D. K.—There is a fellow who came down here from up north and I never did pay him any attention until one night I dreamed about him and it looks like I began to love him. I think about him all of the time and I want to know if he thinks of me too? He has never said anything to me, merely spoke. Please tell me what to do to stop this worrying as I am married and want to be true to my husband. My mind is always on him.

Ans: I warn you, that the feeling is one-sided and exists only in your imagination. It's not uncommon to dream about people and it positively does not indicate that you love the man or he has any love for you. You dreamed about him unconsciously but you are now consciously allowing yourself to build illusions which have no foundation on facts. You can very easily erase this memory from your mind if you make an effort to do so. Concentrate more on making your husband happy. It is he that loves you and you love.

N. T.—I am going with an ex-soldier and he seems to think lots of me and he tells me that he wants me to marry him and I have quit all of my other boy-friends for him. Yet, when he is with me he seems to flirt with other girls and especially my girl friends. What shall I do?

Ans: Postpone marriage until you can understand your friend's actions. If he persists in tantalizing you in this manner, you too can play the game. You shouldn't carry it to the extreme. It is only normal that he should be friendly and congenial among your friends but it is easy to understand that you do not want him flirting with them. He probably needs to play around a while longer before settling down.

G. B.—Is it wise for me to consider the vacation that I have got planned all winter even though I had this unexpected expense to arise?

Ans: Go on your way and enjoy this vacation to the fullest. You were just wise to have budgeted yourself so that you could take care of an unexpected emergency and have enough to take a trip too.

Sad Sue—I am twenty years of age, highly respected in my community and hold a good job as a clerk. My parents seem to object to my being popular. They are very strict and I am not allowed to go to dances, movies or other places of entertainment. They believe a girl should work every day and stay at home nights and on
