FINAL PREPARATIONS FOR COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE MAPPED

Division workers' meetings to make final preparations for Omaha's twentyfifth annual Community Chest campaign are being keld this week. The drive wil open on October 19 and continue through November 6 in behalf of thiry-one local health and welfare agencies.

Some 4,000 volunteers wil take an active part in the solicitation, according to Edward G. Hinton, general campaign chairman.

Workers in the national firms division were to be the guests of the John Deere Plow Company at an organization meeting Thursday noon, Joh Clapper, chairman, presiding. A similar meeting was held Tuesday when majors of the employes' division were the guests of the Roberts Dairy Company, John Rosenblatt, chairman, was in Chicago. Principal address was given by Frank P. Fogarty, an associate chair- County, Nebraska, for four successive man in the drive

"The dollar wil go farther through Community Chest channels to help Omahas than it will through any other means yet devised," Mr. Fogarty said. "Go back twenty-five years before Omaha had a Community Chest, Thirty-one times a year the agencies would organize and have their own campaigns, it was a joke and took a great deal of time. Now, the agencies spent all of their time doing the job for which they were

The Chest goal is $820,639, about 6 per cent more than the amount raised in the annual drive last year. "Everything the Chest dollar does costs more this year," Mr. Fogarty said "Groceries, medicines, rent, The Chest budget is higher because your family and business budgets are higher." The associate chairman pointed out that Omaha's need as served by the Chest agencies are as great as ever. Some problems, he said, are more acute than last year. R. A. Hayes, president of the Omaha and Council Bluffs City In-

The start of commercial meat packing in North America can be traced to 1641 when a square-rigged ship sailed from Boston harbor with a cargo which a handful of New England colonists hoped could be sold to West Indies plantation owners. Capt. John Pynchen, Springfield, Mass., and a few farmer neighbors 'had consigned hogsheads of beef and pork, packed in salt, to England's colonies. MONTH YEAR (Out of Town .
