THE INTERNATIONAL LUTHERAN HOUR

"Over Station KBON Every Sunday morn"

11:30 P. M.

—Publicity Department—
3558 South Jefferson Ave.
Saint Louis, Missouri

Dr. Walter A. Maier
Los Angeles, California, December 1 (Special) Modern science was cited today as supporting the Biblical teaching of a fiery end for our world. Dr. Walter A. Maier, professor at Concordia Seminary, Saint Louis, broadcasting here in connection with a mass meeting, declared that modern astronomers frequently witness a "fiery finale" of stars much larger than our globe. He challenged skeptics to explain, in the face of this astronomical parallel, why they contradict the New Testament record that "the elements shall melt with fervent heat."

The discovery of atomic energy, Dr. Maier maintained, corroborates the Scriptural statements on the world's end. "If the first atomic bombs men make blast large parts of cities out of existence," he asked "cannot the great God who formed the atom and gave it such startling power, use it to destroy His own creation?"

Denouncing date setters who "by their ruthless disregard of Biblical teaching have brought reproach on the Church," the radio speaker maintained that the signs set in Scripture as signals for the approaching end are being fulfilled in our age as never before. Wars and rumors of wars, earthquakes, famines, pestilences, wide-spread fear and falling from faith all recorded as signs of the last times are the tell-tale marks of our age, he asserted.

Dr. Maier asked for a militant, faithful, Bible-built church that can "help stem the rising tide of atheism and unbelief in a world where masses have lost God."

Mason Devereaux Jr., rep.

"The Call to Duty" was the topic of the Presiding Elder L. S. Goolsby's sermon Sunday morning, Nov. 24 as he began his first quarterly conference of the 1946-47 year. Thoughts from his sermon were: Man must make up his mind whether he will serve God or the Devil; God needs servants to champion his cause, and peace is paramount today and man can only have this peace when he places his burden in the hands of the Prince of Peace.

Rev. Metcalf, our brother had charge of the services Sunday and acted in the pastor's stead at the quarterly meeting Monday evening. Our pastor had been sent by the members to represent them at the special session of the general conference in Little Rock, Ark. November 19-23. Bro. Metcalf is to be highly commended in the manner he carried on in the absence of our pastor, especially as he just lost his beloved wife three weeks ago, sister Myrtle Metcalf.

Monday, Nov. 25 saw the opening at 8 p. m. of our first quarterly meeting by the Presiding Elder Goolsby. All auxiliaries and clubs, and boards gave resounding reports which breathe with the fire and zeal that St. John's membership is going forward with its program for a greater St. John's in Omaha. Eleven stewards were conferred. Bro. Harris was conferred as supt. of Sunday School. All reports were received and approved and Mason Devereaux was elected reporter to see that all quarterly conference news appeared in the Western Recorder along with his other duties as official reporter for St. John's church.

Echos from the special of the general conference were brought to us by two of the most important men in the conference in the persons of Presiding Elder of the Kansas City District, Rev. and Atty. John Adams sr., brother and member of St. John's church of Omaha and our pastor, Rev. E. B. Childress who was sent by his church to represent the membership and keep the banner flying.

At 7:30 p. m. our choir under the direction of Mrs. Pearl Gibson brought to us another of those famous fourth Sunday all-request programs. Those not in attendance because of the inclement weather missed one of the finest presentations of service in song. The spiritual fervor and the fellowship inspired by these beautiful renditions were in themselves a treat to hear.

Mothers the Sunday School is calling all children to come out and get their selections for the Christmas program. The first rehearsal will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 p. m. at the church. November 30th. Send your children out to us on this day or bring them in order that the program will get off to a good start.

The Watchmen have changed their meeting night back to Wednesday. Members are urged by the president to please notice the announcement on Sunday mornings and evenings as to the place and time this organization meets. These men are hard at work on two important projects but they are not saying a thing now.

The Minute Men and Women auxiliary will meet at 2865 Miami St., Sunday, December 1 at 4:30 p. m. The president urges all members to attend.

Mothers send your children to Sunday School every Sunday School every Sunday morning at 9:30 a. m. Attend our morning service at 11 a. m. and our evening services at 7:30. Visitors are always welcome at St. John's, the friendly church. Come worship with us won't you?

HOPE LUTHERAN CHURCH
30th and Corby Streets
H. H. Schauland, Pastor

Dec. 1 marks the beginning of a new church year. Unlike the civil year the church year begins with the fourth Sunday before Christmas. The four weeks before Christmas are known as the Advent season. This division of the church year began in the fourth century after Christ.

Advent means "coming" and it refers to the coming of Christ. It is a season of preparation on the part of God's people. This preparation must begin with true repentance for sin. But it also includes the acceptance of Jesus as the only Savior from sin and of death. The latter is what makes this season one of great joy and hope. It starts the church year in the right manner.

On the four Sundays before Christmas there will be two services at Hope Lutheran, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday School and Bible Class at 10 a. m. The key note of all our messages during this period will be that of joy and hope. May God move you to attend all of these services regularly and thus prepare for Christ's coming. You are very welcome.

Here's An Easy Souffle Treat Made With Quick-Frozen Spinach

WITH eggs as the mainstay of so many meatless meals nowadays, it's good culinary practice to give them varied taste appeal by combining them with vegetables in unusual ways.

There's always a real taste treat when you use quick-frozen vegetables, whether you are serving them as is or in an egg dish, for their fresh flavor is sealed in by quick-freezing within four hours of the time they are gathered. They are easy to use, too, because all the work of preparation is done before quick-freezing, and they come from their cartons all ready to cook.

Scrambled eggs, with a little chopped crisp bacon added if it is available, flanked with quick-frozen green beans and thick slices of grilled tomato, make a quick and easy mainstay. Sliced hard-cooked eggs co-starred with creamed quick-frozen peas combine appetizingly with baked potatoes. A spinach soufflé, baked either in a big casserole or in individual dishes, is a real masterpiece for a meatless menu; and so is a savory vegetable stew.

saucepan until onion is golden brown. Add flour and seasonings and blend. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly, and continue cooking and stirring until mixture is thickened. Then add cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Remove from heat. Add spinach and egg yolks, and mix well. Fold mixture into egg whites.

Turn into greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 60 to 70 minutes, or until souffle is firm. Serve at once with creamed mushrooms or cheese sauce. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Cut bacon slices in half and sauté until crisp. Remove bacon; measure 2 tablespoons fat. Sauté onion in fat until delicately browned; add tomatoes, Lima beans, and Lima bean liquor and simmer about 10 minutes.

Vegetable Stew
4 to 6 slices bacon
2 tablespoons bacon fat
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes
1 cup cooked Lima beans
1/2 cup Lima bean liquor
1 box (14 oz.) quick-frozen spinach, cut in 2 1/4-inch cubes
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Cook spinach as directed on package; drain and combine with tomato mixture. Add seasonings and heat thoroughly. Serve on hot platter and garnish with bacon. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

*1/3 cup dried Lima beans yields about 1 cup cooked Lima beans. Note: Quick-frozen Fordhook Lima beans may be used.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for December 1

A LETTER ON CHRISTIAN LIVING

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:23-30; Ephesians 6:12-18.

MEMORY SELECTION—Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might—Ephesians 6:10.

The war is never over for the Christian. He is called to a constant strife against the world, the flesh and the devil, which knows no armistice or peace conference so long as he lives or the Lord tarryes. Paul, who had now set out on his third missionary journey, was this time permitted of the Holy Spirit to witness and minister in Asia.

For three months he spoke in the synagogue, as was his custom, but when his ministry resulted in many converts others hardened themselves in opposition. So he withdrew (a bit of strategy in this spiritual warfare) to neutral ground in the "school of one Tyrannus," where he could teach and reason with them daily.

Paul knew by experience that this could not go on, for he had learned "as we should learn to."

I. Expect Opposition—It Will Come (Acts 19:23-30).

The comfortable and contented Christians of our day who just want to be let alone to carry on their worship are certainly not related to the real Christians of Paul's type. The enemy of our souls is often content to let us go on in comparative peace as long as we do not bother him unduly, but once we put up the banner of a holy life and service in God's army, he begins a terrific counterattack. Paul had felt it already in the hardening of the listeners' hearts (v. 8).

1. Selfish Opposition (vv. 23-27). One way to bring a violent reaction against spiritual truth is to let it interfere with business. Demetrius and his fellow silversmiths protested to be concerned about the threatened destruction of the health of their business.

Many of the enemies of the gospel in our time are fighting against God's Word because they are in a business which is condemned by it.

2. Senseless Tumult (vv. 28-30). Knowing that their opposition was without true foundation, they inspired and agitated a wild demonstration.

Shouting a slogan which had no real meaning, they lent their voices to the tumultuous agitation against God. Finally, one sensible man fearing the punishment of city officials, quieted them (Acts 19:34-41).

The Ephesians were just like many in our day who fear more than God. But, may we ask, if you fear the judgment of men, how think you to escape the judgment of God? After all, it is God and His Word you oppose, unconverted friend. Do you think He will hold you guiltless?

Paul was not afraid (v. 30), for he had also learned that the servant of the Lord can.

II. Count on God—He Will Deliver (Eph. 6:12-18).

Writing to the church in this very city where the Lord opened "a great door and effectual" for Paul (1 Cor. 16:9), he admonishes them and us to make full use of the provision which God has made for victorious warfare.

There is a complete armor, and a mighty weapon, the sword of the Spirit, but none will do us the slightest good unless we put it on and go into battle. If we think we can do without the breastplate of righteousness (and some Christians and church workers seem to think they can), or neglect to carry and use the shield of faith, we can only expect defeat. We fight great spiritual enemies (see vv. 11, 12 of this chapter) and we need the best in both offensive and defensive equipment.

The girdle of truth binds up the warrior and eliminates the hindrances to rapid movement. The breastplate is righteousness, not his own but Christ's, but it must be appropriated and used.

The soldier must be well shod for the long rough journeys and to give him a good foothold in the day of battle. Peace in the heart provides such a firm vantage point in the fight for God.

Faith is the quickly moved shield, catching all the fiery darts. Here again it is not my faith or yours alone, but our faith in God, putting him between us and our enemies.

The sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God, is our all-powerful weapon. Let us not neglect to use it. We are so prone to talk about the Bible, to defend it, to argue for its truths. Talking about a sword does not make it effective. Let's really use it.

Prayer is always to be counted on and it is both a defensive and offensive weapon. It keeps us in touch with the Captain of the Lord's hosts. We call for help, get orders, and transmit news of victory through prayer.

Soup's On!

Len Doyle, who plays Harrington on radio's "Mr. District Attorney," is a chef de cuisine in his spare time, and one recipe that tickles the palates of his gourmet friends is his chicken noodle soup. The secret is in the noodles. Beat three eggs and mix with two cups of flour. Add water or milk until mixture is pliable. Roll very thin on flour and let dry a bit. Brush off excess flour with stiff brush, let dry some more. Fold into sheets and cut very fine. Meanwhile prepare soup. The wings, neck and back of chicken make a thin rich soup. After simmering 10 minutes, strain out chicken, add finely cut noodles and boil 8 minutes. Good? Why man it's terrific!
