THE ALPHA OMEGA CLUB

By Frank Wilkerson

Last Friday night the Alpha Omega's had their Tacky Party which was made up of members in ridiculous costumes. As I looked at the gang I began wondering how sad it would be if they could not dress any better, but I hope the condition never happens and anyway most of the gang has money growing on trees in their yards.

I had anticipated on telling how everyone was dressed but I'm I'd be writing a couple volumes of books. I can say that Jack West looked Confucius with his pajama coat on and his very short black pants on backwards and big legs showing. M. L. Reed looked like Santa Claus in his work clothes as the overalls he was wearing seemed to run around him as he walked. He had enough room for someone else in those things. Jean Rudd's black skirt and red sash with a pair of pants hanging below her skirt was very comical and she had herself a ball just like the rest of us. Can you tell me who Doris Wilkerson thought she was? Did I hear someone say a cow girl?

The dance was fine, but Audrey Forrest and Florentine Goodlett started cutting water melons and seems as everyone forgot about dancing and eating. George Moore and Weldon Ross forgot that the sun wasn't shining and were caught eating watermelon under a tree. Kind of typical, spit your seeds and getting juices all over one's face as he eats not with a spoon but with his mouth.

Last Sunday afternoon we had a meeting at the YWCA and voted that we have our get-together Saturday night; this will consist of various games and dancing. Will see you Saturday night, if you have a new game you'd like to teach some hard heads bring it with you, club members.
