PICNIC MEALS

More and more, picnic meal erica. The whole family enjoys an outting to-gether, and food tastes its best-cooked and eaten in the open. In plan ning picnic menus emphasis should be placed on simpicity. A simple, nutritious meal to be cooked outdoors can be gotton to-gether very quicky. The homemaker who wor ks overtime preparing rich cake or other heavy desserts as picnic fare can provide more nutritious food by using fruit instead. The ideal picnic meal which is not too heavy may include a meat dish-cook de over the fire and possibly served with buns, several raw a membber of the Spanishclub a beverage.

Asparagus Roll-Ups For Summer

Now that summer time is on the way, and the markets are brimming with fresh vegetables, it's a temptation to buy all the green things in sight. But, if limited to a few, do buy some fresh asparagus and plan to serve Asparagus Roll-Ups for lunch or supper.

This recipe favorite is asparagus spears wrapped in a tender golden pancake and topped with a tangy cheese sauce—a dish that fairly shouts the nearness of summer!

Asparagus Roll-Ups are just the thing for a luncheon that needs to be special, without long hours of preparation. The pancakes for this dish can be stirred up in just a matter of minutes from a pancake ready-mix. Cook fresh asparagus until tender, make a cheese sauce, and lunch is ready.

Asparagus Roll-Ups 2 cups pancake ready-mix 24 cups milk

1. Just add milk to unsifted pancake mix all at once and stir Pour 1/2 cup batter for each pancake onto a hot, lightly griddle.

Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.
Place several spears of cooked fresh asparagus across of baked pancake. Roll up. Serve immediately with chelle a with a strip of pimento or sprinkle with panrika.
