Uncle Sam Would Grab Trust Fund For Children

UNCLE SAM, JOE LOUIS IN TAX TILT

The Department of Internal Revenue is trying to take the $66,289.67 placed in a trust fund for the two children of Joe Louis and apply it toward the sum which the Brown Bomber reportedly owes the government.

The Internal Revenue officials are opposed in their efforts to grab the trust fund by Louis' ex-wife and the First National Bank of Chicago which last week refused to accept any liability for the $544,945.11 which Louis is said to owe his Uncle Sam.

The bank is serving as trustee of the trusts created by Mrs. Marva Trotter Barrow Spaulding, who divorced Joe and remarried a Chicago physician. The trusts are for the care, education and maintenance of her and Louis' two children, Jacqueline and Joseph Louis Barrow Jr.

Says Bank Should Pay

Internal Revenue says that the trust fund rightfully should go toward paying the former heavyweight champion's taxes.

The trust for Jacqueline, the first of the Louis children, was established November 21, 1947, and the one for Joe Louis Jr., was established July 7, 1949.

The Internal Revenue Service is seeking to hold the bank liable for the income taxes it claims Louis owes, to the extent of the amount of the two trust funds.

The bank contends that Louis was not insolvent on November 21, 1947, and July 9, 1949, when the assets out of which the trust funds were created were transferred to it, and that he was fully capable of paying his own debts.

Other defenses of the bank are that it never received any assets from Louis and is not the owner of the assets in its possession, and that the statute of limitations has run on the deficiencies claimed against Louis for the years 1946, 1947, and 1948, and that the tax liability for 1949 had not occurred at the time the bank received the assets on July 9, 1947.

The Internal Revenue Service is holding the bank liable for the trust fund for Jacqueline, amounting to $31,217, and the fund for Joe Louis Jr., amounting to $35,071.

Wilkins in Case

Attorneys for the bank are Aaron H. Payne and J. Ernest Wilkins, Chicago lawyers. Mr. Wilkins was confirmed Friday as Assistant Secretary of Labor for International Affairs. Whether he will now withdraw from the case could not be learned.

The deficiencies claimed against Louis for 1946 and 1947 total $249,611. Deficiencies of $209,737 and $85,737 are claimed for 1948 and 1949, respectively.

The petition covering the 1946 and 1947 claims asserts that the sole assets received by the bank on November 21, 1947, was $30,000. It denies that it received that sum from Joe Louis or the Joe Louis Enterprises, Inc.

Wm. J. Bill Donovan Seeks Seat On City Council

Wm. J. (Bill) Donovan, long prominent and a leader in the heating business, has announced his candidacy for the office of City Commissioner. Mr. Donovan is a past president of the Heating Association of Omaha.

Bill Donovan established his own heating institution in 1919. His business has prospered and grown into the large, modern plant located at 1114 North 24th Street.

Mr. Donovan comes from one of Omaha's pioneer families. He is married and the father of seven children. He lives at 615 South 32 Avenue. Bill and his children have been, or are now being educated in Omaha's schools.

Mr. Donovan, who owns his home and heating company, is well aware of the burden that present taxes impose upon the citizens of Omaha. Bill pledges that he will make a concerted effort to bring about a reasonable

Legion Party Was Received By Big Crowd

Theodore Roosevelt Post No. 30 had its great 35th anniversary celebration last March 25, 1954 with one of the most spectacular events ever given in the whole history of the organization. The Post did itself proud in promoting this grand affair which had some great state and local officials present.

This Legion Birthday Celebration was carried out in a joint meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary and the Post at the beautiful Legion Lounge. Past Commander Stromile, who is chairman of the American Committee served as chairman of the program and toast master with the able assistance of past Commander Dr. W. W. Peables. First highlight of the affair was the introduction of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crooms as parents of young Jerome Crooms as the most outstanding American boy in the community. Number two was the introduction of Mrs. Gail Bass, the mother of Miss Evelyn Bass as the outstanding young lady of the community. Number three was the introduction of Mrs. Constance Johnson as the grandmother of Nathan Albert Hall, who was selected as the typical American boy. These fine selection awards were given these young Americans as a part of our Child Welfare program of which Comrade Ralph Underwood is chairman.

General chairman Stromile wishes to sincerely thank the president and all members of the Ladies Auxiliary and the Legion Post for their wonderful efforts in making this affair a wonderful success. The Commander and Post members and the Auxiliary in turn give hearty thanks to Past Commander Stromile for his great work in his fine efforts to see this celebration go over with a bang. The surprise of the evening was the birthday cake with 35 candles made and presented by the Ladies Auxiliary for which the Legion Post Executive Board and all concerned heartily appreciate with lots of thanks. Remember our sick, also our slogan: For God and Country, our fellowmen. Great honors to Mrs. Glass and Mrs. Combs for their great hospital work.

reduction in taxes. He also plans to put a stop to the annual practice of taking nearly a quarter of a million dollars from the general fund and dividing it among the various city departments. Bill wants to see this money used to reduce Omaha's bonded indebtedness.

Bill also plans to concentrate on one of the nation's most serious problems of today—Juvenile Delinquency. Bill will use every possible means to curb this menace to our youth.

Mr. Donovan would like to see Omaha's plan for traffic flow on the street, keep up with the growth of the city. Bill is in favor of modernizing our traffic system so that we will have the same modern means of regulating traffic as other cities of comparable size.

Bill Donovan's friends urge you to support him at the polls on April 6th.

A vote for Wm. (Bill) Donovan is a vote for better more efficient city government.

R. W. Bob Nelson Pledges Lower Omaha Taxes

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Voter: WILL YOU HELP ME?

1. Reduce Taxes.
2. Reduce Government Spending.
3. Obtain adequate legislation governing Sex Criminals and other deviates.
4. Put our City Council on a business basis.

I am one of the Candidates for City Council with enough backbone to put my platform in writing, and stick to my guns in carrying it out. I would appreciate your opinion of my qualifications to serve on YOUR City Council.

I am 34 years of age, lifetime resident of Omaha, Veteran World War Two, member American Legion. I completed my education at South High, in 1937, when I was employed as a laborer by C. A. Swanson & Sons, leaving there as Fleet Manager in 1950, to accept Vice Presidency and General Management of a National Home Improvement Company. I am now the owner of my own business, and when elected will turn management over to my Associates in order that I may devote full time to serving YOU in the City Council.

I have been active in raising funds for the Salvation Army, Blood Donors for the Red Cross, and Memberships for the Y.M.C.A.

I am a Past President of Parent Teachers' Association, Life Member Optimist International, Past Vice President Omaha Optimist Club, Member and Past Vice President High Twelve Club, Member Square & Compass Club, and Young Business Men's Association.

Applying to YOU, Mr. and Mrs. Omaha, for a job on YOUR City Council and when elected will serve you so well, you will be proud to support me for re-election. You are entitled to vote for 7 candidates; but are not required to do so. You may vote for only one, or more (up to 7); of the men you personally feel are deserving of your vote; and qualified to serve you in public office.

Again thanks for your Vote, and Support,
R. W. Bob Nelson,
YOUR Candidate for City Commissioner

End Of Jim Crow Saves Roads Money

The elimination of segregation interstate passengers on railroad trains has proven a money saver to the railroads. Instances of the successful operation of the plan and its economy continually rise and the smoothness of the operation has surprised even the most recalcitrant roadbuilders who believed the segregation law was necessary.

Leaving Richmond, every morning at 8:10, a through Atlantic Coast Line train carries a car for Washington passengers. Every seat on the train is reserved. And there is no separation of passengers by race in the car for Washington. Were segregation still effective on the railroad, there would be one of two things—either a portion of that car would be set aside for Negroes, or there would have to be a separate car.

During the war, prior to the passage of the anti-segregation measure, South bound trains were crowded beyond capacity and in nearly every instance, white passengers are standing in the aisles of their cars while colored passengers rode in comfort in their jimcrow airconditioned cars. Of course, there were other instances when the opposite prevailed, therefore, the judicial decision outlawing jimcrow has been a two-way street and is doing the railroads a favor in saving them dough.

Henry C. Glissman Candidate For City Commissioner

I was born in Douglas County, Nebraska August 6, 1880 so I am 73 years old past.

I have been in business for myself, ever since I left the University of Nebraska School of Agriculture in 1897. My main business from that date to about 1922, was Dairying, and the breeding of fancy dairy cattle and farming. I taught butter making for two years under the late Prof. T. L. Haecker at the Lincoln State School of Agriculture 1896-1897. I specialized also in Horticulture and Entomology, studying under the now world famous Dr. Chas. E. Bessey, founder of the Halsey, Nebraska, Pine Tree project, that now, after about 57 years boasts of the largest pine tree plantings in the U. S. and what was once barren said hills, now affords a home for thousands of wild deer, and affords the Nebraska sportsman the thrill of a deer hunt annually.

In 1922, our farm home on west Center St. was sold to the Happy Hollow Golf Club and Shuler & Cary, who developed the now popular Rock Brook addition.

Since 1922 I have been in the golf course construction business, helping to build the new Happy Hollow Club and later the Omaha Country Club Golf Course, north of Benson.

In 1926 I began to build on my 80 acre farm at about 98th and Center Street, the first public pay-as-you-play golf course in Nebraska that was privately owned. This course was called Valley View.

Then we took over the old Dundee Golf Course, across from the Omaha University, operating it for 12 years.

At about the same time we built the Harrison Heights Golf Course on 38th and Center St. and operated it 17 years. Then in 1939 we leased the dairy farm at 84th to 90th St. south of Dodge St. We personally made the plans for this course, building the same in 1939-40, calling it "Indian Hills."

My wife and I still hold this lease, and unless some arrangement is made to buy our lease, we will continue to operate it until 1968.

In about 1946 I turned the active management of Indian Hills over to my children, Harold W. Glissman, who is also Grounds Superintendent at Boys Town, Nebraska, being the present manager.

In 1934 I filed as candidate for Congress, but was defeated and in that election Chas. F. McLaughlin was elected.

Retiring from active management of Indian Hills in 1946, I have since that time built up one of the largest Bent grass, greens, and other fancy grasses, in the midwest and though "retired" still operate this grass nursery.

In 1951 I WORKED FOR THE CITY OF OMAHA AS LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT, taking on the job of finishing the million dollar municipal stadium at Deer Park Blvd. and between 10th and 13th St.

I was an employ of the City of Omaha, not as a contractor, but as a foreman laborer. While there I had many of the colored boys work for me and with me, and I can only praise their faithfulness and willingness to work, though at times they may not have been allowed to work full time. I have many friends among the colored people of Omaha. A lot of them play golf at my golf course at present and have in the past.

Although, threatened many times by some narrow-minded "white" customer, that allowing the colored man to play on my courses, would ruin my attendance, I have made no discrimination, even at the threat of losing "white" patronage, and today our business is bigger and better than ever and some of our best customers are the boys from the 2nd, 3rd and 7th wards in Omaha.

If elected as City Commissioner, I pledge support of an ordinance sponsored by the F. E. P. C. and like Governor Crosby stated lately: "We should seek an even handed fairness to the rights of

CITY OF OMAHA EXECUTIVE OFFICES GLENN CUNNINGHAM, MAYOR February 17, 1954

The Honorable Harold P. Caldwell
Commissioner of Police and Public Safety
City Hall
Omaha, Nebraska
Dear Harold:

I have been looking for an announcement that you intend to file again for election to the City Council, but note that you have not yet made that decision.

It is my hope that you will see your way clear to announce your candidacy, for my association with you during the past three years has convinced me that your re-election will be to the unmistakable benefit of our city.

As I have told you before, your record as Police Commissioner is one that you may be proud of. The department, under your administration, has achieved a clean and enviable record. Its morale now is excellent. The almost continual bickering and general discontent that were present before you took office have been eliminated. Throughout your term, the department has been operated free from political interference of any kind.

Of decided merit, it seems to me, was the creation of the Youth Bureau during your administration, and I am sure you share my pleasure in the splendid traffic safety record that was established last year.

These and the many other accomplishments in the department didn't "just happen". They were the result of your careful and efficient administration. You may take pride in them all, and I feel confident that the people of Omaha will want you to continue as a member of their City Council.

Beyond your excellent record as our Police Commissioner, there is an even greater reason that should prompt you to run. It is your proven ability as a legislator—as one of the men who make our city laws.

I have always felt that a commissioner serves his greatest usefulness when he sits as a member of the City Council rather than as the head of a particular department. The importance of this cannot be overestimated, because it is as a city policy-maker, voting on ordinances, budgets and other general policy matters, that an elected official most needs a level head and good judgment.

I have stated many times that I believe 90% of a man's worth is as a city councilman and only 10% of it is as a city administrator. A man might be a good Superintendent of the Police Department for example, but might not be an intelligent member of the City Council, where the big issues—the ones that will affect a city for years and years to come—are met and disposed of. When the people cast their votes, this is the thing they should weigh heavily in their minds because this is the thing that will mean more to them in the long run.

You, Mr. Caldwell, have always given thorough and intelligent study to every matter before the City Council, because you knew, as I did, that they would have a direct and prolonged effect on the welfare of our people. I have come to rely heavily on your judgment and support of measures which I believed to be in the best interests of our city as a whole. I have always appreciated the courtesies you have shown me by supporting those programs which I have advanced for Omaha's good.

For these reasons, and for many others too numerous to mention here, I sincerely hope that you will file for re-election, and I honestly believe that you will be returned to the City Council. The people of Omaha—the fathers and mothers particularly—want good law enforcement. They want reckless drivers and other violators apprehended so that their children will be safe from harm. You have given them that protection. But above that, they want good legislation, and you have served your city wisely in that respect as well as in your all important post as a city councilman.

I urge that you place your name in nomination that you may be returned to the office you have served so capably.

Sincerely yours,
GLENN CUNNINGHAM
Mayor

working men and employees without favoring either. We shall dispense benefits and enforce obligations without regard to color, race, creed, political party, or station in life."

And as Bradshaw Mintenev Vice President of Pillsbury Mills Inc. once said: "I cannot see how we can ever realize our full measure of economic well being until every man and woman is permitted to work at whatever she or he can best do, regardless of color or religion." Those are my sentiments also.

Elect Henry Heine Bosen

Henry Heine Bosen is the man for the job. He has served on the law enforcement and, public safety branches of the city government for over 35 years. He has an abundance of experience in all of its sub divisions and we are permitted to work at whatever he or she can best do, regardless of color or religion." Those are my sentiments also.

Harold P. Caldwell Asks Re-election To City Council

LET'S KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK That we started three years ago.

You and I made a very wise choice for City Commissioner in 1951 when we elected Harold P. Caldwell. You probably remember that he ran with Mayor Cunningham on the cooperative council ticket.

In those three years, Harold Caldwell has made a record that his supporters can be proud of.

For instance: F. B. I. reports show that crime has been reduced 19% in Omaha. Safety Council records show a record-breaking reduction of 42% in traffic deaths. A youth bureau has been formed to fight juvenile delinquency.

These three things are just examples of what a good administrator Harold Caldwell has been. The records will show that his work in the City Council has also been excellent. And as Mayor Cunningham has said, "a Commissioner serves his greatest usefulness when he sits as a Member of the City Council."

These are the reasons why we're working for Harold P. Caldwell for City Commissioner. We hope that we can also count on your support in our efforts to retain good men like Mr. Caldwell in office.

See you at the polls April 6th. Sincerely yours,
Bryce Crawford, Jr., Chairman

Arthur Hansen Candidate For City Council

Arthur Jensen Hanson age 56 is a Nebraska born citizen, has a University Education, is married, owns his own home and is a Life Insurance Manager. He is president of the Small Property Owners Ass'n; President of the Nebraska Association of Life Insurance Underwriters. Fomer President and Director of the Kewanis Club of downtown Omaha. Fomer President of Omaha Association of Life Insurance underwriters. Mr. Hansen is an active, honest and sincere citizen, who serves honestly when elected to any position. He has been honored and endorsed in so many ways by people who know him that he is obviously well qualified to be a good member of the city council.

Support Will Make Banquet Possible For 200 Youth

"Vocational Interest Conference" finance chairman Eugene Skinner made known today that 12 Near Northside groups and organizations have made financial contributions to the Vocational Conference slated for Kellom Recreational Center, Saturday, April 3, 1:00 P. M.

According to Mr. Skinner they are the following: Musician's Protective Association, Omaha St. Benedict's Church, Timekee Lodge No. 9, Rescue Lodge No. 4, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, ers Club, Servertes, DePorres Club, Mrs. H. C. Hanna, Beau Brummel Club, Nathaniel Hunter Lodge No. 12, and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Commented Chairman Skinner: "Seldom is such an opportunity presented for community organizations to demonstrate interest in the future careers of the community's youth."

Program Chairman, Mrs. Addie Hinton, reports that over 25 expert consultants, representing the major occupations and professions will conduct discussions and provide information to the estimated 300 youth expected to attend the Vocational Conference.

Col. Tuttle Spoke At Anniversary

Colonel Tuttle was invited by Commander J. L. Taylor to attend the Thirty-fifth Anniversary of Roosevelt Post No. 30 on Thursday night last, at which time the Colonel gave a short address on a notable historical achievement of Theodore Roosevelt, for whom the Post was named.

On Sunday, March 28th, Colonel Tuttle accepted invitations to attend the regular services of the Zion Baptist Church; the concert given by the combined choirs of Clear Lake, St. John's A. M. E. and the Zion Baptist Church, in the auditorium of St. John's church. Also the evening concert given by the choir of St. John's church. Colonel Tuttle stated that he enjoyed all of these services more than can be put into words; that it was a most valuable experience to learn of the social and spiritual leadership exercised by Reverends Williams, Miller, and Lewis, in our city; and to gain further insight into the work of the three congregations.

Colonel Tuttle has always opposed discrimination and unequal opportunity for any group of citizens.

Our president presented our guest speaker, Mother Ida Baker, who talked to us about women in general, marriage, bearing children. Her remarks were very inspiring and wholesome. Evangelist Dozier followed her with remarks pertaining to the same subjects. She also had some very lovely thoughts.

We were served by our hostess, Sister M. Watson.

Our Public Relations leader then presented Sister D. Bivins with a very lovely birthday gift. She in return thanked us all for the gift.

We are also happy to announce that our vice president, R. Moss, has a seven pound baby boy.

We adjourned to meet at Ida Kelford's, 2524 No. 17th St.
