The other day Clair Mulvihill, a local attorney, got this one off his chest, in speaking of Gene O'Sullivan the democratic candidate for Congress, he asked it I had evey given much thought to the use of a Buffet? I replied not particularly. So he then explained to me, that said buffet was a generally used to store china and etc, and was generally stood in an and was generally stood in an out of way place in the din-room. And he thought it'd be a excellent idea, if the voters of the 2nd district would find some out of way space to store another Buffet. . . . Catch on?
