Farmers Join Hands To Boost Production

The war emergency has stimulated small farmers to "join hands" with neighbors in establishing group services that none of them could afford individually. Farm organizations and agricultural agencies have encouraged them to do so.

Last year, with Farm Security administration assistance, 1,499 neighborhood group services were established serving 8,487 families. In each group, members pooled funds to buy equipment or banded sires which each needed on his farm, but which would not be profitable for one of the farmers to own and use alone. About 1,000 of the groups obtained tractors, trucks for picking up milk, threshers, peanut pickers, or other equipment. Some 400 of the groups bought high quality sires for improving their live-stock.

Including these newly formed groups, about 17,000 neighborhood services were in operation last year. The groups are informal and unincorporated. Their members are neighbors who have entered into agreements to share ownership and use of needed facilities. Some are borrowers from FSA, some are not. FSA makes group service loans, on an individual basis, to families who need financial assistance to pay their share. FSA supervisors also offer advice and guidance if the group needs this. No financial help was needed in about 40 per cent of the groups formed in the last year. In 1944 FSA advanced a total of $635,600 in group service loans.

Wash Gloves Often, Milady Is Advised

Cotton and rayon gloves usually wash well, and many varieties of washable leather gloves are on sale. These include pigskin in light or natural color, cape, chamois, doe-skin, except in deep dyes, white buckskin, goatskin and calfskin. However, never attempt to wash leather gloves unless they are stamped "washable" on the label or inside of the glove. Gloves which have once been dry cleaned should never be washed, and kid gloves always require dry cleaning.

Wash gloves frequently, because severe soil makes rubbing necessary, and rubbing may injure the finish or roughen the surface. Wash gloves according to any special directions given by the manufacturer, or wash gloved hands in mild, lukewarm suds, squeezing and pressing, but never rubbing or brushing. Exceptions to the "hand in glove" rule are chamois or doe-skin. Wash these off the hands, because they soften when wet and may stretch or tear.

When gloves are clean, peel them off gently from the wrist, and rinse in lukewarm water until water is free of soap. Don't twist or wring. Roll gloves in a turkish towel to take up extra moisture.
