In humble adoration:

(by T. Hodges Goodwin) Lord on this bright Easter morn. I bow to make my plea;

For what Thou's done for me! Thou rose up on this morning, Many hundred years ago; 'Cause the world was dying:

And Thou did love it so. Included in Thy rising: Was such a worm as I; he root of all Thy sorrow:

The cause Thou had to die! I humbly how dear Savior The only way I know;

To thank Thee for Thy blessings My feeble love to show! Forgive my every weakness:

Grant things I fail to ask; Bless when I vainly say things-Help me to do my task!

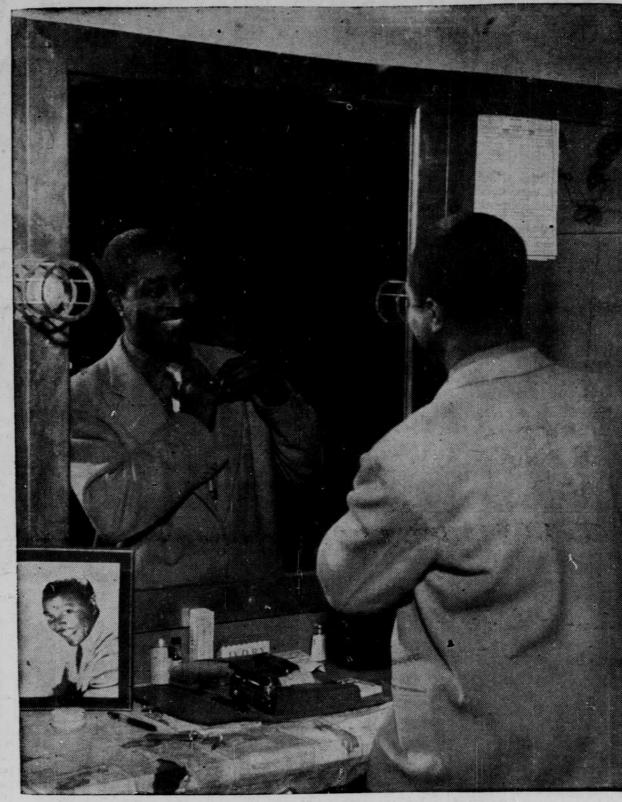

Let love's assimilation, Bind every creed and race; That each may love each oher: And seek Thy Holy place!

Lord this sweet Easter Sabbath: Let me my vows renew; Help me arise this Easter: To love no God but Thee!

Father give me firm desires, To walk the narrow way; Make all my years be Holy, And not just Easter -day.

Lord grant this prayer I pray My truest-surest friend: Let each day be my Easter-For Thine Own sake-Amen!!! -T Hodges Goodwin will be leaving for Uncle Sam's

The women at home are very un They will tell you they love you

And are waiting for you. Why they will do it, no man can tell

But their continuous lying-Will lead them to Hell

M you are a Soldier take my advice

Stay away from the women-For I have tried it twice, They will tell you they love you And they would be true But where did they leave me? Not happy but Blue,

When I return home And these Battles are won To raise me some children, It shall only be one, I will buy him a gun, And an extra good light-To watch my woman. While I'm asleep at night.

No boys that's my story You will find to be true When you get home tomorrow What will you do? Find you a woman, And make her your wife. Get you a shotgun And watch her for life.

JUST LET ME NOT FORGET I've learned the reel of Army talk I learned the feel of fire: I've learned the rifle and grenade The sands and mud and mire.

I've learned the proper battle I've learned to camouflage; I learned the way to parachute,

And mend a fuselage. I've learned what general orders

I've learned the arms and ranks Ive learned to wield a bayonet And how to fire at tanks

I've learned a thousand things or more, So very new to me-Just let me not forget, 'DEAR
