City Wide Plan For Improvement

"To the city, means of Transportation are as Vital as Arteries are to the Human Body."

This is what E. F. (Gene) Agee, General Chairman of the City-wide Improvement Plan, told planning Committee Members today as He stressed the importance of the Airports and Riverrail and River Transportation Projects in the Omaha Improvement and Development program.

These two projects are included in the 14 projects described as Urgent in the interest of Omaha Progress by the Planning Committee.

Voters will be able to vote for these projects—There will be a separate ballot for each—in the November 5 Election.

Speaking in Respect to the Bond Issue of $1,250,000 Approved last spring for the purpose of building New Runways and a Terminal Building at the Municipal Airport, Mr. Agee Declared:

"In the past year the Growth and prospective Expansion in the Air Transport Field indicates definitely that it will be necessary, if Omaha is to maintain its present prominent position, for Facilities to be provided greater than were anticipated only a year ago."

Mr. Agee said that the $15,000 Expenditure recommended in the would be used to develop the Municipal Airport to its Maximum

Omaha Council Of The National Negro Congress

Mrs. G. Aneta Hayes, president of the Omaha Council of the Nat'l Negro Congress left Omaha to attend the American Crusade To End Lynchings, mobilization in Washington, D. C. Sept. 23rd.

Mrs. Hayes said the conference was called by Dr. Albert Einstein, world's greatest scientist and Paul Robeson, America's outstanding Negro singer. This crusade will continue for 100 days to the opening of the 80th Congress, says Mrs. Hayes.

Among the other sponsors Mrs. Hayes said, are such nationally-known figures as Lena Horne; Dr. W. E. Dubois; Orson Welles; Joe Louis; Reid Robinson; Jack Kroll; Lloyd K. Garrison; and Dr. Adam Clayton Powell.

Several thousands of representatives from churches, unions, fraternal organizations, professionals and prominent individuals are going to Washington, D. C. from all major cities of our nation, said Mrs. Hayes.

THE ABBE WALLACE SERVICE
P. O. Box 11, Atlanta 1, Georgia

R. M. B.—I am a woman of 20, have been married 2 years, 8 months, and have 2 children and expecting another one. My husband stayed in the army much over a year and has been out two years. We live in a very nice house belonging to his grandparents. I bought a home while he was in the service like he told me to do but he didn't like anything about it so we sold it and moved back with his grandpa. Now I can't get him to buy another house with the money. He would rather buy a car. I love him very much and hope to stay with him, so please tell me what to do?

Ans:—Don't give up working on him to buy the home. He might be swayed if you reason with him and promise to work with him toward buying a car. After you have the home, appeal to his business judgment that the home is a good and sound financial investment, that you can always get your money back from it, whereas the car is an expense, and besides, this is a poor time to buy a car anyway. Don't be too bull-headed. He does mean more to you than both the home and the car, but don't give capacity and to acquire land for at least one Satellite Airport.

On November 5th, voters will have the opportunity to indicate on a separate ballot their attitude toward the creation of a special commission to see that the airport development is carried out as planned. This commission, appointed by the City Council, will be non-partisan, non-sectarian and will serve without pay.

In the opinion of the planning committee Mr. Agee said, Omaha's progress in the air transportation should be paralleled by the development of transportation on the Missouri River.

To meet this need, voters will be faced by a ballot calling for a bond issue of $250,000 to finance the construction of warehouses, unloading and loading facilities, and a small grain elevator.

The proposed side to these installations is river frontage which the city now owns extending some 1750 feet in the area which would be bounded by Cass Street and Cuming Street if those streets should be extended to the river.

Although emphasizing the importance of these two projects, Mr. Agee said that the separate ballot plan will enable voters to go to the polls as early in the day as possible.

Other projects in the city-wide improvement plan to be placed before the voters include civic center; public market; fire stations; police stations; grade crossings and viaducts; streets; boulevards; and traffic signals; parking; parks playgrounds and recreation; municipal garages, auditoriums; naval armory and sanitation.

G. E.—I am very unhappy. I have tried for years to get along with my sister and for all of my trying she has made me very unhappy. Please tell me what is the trouble and what to do?

Ans:—When two strong personalities clash and both have different viewpoints on everything, cooperation is the easiest solution. You love your sister and she loves you but you have nothing in common except blood. Absence makes the heart grow fonder and heals family jealousies, believe me. If a change can be arranged with no hardship or bitterness resulting, you both would likely be better satisfied.

Mrs. M. J. F.—My husband and I are tired of living here, we want to leave and go up north. Do you think we will better our condition by doing so? Please reply as soon as you can.

Ans:—I am a firm believer in making a change when you find yourself in a rut. Of course, you should make this change if you are both unhappy and dissatisfied with your present lot. You can't lose much, and you have much to gain. So, go north with the determination to make good and be respected citizens. Good luck to you.

Calif.—I have just received my 1946 Guide. True as the name implies I am exceedingly happy and grateful to have such a friend as you to take me into your confidence as you have done, to enable me to have a brighter outlook on the future, to take people, life, success and my own affairs on the whole, more seriously. May God bless you with a long life to carry on this inspired work. Sincerely Mrs. A. B.

E. J. S.—Dearest Abbe: I am bewildered. Is it P. or is it J. or am I just pipe dreaming, period? Or could it actually be H.L.P. Lovingly yours.

Ans:—With all that love you're dishing out Sugar, it could be any one of these boys. The boys like your brand of syrup and they enjoy nothing better than coming back for "seconds". They will appreciate you more and your chance for marriage will be increased considerably if you will give out with it a little more sparingly.

O. L. C.—I am worried. Have almost worried myself to death. Yes, I am in love with a boy but I have to let him go. He is 15 and I am 14. He makes me mad when he brings other girls around me. He says I love you and always he is going to whip me. Is that true love with him or not?

Ans:—No sis it isn't. You don't want any part of sweethearts that rule with an iron hand. Neither of you should be taking love as seriously as you are at your ages. Choose your friends from among your Sunday school classmates and go with boys who are ambitious to get ahead.
