INDEPENDENCE DAY

By H. W. Smith

We find ourselves on the brink of another 4th of July, which was originated in Philadelphia in 1776 under the administration of then President John Adams. When the Declaration of Independence was signed July 4th, 1776 He said, "The day should be solemnized with both young and old with a parade of guns, bells and bonfires." The usual custom as it takes our memory back to think of what our forefathers in their well thinking way, was thinking to give high honor to a day that would pass from generation to generation in the good old USA and let's all celebrate in a common sensible way.

Light as a Summer Breeze

You'll get compliments high and wide when you serve this fluffy white cake with creamy, luscious, fresh strawberry frosting. The frosting is quick and easy to make—no cooking. It's a wonderful cake to serve with ice cream, fruit punch or tea. Try it and see!

Strawberry Festival Cake

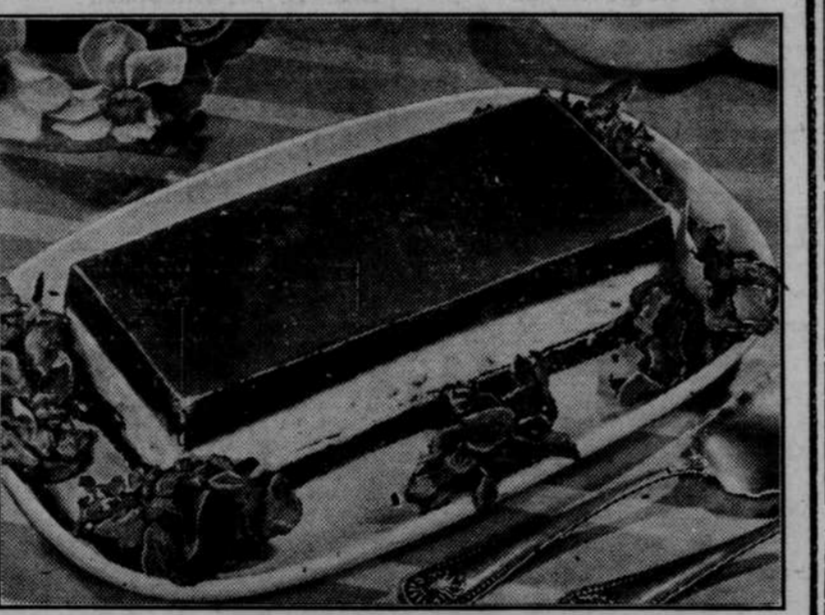

2 cups sifted cake flour 1/2 cup Spry
1 1/4 cups sugar 1 cup less 2 tablespoons milk
3/4 teaspoons baking powder 1 teaspoon vanilla
(tartrate powder, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
5 teaspoons) 3 egg whites, unbeaten
1 teaspoon salt

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into mixing bowl. Drop in Spry. Add 1/2 of milk, then flourings, and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed). Scrape bowl and spoon or beater. Add remaining milk and egg whites and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed).

Bake in two square 8 x 8 x 2-inch Sprycoted pans in moderate oven (360° F.) 25-30 minutes. Spread Strawberry Festival Frosting between layers and on top of cake. Serve in slices cut about 1-inch thick. Delicious with ice cream.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL FROSTING: Blend together 2 tablespoons Spry, 1 tablespoon butter and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Add 1/2 cup sifted confectioner's sugar, creaming until light and fluffy, then add 3/4 cups confectioner's sugar alternately with about 1/2 cup of well-crushed strawberries, stirring until smooth. Add only enough strawberries to make nice spreading consistency. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice and mix well.

Russians Outside Soviet Rail Headquarters

BERLIN, GERMANY—(Radio-Soundphoto)—Russian soldiers are shown outside Soviet Rail Headquarters building in the U.S. zone of Berlin as they brought food for their comrades who remained in the building after American troops sealed it off with a blockade. The food carriers were not permitted into the building. They passed the food over to German Police who took it to the Headquarters occupants. American authorities informed the men in the building that they are at liberty to leave.

KUDOS

The CBS "You Are There" script, "Toussaint L'Ouverture Liberates Haiti," broadcast on May 30 has been requested by the New York Public Library for inclusion in its world famous Schomburg Collection of Negro Literature and History. Dorothy Williams, Curator, heard the broadcast and immediately telephoned her request for the script. She called a national tribute to the first great Negro of modern times." Joseph Liss, and produced and directed by Robert Lewis Shays, dramatized Toussaint L'Ouverture's courage and the leadership in Haiti's revolt against slavery at the time of Napoleon.

DOUBLE DUTY

At first it looked as though the New York apartment of Everett Sloane, distinguished radio and screen actor who is a regular member of CBS' "Studio One" company, would represent the thespian in "Jigsaw" forthcoming movie directed by Fletcher Markle, producer-director of "Studio One". Although Markle had no role in mind for Sloane, the latter's apartment appeared ideal for several interior shots involving Franchot Tone and his wife, Jean Wallace. Most of the scenes went off smoothly until the company came to a minor bit where a slightly wolfish delivery boy delivers a package of bottled delight to Miss Wallace at the apartment. Several "delivery boys" wet through the brief scenes but Markle was not happy by the results. Suddely Sloane arrived home. Markle was hit by an inspiration. That's right. Sloane was soon knocking on the door of his own apartment as the delivery boy.

SEWING HINTS

By Masy Ann Knowit

Family necessities, household articles, and that everlasting problem of gift giving eats up a considerable portion of our income each year, and in order to alleviate this problem the housewives should be constantly looking for methods and means to do so. I suggest crocheting as one method for it's a beautiful art, highly respected and very expensive when you use it in the stores. However when you crochet at home it costs you less than one third of the retail price. Every lady that has had a pocketbook crocheted for her will tell you that it cost her at least twenty dollars, so you can imagine how much it would cost you to have a bedspread made. Why, most of us could not afford it. You could own such articles, however, if you learned to crochet. Your home can be made more beautiful and better by making bed linen edges, scarves, doilies, tablecloth's and scatter rugs. Your wardrobe can be made more expensive by adding such things as crocheted blouses, handkerchief edges, hats, pocketbooks, gloves and even beautiful and expensive looking dresses. The gifts you give can be made more unique by crocheting a new baby cap, bootie and sweater set, or by buying plain linen handkerchiefs and bordering them with beautiful designs. Books have been on sale at all needwork shops and ten cent stores, but I am now offering a leaflet, free of charge with all the instructions on crocheting. There are illustrations that will actually show you all of the movements necessary in learning how. If you would like to learn how to crochet, write me and I will immediately send you a leaflet entitled "The ABC of Crochet. Write to Home Sewing Bureau, 400 Manhattan Ave, New York 26, New York Suite 4.

Mercy Plane Bears Red Cross Personnel and Supplies to Oregon Flood Area

CHICAGO, ILL.—Bearing a specially trained Red Cross disaster worker and a cargo of supplies that included 500 pounds of dextrose-rich candy, a mercy plane flew from Chicago to aid victims of the flooded Columbia river. The flight was sponsored by the Chicago Herald-American and business organizations making up the Mercy Fleet in Chicago. Robert J. Casey, former war correspondent, was aboard. VACATION BOUND

As we are heading for vacation time, that two weeks that the boss so grudgingly gave us will seem like two years. It began too late and ended too soon. You will be going to the beach. Of course, every smart girl does. First she gets herself a nice snowy white bathing suit like the one worn by Bunny Evans, and second she gets herself a beautiful, as well as handy beach bag to carry all of the necessities that a girl uses on the beach. Miss Evans was smart. She crocheted this bag with rug yarn and stitched it with pearl cotton. Child, it would cost her a fortune down at Saks Fifth Avenue. For free instructions on how to make this bag, clip this picture and send it to the Sewing Department of this paper or the Home Sewing Bureau Department of the paper or the Home Sewing Bureau, 400 Manhattan Ave, New York 26 N. Y., Suite 4.

Want Music In Schools

CHICAGO—These two little girls practicing on their flutes are getting classroom instruction in music, something 85 per cent of the American people believe should be a part of every school system, according to a recent nationwide survey on the public's interest in music, which was conducted by the American Music Conference. Actually, only 50 per cent of the persons of all ages who now play an instrument took lessons as part of their school work. The girls here are from Milwaukee, Wis., one of the few cities where the school curriculum includes music instruction.
