CAN'T YOU SLEEP?

WHEN the stress of modern living gets "on your nerves" a good sedative can do a lot to lessen nervous tension, to make you more comfortable, to permit restful sleep.

Next time a day's work and worry or a night's wakefulness, makes you irritable, Restless or Jumpy—gives you Nervous Headache or Nervous Indigestion, try Dr. Miles Nerveine (Liquid or Effervescent Tablets)
Dr. Miles Nerveine is a time-tested sedative that has been bringing relief from functional Nervous Disturbances for sixty years yet is as up-to-date as this morning's newspaper. Liquid 25¢ and $1.00, Effervescent tablets 35¢ and 75¢. Read directions and use only as directed.

Electronic Screen Keeps Fish Safely Confined
Millions of fish are still swimming the nation's streams today because of electronic screens that provide an invisible "safety zone," and bar the fish from destroying themselves in the water intakes of irrigation projects, hydroelectric plants and industrial works.

The screen consists of rows of metal pipes, or electrodes, that swing freely from an overhead support above the stream. Water and debris pass through easily, but as the fish approach the "fence" they receive a series of mild and harmless shocks that send them scurrying safely away. The impulses are produced at the rate of from four to eight a second in an electronic generator. A special wave form of electric current, the result of several years of research and experiment, turns back both large and small fish simultaneously, a feat impossible with ordinary current.

French Perfume Industry Centered on Riviera
The making of perfumes from flowers, in which France excelled, was an industry that centered about the town of Grasse in the French Riviera section. Two-thirds of the perfume passed into export trade. Before synthetic perfumes cut in on the market, and turned many French florists to tobacco-growing, there were more than 50 perfume factories in the Grasse area. Acres and acres of flowers were required to provide the industry with 6,000 tons of blossoms annually, including hundreds of millions of hand-picked jasmine flowers.

American Cranes
The old world boasts a number of species of large and oddly ornamented cranes, but here in North America but two species occur, the large white whooping crane and the three races of the smaller gray sandhill crane.

Rayon Bathing Suits
Many bathing suits are made of rayon. Because rayon is weaker when wet, it is important to take off a wet bathing suit carefully. Rayon dries slowly, so a suit should be hung up to dry promptly after wearing. It should not be left in a damp heap on the floor. If possible, hang it so there is little strain on the fabric. Drying over a double line helps to distribute the weight. Do not use clothespins. A clothespin forced over wet rayon may rub a hole in the fabric. Frequent washing in mild suds helps to make the fabric last longer. Salt, sand or dirt rubbed in the fibers injures the fabric. Wash carefully by hand or briefly in power washer. Do not twist fabric while wet. Squeeze out the water by hand. If there are no buttons or buckles of any kind, the garment may be carefully folded and put through a wringer. The buttons or buckle may tear the garment or rub a hole at some point if put through the wringer. Remember, rayons are readily pulled apart while wet.

Insurance Investments
That life insurance companies realized a 51.7 per cent greater return on their mortgage investments in 1943 than from their bonds is indicated by a survey made by the research department of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America. It shows that the 15 largest life insurance companies had a return of 4.4 per cent from mortgages that year as against 2.9 per cent from bonds. Comparable statistics for 1944 have not yet been compiled but the study says that about the same relative proportions probably will be shown. The 15 companies surveyed owned $3,679,978,000 of city loans and 12 of them owned $608,790,000 of farm loans. Despite the advantage in favor of mortgage loans, the return from them was the lowest in decades as was true of other types of investments purchased by life insurance companies, it was said.

Clippers Fast
Finer hull lines, lighter build, increased sail area and hard driving were responsible for the extraordinarily short voyages of the Clippers in the last century. The Flying Cloud is a famous example of the Extreme Clipper, a type which was at its perfection from 1845 to 1860. They proved uneconomical because light build and hard driving under great press of sail necessitated frequent docking and overhauling, and the attenuated hulls reduced freight capacity.

Mr. T. P. Mahamitt of 2116 N. 25th St., leader of the Boy Scouts, has just arrived from Camp Saelly, 10 miles below Fremont, Nebr., where they spent a week. Mr. Mahamitt and the boys reported that everyone enjoyed himself and had a real good time. There were 158 Boy Scouts, 38 of them were colored. Mr. Mahamitt says, "I wish we could have stayed longer, all the boys were happy and jubilant but orderly."

Mr. Mahamitt seems to have a lot of interest in the boys of today, who will be the men of tomorrow. Let us all say that we are proud of Mr. Mahamitt, and the interest he takes in our boys.
