POST OFFICE BOX 11 — ATLANTA, GEORGIA

C. B. F.—I have been separated from my husband for 15 years. Now I am getting my divorce. I am going with a man and we are making plans to get married. I like him but he drinks so much and although he is nice to me, do you think I would be bettering myself by marrying him or not?

Ans: A man who drinks to excess is a doubtful prospect as to being a good husband. I hardly see how it could be uplifting and inspiring to be married to a man who is a slave to drink. Your previous marriage ended in despair and disillusionment and surely do not wish to enter another union with so many doubts and fears in your mind. It's impossible to find perfection in any human being but it isn't too much to expect of a mate to be moderate in his habits of living. Marrying to better your station in life is the wrong attitude to take. Enter matrimony for the love and companionship it offers or not at all.

N. C.—Three years ago I quit school in my senior year and joined the service. I was discharged from service the last week in August and I want to go to college. I feel reluctant to go back to high school and finish the senior year which is necessary if I do go to college. Is it best for me to finish my education or try to get a good paying employment?

Ans: Go back to high school immediately and get your diploma. At this time you will be eligible to enter the college of your choice. If you have not done so, you should investigate the G. I. Bill of Rights providing for educational funds for the service men. Provision will be made for your tuition and maintenance during your educational program. You are a veteran and you are entitled to this opportunity.

N. T.—My husband and I have been married two years. We have two children. He is very jealous of me and doesn't want me to go any place. He isn't a very good provider and he never lets me have the car to go out riding. I love him but I can't put up with his doings much longer.

What must I do?
Ans: A married woman with two babies, less than two years old can't afford to be very independent of her husband. Instead of bucking up against him demanding equal privileges... you should be striving to establish a cooperative, understanding spirit between you two. Show him more love and consideration and be less irritable with his shortcomings and it will have a tendency to make him more appreciative of you and the children and he will doubtless grow closer to you.

GREAT NEWS FOR WOMEN WHO DOUCHE

Many Doctors today recommend the use of douches for women troubled with discharge ("the whites"), offending odor, and minor irritation—for women who want to be and feel refreshingly clean.

And here's a product for the douche—Hospital tested, too, with splendid results—Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, made by the same great company that makes Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pinkham's Sanative Wash is gaining great favor today with women. It's mighty effective to cleanse, relieve offending odor, discharge and discomfort of minor irritation, yet it positively won't harm even the most delicate membranes or tissues. Inexpensive, too. Any drug store.
