NORTHSIDE YWCA NEWS

MISS ETHEL BREWER IS NEW "Y" DIRECTOR

Miss Ethel Brewer has accepted the position of Executive Director at the Northside Branch YWCA. Miss Brewer, a native of Birmingham, Ala., is a graduate of Fisk University and has taught in the Birmingham schools several years. She received her Masters Degree in Sociology from the University of Chicago. The staff expects the new Director Tuesday, Sept. 17.

Classes are being held this year as usual. Anyone interested in sewing (afternoon and evening), first aid (evening), home nursing (evening) or nutrition (afternoon) please call the office (Webster 1539). You are welcome.

In preparation for Open House, which is an annual affair, both the building and grounds and the fall open house committees have been quite busy. Their aim is to make the entire building as well as the activities more attractive to all concerned. Other definite plans are being made later. The Branch welcomes any woman or girl to join its committees classes and clubs. For information call Webster 1539.

Miss Ruth Sumner and Miss Geneva Burney, Directors for the teen-age program of the YWCA announced the adoption of the name "Y-Teens" for the YWCA program for teen-age girls, formerly called Girl Reserves.

The changing of the name from Girl Reserves to Y-Teens was made official by the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association last June at a meeting held at national headquarters in New York City. This action was taken at the request of many teen-age and adult members in the 225 registered YWCA clubs and 424 community associations where the Girl Reserve program has been sponsored since 1918.

For many years, members of the YWCA felt that the name Girl Reserves did not adequately describe the program. The agency offers for teen-age boys and girls. Questionnaires sent to members of local associations showed that many felt that the name Girl Reserves was too difficult to interpret and did not take into consideration the increasing number of boys participating in the program due to increased co-ed activities, and didn't adequately describe or indicate a relationship to the YMCA.

In recent years, there has been an increased trend to make the program more co-ed in nature. With the advent of teen-age centers and co-ed clubs, the name Girl Reserves did not adequately describe a program which included boys. Over 50,000 boys are now participating in teen-age activities of the YWCA.

The new name, Y-Teens, will describe the age group of the program, is applicable to the club, canteen summer program, conferences and the total program. It is also advantageous in indicating that teen-age members are an active part of the constitution of the YWCA throughout the country.

The local Y-Teen program is carried on in Benson, Tech, Central, North and South high schools; Keller and Howard Kennedy grade schools and the Central Association which is located at 17 and St. Mary's Avenue, and the Northside Branch which is located at 24th and Grant Sts.

George T. Work and Mrs. Alton E. Goode are serving as chairman of the Committee for Teen-age Programs at the Central and Northside buildings, respectively.

Y-TEENS HOLD SETTING-UP CONFERENCE SEPT. 6, 7, and 8

Members of the cabinets of all the local Y-Teen clubs spent the week-end at Camp Brewster attending the annual setting-up conference. Each year before the club season officially begins, club officers meet in conference with the Y-Teen staff for a three-day session of work. They exchange ideas, formulate plans for city-wide service projects and elect the officers of their Inter-Club Council, which serves as a clearing body for all Omaha Y-Teens.

Those on the Planning Committee were Florentine Crawford, of Northside; Jo Ann Ponce, South; Betty Vogel, Central; Mary Jo Roccaforte, North; Nancy Lindborg, Mary Ann Randall, Benson; May Hickey, Tech; Miss Helen Scott, Miss Mary Birckett and Mrs. Mildred Bailey were the advisers who helped with the planning.
