

A properly dressed window will contribute to the winter coziness of your home, keep it warmer and reduce expenditures for fuel by blocking drafts from the outside and loss of heat from the inside.

HOW THE GAS PLANT WILL BE USED

The District in order to insure a full supply of gas for their customers have taken the following steps in case there should be breaks in the mains, floods or other acts of providence.

mains. Some changing in piping has been made to facilitate distribution. All Natural gas is conditioned at the gas plant. That is it is first odorized, since natural gas is odorless.

THE PRICE WE PAY FOR PREJUDICE

By Banche Alice Rich

The Negro in our country has suffered more gravely than any other group. It is often suggested that the Negro should lift himself by his own bootstraps, but it is usually forgotten that his feet are set in concrete.

Many of us want sincerely to eradicate the problem of racism in our country.

Race prejudice is not only a shadow over the colored—it is a shadow over all of us, and the shadow is darkest over those who feel it least and allow its evil effects to go on.

It is the white people who are endangered most by race prejudice. We cannot grow in strength and leadership for democracy as long as this problem exists, for as surely as night follows day, our country will fail in its democracy because of race prejudice unless we root it out.

We are endangered in the world where there are many millions more of colored people than of white. The world will close down on us some day if race prejudice goes on dividing us.

Understanding rather than means, make men unjust to each other. Ignorance and prejudice feed upon each other. The ignorant are always prejudiced, and the prejudiced are always ignorant.

Our attitudes, our prejudices and segregation are more harmful to America as a whole than to Negroes or any minority group. Our racial patterns are hurting our economy and handicapping us. It is keeping us from full use of Negroes and breaking the morale of millions who make up the minority groups.

Hate must never be permitted to strangle America. If it does our nation will be a sick nation. It will eventually die. The disease of hate is a disease to which people have not yet become immune. It is a disease of the human mind which people have not yet learned to control.

All of us realize that racism is prevalent. But, too often, we are all responsible. We must open our eyes and ears. We must see what is happening to people against whom prejudice is directed and to people who holds prejudice in their minds, how prejudice is attaching both the tormented and the tormentors. We must recognize its growth and spread. We must know what harm prejudice is doing everywhere.

The highest wisdom is to know the truth, the highest virtue is to do right. One should have either the brains to lead or the faith to follow. To be willing to live the truth is a greater virtue than to be willing to die for one's opinions.

Justice and liberty are for all or for none. Injustice cannot linger in a land that is really bright with freedom's holy light. An individual or people cannot long remain both Jekyll and Hyde, for one character or the other will eventually triumph.

POLITENESS If I could command the speech of twenty nations I would preach politeness in them all. It is the Aladdin's lamp of success. I do not speak idly in praise of politeness, for out of the experience of fifty-six years in the banking business it has been borne in upon me almost daily that courtesy is one of the prime factors in the building up of every character. It is the hallmark of the Christian gentleman and of the keen man of affairs.

William Penn wrote: "The wisdom of nations lies in their proverbs, which are brief and pithy. Collect and learn them; they are notable measures and direction for human life; you have much in little; they save time in speaking, and upon occasions may be the fullest softest answers." Because there is so much interest in China at the present time we have gathered a few of her proverbs:

Just scale and a full measure injure no man. Going to law is losing the cow for the sake of the cat. All the virtues are in peril when filial piety is attacked. A collection of good sentences resembles a string of pearls. Rogues differ little. Each began first as a disobedient son. What is whispered in your ear is often heard a hundred miles off. A wise man adapts himself to circumstances as water shapes itself to the vessel that contains it. A single conversation across the table with a wise man is worth a month's study of books.

Not the cry, but the flight of the wild duck, leads the flock to fly and follow. Think of your own faults the first part of the night while you are awake, and the faults of others the latter part of the night when you are asleep.

One of mankind's myths: "If I were making another $5 a week I could save some money."

The Public Approves This Kind of Action

The conditions in the state's taverns are decidedly improved over that of several years ago. Most Nebraska tavern owners, today, keep their places clean and wholesome, and operate in an orderly, acceptable manner. The present-day beer retailer goes out of his way to avoid any practice or condition that may be displeasing to the general public.

Violations of the law such as sales to minors or to intoxicated persons are constantly guarded against, and tavern owners refuse to tolerate noise or boisterous conduct.

These improved conditions are largely the result of the Nebraska Committee's program of self-regulation. This program, now in its 10th year, has been so effective it has won the approval of the public. Its activities will continue with unabated vigor.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1- Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2- Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.
