A Crocheted Tablecloth for the Highly Discriminating

Now that fall is here once more and school has started, I've been taking advantage of the cooler weather to have a real session of baking! My family is especially fond of homemade cookies, and I try to keep my cookie jar well filled for the children's after-school snacks. Applesauce cookies are particular favorites at our house, and my recipe is so simple that even amateur bakers have surprisingly good results with it. Perhaps you might like to try it.

APPLESAUCE COOKIES 2 cups sifted enriched flour 1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon cloves 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup sugar 1 egg, beaten 1/2 cup thick unsweetened applesauce 1/2 cup raisins 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Mix together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg. Beat well. Add flour mixture alternately with applesauce to creamed mixture. Add raisins and nuts. Drop from spoon on greased cookie sheets about two inches apart. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) ten to fifteen minutes. Yield: Five dozen cookies.

I've found this recipe especially good! And I feel right at home baking with white flour again. There's nothing like fine-textured white flour to make fluffy smooth cakes, cookies or any kind of bakery goods. And I know if your family is like mine, they will shower praises on Mom for her baking prowess after the first nibble on a homemade applesauce cookie!

NEGROES HAVE LESS SUICIDES, Says Britannica

NEW YORK CITY (CNS)—According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, 1946 Book of the Year, there are less suicides among Negroes than among white people in the United States. The suicide rate among Negroes is reported as 4.8 per 100,000, whereas among white males it is 16.4. Similarly there is a sharp difference among the women of the two races. Percentage of white women is 5.9 but Negro women total 1.3 for the same per 100,000 population.

JOE LOUIS' HANDS UNVEILED AT RECEPTION

NEW YORK CITY (CNS)—Ray Shaw, the only artist who sculpts hands exclusively, has done a beautiful cast of Joe Louis, "fortune", the hands which made him famous. At the reception held in his honor at her 55th Street Studio, Miss Shaw, who has done the hands of many celebrities, including FDR, Irving Berlin, Einstein, Jack Dempsey and Guy Lombardo, entertained guests of sports and theatrical worlds and many friends of the bomber himself. And when Miss Shaw unveiled her portrait, Joe broke out into a big smile.
