the Transport Workers Union, CIO, the jury handed up a contradictory presentment, topping its list of defendants with the four men who were arrested as ringleaders of the strike which ended on its sixth day after the U. S. Army moved in.

These four men were James H. McMenamin, William C. Dixey, Jr., Frank P. Carney and Frank Anthony Thompson.

Federal Judge Guy K. Bard ordered bail of $500 each for the 30 men but no trial date was set. The Grand Jury found that proper conduct by company executives might have averted the strike; in another, it held that the promotion of Negroes to operating jobs was the fundamental cause of the strike, and in a third, stated that the Negro question played no deep role in the tieup of Philadelphia's war transportation.

Again, the jury placed responsibility for the strike squarely on the company, then shifted responsibility to the Transport Workers Union which opposed the strike from the start and won official Army thanks for its aid in returning the employees to their jobs.

The jury expressed approval of company unions (TWU won a bargaining agent victory over a so-called company union last Spring), which under some circumstances, the jury said, represented the "ideal" in industrial relations. The jurors also noted with alarm the growth of a strong national labor organization "reaching its tentacles into every community" as subversive of "the life and government of our great republic."

And in indicting the 30 men they declared: "It is our opinion that all of these individuals are victims of larger forces under the influence of which they have been affected." The indictments included two counts: —Causing the strike and taking part in a strike which "caused interruption of the facilities and interfering with the operation" of PTC. The maximum penalty is a year in prison or $5,000 fine or both.

"It seems quite clear that so far as there was flame or fire in the strike, the chief fuel, therefore, came from resentment over the upgrading of Negroes to 'platform' positions such as none of their race had heretofore held," the Grand Jury said.

"The members of this jury wish it to be known that they agree entirely with the viewpoint which holds for this race the right to higher positions and wages where-ever they so qualify on the same basis as fellow employees of the white race."

"We are pleased, therefore, to express our conviction that the great majority of the employees were not interested to strike on this basis."

James J. Fitzsimon, international president of the TWU, said "The Union considered the jury report "a miscarriage of truth and justice."

"In their zeal to 'whitewash' the real instigators of the strike located in high places of industry, city government and the Republican Party organizations, the grand jury indicted several innocent workers" Fitzsimon said.

After tracing the history of the strike back to Dec. 27, 1943, when the Fair Employment Practices Commission ordered PTC to cease discriminating against Negroes, the Grand Jury declared:

"It appears evident that proper planning beforehand on the part of management for such an emergency (as the strike) and quick action by responsible officers would have averted the incipient strike into a forceful display of employee loyalty to their company and to their public duty."

"The jury regrets the failure of PTC to take firm hold on the situation. Their general attitude after the strike began seems best expressed in the weak excuse—"What's the use?"

"Actually on the first day of the strike a prominent official expressed it thus to the head of the War Manpower Commission: "It's your baby and it's on your lap."

Referring to the defeated union (PRT Employees Union) the Grand Jury said:

"The members of the jury are interested to note that countrywide we have made a long step away from the company union which might, with the right motivation on both sides, have seemed the ideal method of relations in our industrial life."

GRANT REYNOLDS RESIGNS NAACP POST IN D. C.

Grant Reynolds, Administrative Assistant of the Washington Office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has resigned against the mistreatment of Negroes in the Armed Forces.

Mr. Reynolds said it is his feeling that "On November 7th, America will have its last opportunity to correct the gross injustices to the Negro soldier, by voting to put in office a Republican Administration."

Mr. Reynolds, a Congressional Minister, served two years as a captain in Army Chaplains. As a result of his own Army service and through information and complaints received by him in the Washington office of NAACP, he has become an authority on the widespread abuses to which Negro troops are subjected.

He served as chaplain at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, the only camp in the United States at which exclusively Negro troops are stationed where, he states, "30,000 troops are maintained in a condition of degradation and cruelty."

"Fort Huachuca is generally referred to as being a combination of the horrors of a prison camp and a military camp in Africa where black colonials are trained. Long sentences meted out to Negro soldiers as a result of false charges, unprovoked assaults by white officers upon Negro enlisted men, segregation of Negro officers into squalid quarters, attempted suicide by Negro soldiers because of intolerable conditions, state ments by the commanding general referring to his 14,000 'niggers', jeers by the colored troops of their division commander, and the maintenance of a white supremacy caste system over all the Negro personnel, both enlisted and commissioned, are some of the unAmerican practices which make Huachuca the most infamous camp in America. This condition is made more shocking because Huachuca is the bottleneck through which the only Negro combat divisions, namely: the 92nd and 93rd, have gone to the fighting front namely: the 92nd to Italy and 93rd to the South Pacific."

Mr. Reynolds is now associated with the Baltimore Afro-American for which he will write articles concerning the mistreatment of Negroes in the Armed Forces.

The romance of Susie and the Major—first told in Louis Bromfield's popular novel, "Mrs. Parkington"—has been brought to the screen by yours truly.

The stars of "Mrs. Parkington" are Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon and the story is one that gives this talented duo the greatest opportunity of their careers.

It is quite a different type of story from any in which they have heretofore appeared together.

The sparkling saga of a beauty who married a rogue. His "Major" is lusty, gusty and as American as baseball and huckleberry pie.

Greer is the daughter of a mining camp boardinghouse keeper, lovely to look at and a bit naive at the start. But she learns, she learns—and becomes witty and wise as well as winning and winsome!

She has a good teacher in Maj. Parkington, a handsome rogue with a roving eye.

The part fits Walter Pidgeon like the proverbial glove. His "Major" is as engaging a rascal as a girl could hope to meet—and conquer.

Tay Garnett, who directed, makes the Bromfield novel a thing of power, beauty and humor on the screen.

He is aided by a galaxy of stars including Edward Arnold, Agnes Moorehead, Cecil Kellaway, Gladys Cooper, Frances Rafferty, Tom Drake, Peter Lawford, Dan Duryea and Hugh Marlowe.

The producer is Leon Gordon. To Leon, a vote of confidence from —Leo

CHAS. E. SANDALL SAYS:

"TAVERN OWNERS HAVE PROBLEMS, TOO!"

Most tavern owners want to conduct their place "in the public interest." But, in doing this, they are often faced with difficult problems. For instance - finding the real age of young folks. To aid beer dealers where customers misrepresent their age, this Committee has provided "Sworn Statements" which retailers now insist that doubtful cases sign for their own protection. Thus, in another way, this Committee aids in law enforcement.
