NEW YORK (Calvin's News)—With all the reports coming in about Northern universities cancelling football games with Southern colleges because the southerners object to the presence of Negro players on the Northern teams, our research department went to work to find out if this is a brand new trend in interracial policy.

After a week in the files, they turned up with a report that puts a new light on the whole business. It seems that about forty years ago, staid old Harvard university had a top-notch Negro player on its team, and when the time came for the traditional game with Yale university, Yale informed Harvard that the Negro whose name was Matthews would not be allowed to play.

Harvard quickly and bluntly notified Yale that unless Matthews played there wouldn't be any game. Yale relented and Matthews did his stuff like a Trojan. And that, gentle reader, is how the whole thing began.

NEW YORK (Calvin's News)—The enthusiasm of the crowd gave the game a classic air despite the fact that the Raiders were outclassed from the start. They cheered the Aggies madly for each advance and with a remarkable show of sportsmanship, greeted the Raiders scoring flashes with thunderous acclaim.

Both the Raiders' touchdowns resulted from fumbles by the Aggies and they made them early in a hurry. A third touchdown that resulted from a thirty yard pass was not allowed because of an offside.

This third annual playing of the interracial was sponsored by the Associated Football Charities of which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is an official. It serves the dual purpose of building interracial sports relationship and making money for worthy charity.

NEW YORK—Elmer Ray has been billed as a violent, cold blooded killer, who got that way wrestling with unsympathetic crocodiles in his native heath down Florida way. In an unguarded moment, Ray will tell you that he's got what it takes to end Joe Louis' reign as idol of the people and subtle spokesman for the Republican Party.

His set-to with Jersey Joe Walcott can be no stretch of the imagination, be considered as one of the century's great battles, but it does go a little way to clear up the reports being heard that Elmer is being milk fed—that is on an impressive string of victories. Walcott is an in-and-out fighter

Abbey's Inspirational Reading is Off the Press

J. D. R.—I am a vet of war two 38 years of age and I am not satisfied at home at all. I am not able to do any work, get a pension of fifty dollars a month. My mother insists that I obey her like a child and you know that no grown person likes to take orders as a six year old has to do. I try to be kind and humble but mother is quick to lose her temper and it makes me feel bad. I have not said anything. Tell me if I should leave.

Ans: Stick to there with mother for a while longer. Her attitude is not antagonistic, she is concerned about your health and is determined to make you take the best possible care of yourself while you are a convalescent. The cost of living has advanced tremendously and it would be quite difficult for you to live away from home and be comfortable on your present income. Until you are able to return to work, it would help you to take up some hobby or even a course of study.
