Just Between Us

DON'T BE A FALL GUY—BE AN AUTUMN GAL! By Maria Caterine

The calendar indicates that summer days are drawing to a close and that with the arrival of the autumnal equinox on September 22 campus days are just around the corner. However, to Susan Thorne, the lovely radio actress whom you may hear on MBS "Quick As A Flash" programs, this need not necessarily mean that all summer garb has to be discarded or be stored until another year. Review your wardrobe carefully before shelving any one thing for, with a little ingenuity and deft fingers, you'll find that many items of clothing worn during the summer sojourn can be put to further use during cooler days. For instance, points out Susan, who has a right to this assertion since she has many tricks for making old things into new ones, a pair of jeans that have more than served their purpose during warm weather can be put to additional use off campus simply by facing the legs and covering patch pockets with scraps of bright plaids or print material. Turn the legs up into wide cuffs and, presto, you'll find that there's still plenty of jive left in those jeans.

Shirt Tales Illustrated

Dad's discarded shirts make a nice companion piece for the trousers by facing the collars and cuffs with the same material used to trim the jeans. For dormitory use, you'll discover that such shirts come to the rescue again, since they can be altered to provide real sleeping comfort merely by removing the collar and cutting the sleeves to a three-quarter length. Bind the neck and sleeve edges with a bright bias tape and you'll have a nightshirt as cute as any you could buy.

According to our dean of fashion knowledge, blouses and skirts always rate an "A," so if you have some old lace collars and a blouse you'd like to give the new look to, try appliqueing the lace collar onto the neck of the blouse. When you cut out the material underneath the collar, it will leave a lovely lace neckline. A straight narrow skirt can be made to look definitely different by inserting a panel of striped fabric, or other material of your choice, down the center front. Remove the waistband and slit the skirt front down the center. Seam the striped fabric to the skirt on either side, gather along the top and apply the waistband again. You will find the finished garment will take cum laude honors in any classroom.

Competition for Southern fried chicken comes from a Connecticut roadside restaurant with a sign advertising "Northern Fried Chicken." I wouldn't think of starting an argument, but if you try sauteing your friers in vitaminized margarine there won't be any need for a country-wide chicken fight. All of it will be best.

A Music of the Month Club is to be started soon with an offer of a free album of records for every five purchased. Cost of an album would be about $3.90. . . . And next Christmas, cards with built-in records which play "Jingle Bells" will be for sale.

Nails are wearing the natural look again with half-moons and tips showing. Incidentally, if your work is hard on polish, it's wiser to stick to the clear lacquer for work wear and save the brighter shades for special occasions.

While on the subject of good grooming, remember to keep nail equipment, clothes brushes and wax-liquid and paste polishes available for the school set. No excuse then not to be "slick."

Can't believe it but one of the new floral styles is identical flower collars for midday and her dog.

There's a lot of cranberry sauce this year. But don't wait till turkey time to serve cranberries for they take just as kindly to chicken and lamb. Good in salads, too.

A SWEET BREAD— WITH FLAVOR HARMONY

If you have been looking for a sweet bread with an unusual flavor, here it is! Rich with nuts and dates, plus the wonderful flavor of fresh orange, this delicious loaf is distinctive.

It is so easy to make with your simple, tested recipe below. Your very first loaf will bring you compliments galore. And this fruity loaf stays fresh for days—if you can keep it from the family after the first taste!

Tender and slightly moist, it is ideal for lunch boxes, afternoon tea or any time refreshment is in order. Clip the recipe and get a loaf of this luscious bread in the oven today.

FRUITY SANDWICH LOAF

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup spry, 1 egg, unbeaten, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1/2 cup nuts, chopped, 1/2 cup dates, cut in pieces

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into mixing bowl. Cut in spry until mixture is as fine as meal. Add egg, milk, orange juice, orange rind, nuts and dates and beat 150 strokes. Bake in Sprycoated loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 1/2 hours.

DELICIOUS SWEET ROLLS WITH AN EASY TWIST

Just everybody loves sweet breads—especially tender light rolls like these, with a sugary nut top, baked to a rich, golden brown. You have a choice of flavoring—choose lemon, for the subtle French-roll flavor.

This tested recipe shows you how to make them quickly and easily. No kneading. In a short time you can turn out 2 dozen of the most delicious rolls you ever tasted. Tasting is believing, so clip the recipe now and make some today.

Nut Twists

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup spry, 2 cakes compressed yeast, 1/2 cup lukewarm milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 eggs, unbeaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla or 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup pecans or walnuts, finely chopped

Sift 1 1/2 cups flour with salt. Cut in spry until as fine as meal. Crumble yeast into milk. Add 2 tablespoons sugar and stir until dissolved. Combine flour and yeast mixtures and beat until smooth. Cover and let stand 20 minutes. Add eggs, singly, beating well after each addition. Add flavoring extract and remaining 1 1/2 cups flour and mix well. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour). Combine 1/2 cup sugar and nuts. Drop dough by tablespoonful into nut mixture. Roll in mixture to shape like breadsticks. Twist each piece into a figure eight. Place on Sprycoated baking sheet. Let rise 5 minutes. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 10-15 minutes. Makes 2 dozen.

Divorce for Gabbiness

Another "last word" in shopping luxury comes from Chicago if plans go through. A drive-in shopping center is being considered where all purchases can be made from the customer's car.

Worried about what to do with those glass curtains faded from the summer's sun? Then why not give them lovely fresh color with all-purpose dye which comes in the pretty sunny tones you'll want for your home.

Good news in the soap department if the decline in prices of ingredients are an indication. Both tallow and coconut oil costs are down, which should mean retail prices will soon decline.

Muriol Poindexter Popular Model

Miss Muriol Poindexter here strikes a demure pose, designed to account the effect that this charming little hat has on the one who wears it. In addition to being an outstanding model, Miss Poindexter is also active in social and civic affairs in New York. She finds this kind of hat suitable for almost all occasions. "It is such a serviceable little hat", she says. "You can have this hat at a very low price by learning to make it yourself. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the fashion editor of this newspaper for completely free of charge instructions on how to go about making this hat."

Fat Facts

"Food saving is still a number one job," says the Department of Agriculture. "Fats and oils are scarce all over the world. We must rely on conservation to help offset shortages; save every available drop of used fat."

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

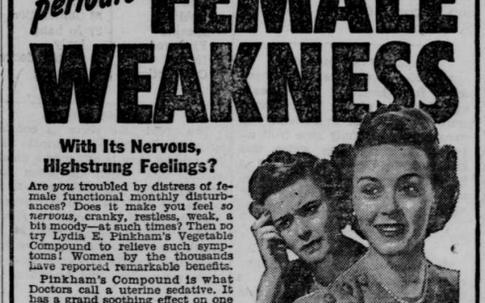

The other morning one of my neighbors dropped in for coffee. While we were chatting, she asked me if I had seen the article in the paper regarding a law requiring enrichment of white flour, bread and rolls. Twenty states already have passed mandatory laws. The article pointed out that the need for such laws is greater since the war-time food order requiring enrichment of white bread and rolls was revoked last October. My neighbor asked me if I felt that such a law was needed. Well, my answer was "yes" definitely—and I told her about my recent visit to a Baking Laboratory.

At the laboratory, I watched one of the women technicians test enriched flour to determine the thiamin content . . . and as I watched her she told me that enriched bread contains not only the famous B1 vitamin, but riboflavin, niacin and iron as well. I was interested to learn that many bakeries in our state (as well as others) voluntarily enrich their products without a law. The technician explained that enriched flour may be used—or the baker may add vitamins and iron to his dough mix.

The use of enriched flour certainly seemed the simpler method to me—and my neighbor agreed. But the main thing is the added food nutrition. I'm sure every mother of growing children will agree that we should obtain a food enrichment law in every state. For after all, the health of our children—and ourselves—is our main concern, isn't it?

Style note: Word comes from Paris that pretty scarves have gone to the head. Not as a covering from rude weather, but as stylish millinery. Tied in gypsy fashion with ends hanging down the side makes a flattering style of headress.

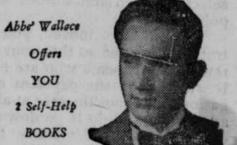

Can it be true? But they say ball-point pens with flower scented ink will soon be available. Carnation is one of the "lasting fragrances" for letter-writers.

If stuffed eggs are favorites of yours, try this different method of preparation. Blend a little curry powder with real mayonnaise and mash with egg yolk, salt and a bit of vinegar or lemon juice . . . Makes a mighty fine addition to a snack tray.
