Discouraged—I married about three months ago and I love my husband and he says he loves me. But at times, he will not hardly give me a good word. Another guy has been seeing me and says he loves me. Shall I quit my husband? I want to make a success of my marriage.

Ans: Quit the other man. It is he that is making your life unhappy. Your husband has reason to swell up and pout—the thing that surprises me is that he tolerates your conduct. He feels in his heart that you are double crossing him with another man and he's worried about it. No marriage can be a success for long with one partner deliberately cheating as you are doing.

LCB—I own my own farm. I have a tractor, truck, a nice car and other necessary equipment to do well here on my place. Recently, I have been urged by my cousin to sell out and go to California. I hesitate to do so. Tell me what is best?

Ans: For years you worked and dreamed of the farm you have to own—now that you have it, stay on there and give it a fair trial. True, your cousin is doing fine in California but he doesn't have what you have—neither is he holding on to his money. Stay right where you are.

M L—I have a boy friend and he goes out and drinks with other women and takes them to the show and other places. He gives me money to go and enjoy myself but when I talk to boys or men, he jumps me about them and says he doesn't give his money to me for nothing. I want to know what to do?

Ans: Get a job and become independent. Accepting money from this man places you in an awkward position and it puts you under obligation to him. He feels that he has a right to expect and demand that you cater to his wishes even though he does as he wishes. If you want to retain your independence and freedom—do not accept money from your boy friends.

MLC—I need your help so much at this time I am not popular at all with people. I can't make friends. When I am around folks I can't make myself talk for fear I will say the wrong thing. Therefore, I am unhappy. Will I ever conquer fear and be happy?

Ans: Happiness is within your reach—you can easily overcome this inferiority complex and become more popular among the people of your community. I suggest that you send a quarter for Happier Living Lesson No. 3 The Way To Happiness. I will advise you personally at that time.

FRM—There are two men in my life. One is about five yrs. older than I and he seems to like me very much and tries to please me. In fact, he wants me to marry him. The older man has more wealth but all I ever get out of him are promises. Which one should I devote my time to?

Ans: The younger man is the serious one and wants to include you in his future plans. The older man is definitely not interested in marriage and he doesn't intend to part with any of his money. You're wasting your time trying to play up to him. Devote more time to the other man. Actually you care for him more than you do the older man.

S. C. DEMOCRATS LEAVE CONVENTION WALLACE FOR PRESIDENT COM. Philadelphia, July 12—The majority of the South Carolina delegates who arrived here this week to attend the Democratic convention were forced to leave on the first day of the convention for Columbia, S. C. to prepare for their appearance in court July 16 to answer the NAACP charge that the Democratic party in South Carolina is seeking to deprive Negro citizens of their right to vote.

William P. Baskin, Democratic chairman in South Carolina, said that a July 13 meeting was necessary to consider the order of Federal Judge J. Waties Waring, issued July 8, warning that Negroes must be allowed to enroll for the state Democratic primaries which will be held in August. This restraining order was issued after attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed suit on behalf of David Brown and other qualified Negro voters against officials of the Democratic party in South Carolina, the NAACP complaint alleged, sought to keep Negroes from voting by prohibiting any Negro from joining Democratic party clubs by requiring that every Negro upon registering present a general registration certificate and by requiring every member of the Democratic party to take oath to uphold racial segregation and oppose federal fair employment practices legislation.

All members of the state Democratic executive committee and the chairmen of all counties except Richmond were named defendants in the NAACP suit.

(Continued from Page 1) program was passed over the opposition of the home state delegations of President Truman and Vice Presidential candidate Barkley as a maneuver. "The delegates knew perfectly well that President Truman not only has not introduced specific legislation to implement civil rights, but that he has publicly stated he did not intend to do so.

"They knew that the northern Democrats in Congress have always left the floor when civil rights questions arose in order to let Southern poll-taxers perpetuate Jim Crow. "They knew Senator McGraw, National Democratic chairman, has stated that the "teeth" in the civil rights program was intended for use in northern industrial disputes, not to help southern Negroes vote.

"If President Truman mean what he says he says, he will abolish segregation in the federal armed forces immediately by executive order, and will see that the Democratic Congressmen write the civil program into legislation." Wallace leaders will confer Negro candidates from throughout the nation. In addition to Rainey and Marshall, they include Margaret Bush Wilson of St. Louis, Mo., attorney; Julius B. Jones, chairman of the Negro Chamber of Commerce of Kansas City, Mo.; Earl Dickerson, prominent Chicago attorney; Willard B. Ransom, president of the Indiana State Conference of the NAACP and first Negro congressional candidate in the state's history; Dr. John T. Camper, physician of Baltimore; and Dr. Ulysses Campbell, dentist of East Orange, New Jersey.

Open hearings on the platform will be held July 21 and 22 by a 53-member committee headed by Rexford G. Tugwell, former governor of Puerto Rico. Among committee members scheduled to help draw up the platform are: Dr. Joseph L. Johnson, dean of Howard University Medical School, and Estelle Massey Osborne, former president of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses.

Paul Robeson, now of four co-chairman of the National Wallace for President Committee, is also expected to play a leading role at the convention. Arrangements, credentials and other committees will also meet before the convention opens. Two Negro newspapers publishers—Roscoe Dunjee, of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Charlotte A. Bass, of Los Angeles, Calif., are among the 10 committee officers.

The convention will be officially named Friday night when it closes, after 20 hours of sessions it will have created the political organization binding together new parties and Wallace Committees now existing in most of the 48 states.

Choosing a Turkey In choosing a turkey for the table, get a bird that's young and tender, with plenty of fat under the skin. The body should be well-rounded and the breast well-fleshed. In cooking your turkey, remember that the bigger the bird, the lower your oven temperature should be.

COMMON DEFENSE Program for Americanism Alert to the menace of totalitarianism and determined to defend our country against it, four million members of the American Legion have launched a program for "Revitalizing our American Way of Life."

It is a positive program. It stresses pointedly and clearly what we believe and the progress in freedom we have in accordance with what we believe. It describes America as "a country where individual rights come first." It reminds us that we enjoy many and precious blessings because our Constitution promises to guard us and our homes from harm, to protect our right to say what we think, to worship in the faith of our choice, to earn a living and, by power of the ballot, to make the Government itself answer to us.

It is a program that issues a warning. It is a warning that "there are some among us who would like to change all that has made us great and have us live instead under some plan promises everything but takes all." It is a warning that our rights as free Americans—"rights which do not even exist under communism or in dictator controlled countries"—are in danger.

It is a program for action. Every American ought to be prepared to tell and ought to be willing to tell the story of month to month, the American Legion will mail millions of booklets, setting forth "some of the truths on which American success is based," to millions of American homes. To appreciate America, to know what America has accomplished, and to enable the American people to answer the advocates of the purpose of these Americanism booklets.

It is a program highly endorsed by Dr. Daniel A. Poling, President and Editor "The Christian Herald;" "It will strike a blow at juvenile delinquency is home and community neglect. It will promote every worthy ideal of our freedom, and it will enrich every freedom. Beyond this, it will help make America strong to share liberty with all who would be free. In strengthening our own defenses, it will help make the world secure."

By Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York "The plans of the American Legion to increase proper appreciation of our nation and its fundamental principles is most commendatory. It matters not where you live, or what rank of life you hold, be you rich or poor, Negro or White, Protestant, Jew or Catholic, employer or employee, by your works you must prove your faith in your country and your fellow humans."

By Rabbia William F. Rosenthal, President, Synagogue Council of America; "Our American democracy is based upon the principle that everyone living under its flag is entitled equally to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. This is not only a great American ideal, but one to which every religion subscribes, and I am, therefore, glad that The American Legion is making the affirmation of this doctrine one of its prior concerns for the coming years."
