Gould Dietz, candidate for District Delegate to the Republican National Convention, has been closely identified with the civic and commercial progress of Nebraska for more than forty years, during which he has devoted much of his time and means to the develop- ment of numerous charitable and civic institutions. Long a leader in Ak-Sar-Ben, he was chosen its twelfth king and served as first president of the Ak-Sar-Ben Exposition Co.

He has never been a candidate for any public office carrying any compensation but has represented his district in previous national republican conventions and is familiar with the intricate procedure in selecting a presidential candidate. His friends believe he is well qualified to serve again. From many contacts due to his wide acquaintance nationally and locally, he believes that the sentiment of a majority of citizens is strongly in favor of a return to fundamental principles of government, and that, with a strong leader worthy and capable of inspiring the confidence of the electorate, the republican party will be successful in November.

Mr. Dietz has announced that if elected in the Primaries, April 13th, he will enter the convention pledged to the Second District's Presidential candidate.

WILLIAM M. PECK

William M. Peck who is running for the Legislature from the 5th district is not just another candidate. He is a man who has lived in or near the 5th district since coming to Omaha in 1916 as a boy of 16. Knows most of its people, knows what they want, and has the ability if elected to get them what they want. Others have been elected but failed to produce.

FEDERAL HOUSING AD- MINISTRATION

Commissioner Franklin D. Richards of the Federal Housing Administration today notified all field offices of the FHA of the amendments to Title VI of the National Housing Act passed by Congress and just approved by President Truman. The new amendments extend Title VI of the National Housing Act passed by Congress and just approved by President Truman. The new amendments extend Title VI for thirty days, through April 30, 1948, and grant the Federal Housing Administration an increased insurance authorization of $400,000,000.

The legislation continues temporarily the important activity of FHA in the insurance of mortgages loans covering newly constructed 1- to 4 family properties under Section 603 and multifamily or apartment type projects under Section 608. The principal difference in the new amendment as compared to the former provisions of Title VI which FHA has administered under the Veterans Emergency Housing Program is contained in Section 603 where insured mortgage operations on and after April 1, 1948 will be based on value instead of necessary current costs as heretofore. The bill also provides that all applications for mortgage insurance under Section 603 received in FHA offices on or before March 31st, will be processed on the former basis of necessary current costs.

Mr. Richards indicated that Title VI applications for mortgage insurance will continue to be handled on a selective basis and that preferential treatment would continue to be afforded those projects offering the best low rent and sales possibilities for occupancy by veterans as heretofore. The bill does not in any way affect the regular operation of FHA under the Insured Mortgage Plan of Title II and the Property Improvement Loan facilities under Title I.

Galloway of the Omaha Guide upon investigation he had found the Market Houses had been discriminating against some Omaha Citizens, especially at the new Greyhound Bus Station, 18th and Howard. Judge Palmer said he thought it was a disgrace upon the city to refuse to serve passengers who would not have time between arrival and departure to go elsewhere to eat. The Judge also said that the lunchroom at the railway station, the Burlington stations, and other bus stations did not refuse or discriminate against the citizens.

American National Red Cross DOUGLAS COUNTY CHAPTER

Volunteer workers for the Red Cross Fund Campaign are taking advantage of the time extension of the drive to "clean up" all campaign solicitation, W. B. Millard, Jr., chairman, said this week.

He urged county residents to remember Red Cross' important role in service to veterans, servicemen and their dependants, disaster relief and rehabilitation and the National Blood program and to give generously. He told the people of Douglas County, "It would be of tremendous assistance if those who have not given or have not been contacted send in their contribution to the Red Cross Campaign headquarters, 702-Woodmen of the World Building, Omaha."

RECEIVE MORE MEDALS

Donald F. Gunn of Grand Island, Nebraska, Northwestern Bell Telephone Company lineman, who received a Vail Medal Award from the Telephone Company last September for rescuing a fellow workman, has been presented with two additional awards in recognition of his heroic action. The presentation was made at McCook Nebraska, on April 1 by Stuart H. Kelley, Assistant to the Vice President and General Manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The two awards are the Certificate of Merit of the American Red Cross and the President's Medal of the National Safety Council which is made up of thousands of safety organizations and industries employing more than 12,000,000 persons.

The act for which Mr. Gunn is receiving such outstanding recognition took place a few miles west of Grand Island on May 1, 1947, when a fellow workman, Lloyd Pearson suffered a 7,200 volt shock over a wire which broke as it was being unwound and flipped up against an electric power line.

After directing the other member of the crew to call a doctor and emergency unit, Mr. Gunn, while alone in the interval before help arrived, applied artificial respiration, so effectively that, although it required some 20 minutes to restore the victim to consciousness, his efforts were successful.

During the war, Mr. Gunn served in the Coast Guard where he received first aid training in a life-saving station and aboard the ship, FS141, overseas. In January 1947, he took the Telephone Company first aid course which he passed with a perfect score.

OUR Guest Column

BROTHERLY BEHAVIOR
By Earl Conover

In typical Irish humor Paddy is supposed to have said, "Begorra, I think iv'rybody's as good as iv'rybody else-in fact some are a little bit better". Maybe you are one of those "better" people, who, by reason of character, training, education and idealism, should be taking even more of an active interest in the affairs of your government than you do now.

The complaint is so often made that the "better" folks are the very ones who show the least interest in government e. g., they make up the majority who do not vote. Still the government affects them 1001 times each day.

We've told that they vote most faithfully — and would vote repeatedly if they had ch'yleonic characteristics — who have most to win or lose. ("Tis a selfish world, to be sure.) Yet in every election planned for us win or lose, depending upon those "right" or "wrong" election officials. A multitude cannot seem to see the direct relationship between an election and their daily life.

"PUBLIC SERVANTS"

Sometimes our "public servants" need a reprimand, a reminder they were elected for such, to represent us and not to re-present their own ideas ad infinitum, et ad absurdum. Often, however, our public officials are as innocent as new born babes of any major responsibility for really unfavorable conditions. Many things are just too big for any of us to have caused — or avoided. Headwinds were too powerful for any smooth sailing.

But let's play the game of "S'posin'" as we did when kids. Let's pretend that all the blame should be drept like a ton of brick on the toes of some "public servant". What do we do about it? Anything at all?

Well, some folks do something; they go out and vote. They're not content with the tongue lashing which seldom gets more than the backyard broadcast, or heats up the telephone wires on occasion. They use their feet to go to the polls. Protest votes win or lose many an election, sometimes by even one or two. Your vote might turn the tide.

GIVE HIM THE GATE

So if you're all fed up with Senator so and so, if he's done nothing for you since you gave him a cross (X) on the ballot, except to match it with his own making it a beautiful double-cross, you can do your part to "give him the gate". Even before he begins his campaign speeches you can begin your very own. But get some facts and figure first because there's entirely too much untrue talk about other's, especially our politicians.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly fine." A peaceful revolution is possible, and expected, under our American system. That's why we like it.

Now that all (?) our citizens have registered, may they not forget and vote. Probably some will need a reminding, or even a car ride to the polling places. If some sacrifice is needed, let's give it.

Her's one chance for needed changes. May the very best people be elected.

HARLEM INAUGURATES FIRST "UNOFFICIAL" MAYOR

The "Mayor of Harlem," Sherman Hibbett, 39-year-old former Detroit resident who came to New York in 1941, was inaugurated March 23 at impressive ceremonies in Harlem's Savoy Ballroom. Hibbett, who was elected in the first popular vote ever conducted for a locality mayor, received an additional honor at the affair when he was presented with a framed plaque by Philip Morris & Co. Ltd., Inc. The plaque, presented to Hibbett by Philip Morris' famed cigarette callboy "Johnny," was a Certificate of Award "for distinguished achievement toward improving better race relations and civic government in terms of real democracy." Looking on as Hibbett accepted the award are, left to right, Reuben J. Patton, executive director of the Unofficial Mayor's Committee of Harlem; Hugo E. Rogers, Manhattan Borough President; "Johnny," Mayor Hibbett and Herbert Wright, Philip Morris representative in Harlem.
