$2000 Check To Negro College Fund

The United Negro College Fund received a $2,000 contribution for its current campaign from the International Paper Company Foundation, W. J. Trent, Jr., UNCF executive director announced last week.

The Foundation, which was established in 1952 for charitable and educational purposes by the International Paper Company, made its initial contribution to the United Negro College Fund last year with a $10,000 grant for building purposes and $2,000 for current operating expenses.

In presenting the $2,000 check for the Fund's 1955 campaign, W. A. Hanway, president of the paper company Foundation, said that the UNCF appeal offered an effective means of contributing directly to greater educational opportunities for Negro youth, and that it was pleasure to be able to give "continuing support to this important work."

Nine of the International Paper Company's mills are situated in the South where the Fund's member colleges are located.

The United Negro College Fund is currently conducting its 12th, annual, nation-wide campaign in support of the operating budgets of its 31 member colleges. The money raised is used by the colleges for student scholarship aid, teaching equipment for classrooms and science laboratories and other yearly expenses.

Denounce Intimidation Of Teachers

The International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, CIO, last week demanded that Attorney General Brownell and the Federal Bureau of Investigation immediately investigate the Georgia State Board of Education, which has ordered that Georgia teachers who are members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to quit NAACP or have their teaching licenses revoked for life.

Al Hartnett, Secretary-Treasurer of IUE-CIO and chairman of its Civil Rights Committee, denounced the action of the Georgia Board as un-American and as an outright attempt to flout the authority of the Supreme Court in its recent unanimous decision against school segregation.

Hartnett declared that Brownell and the FBI should act at once to protect the sacred right of Americans. There is no room in this country for those who flout civil liberties," he said.

"While the Georgia Board is attacking an outstanding American organization such as NAACP, I am sure that the board is winking at membership of some white teachers in the Subversive Association for the Advancement of White People, which is devoted to lawlessness in regards to the court decision, and at membership in the present-day version of the Ku Klux Klan, an anti-Negro, anti-Catholic and anti-Semitic outfit which has been disowned by every right-thinking American of all religions and which has been on the Attorney General's Subversive organizations list since that list was started.

A Belated Salute To Yellow Cab Co.

With the demanding need of Fair Employment Practices in Omaha, we think this is an opportune time to point up a situation pregnant with meaning.

In our community we have merchants and businessmen who would retard progress by their bigotry, lame excuses, and completely unfair employment practices.

In comparison, the Yellow Cab Co., which is by no means an immediate member of the community, has been one of the first to practice fair employment in Omaha.

Amidst great furore and abuse, Mr. J. F. Daly, vice president of Yellow Cab of Omaha, refused to yield to the bigots and false propagandists who would delay progress.

However, this is not the first time Mr. Daly has given a hand to progress—for many years he has contributed greatly and without clamor to the general welfare of GREATER Omaha.

Mr. Daly says "Yellow Cab" will continue to hire on merit and he will soon make available situations in all departments.

We personally salute you (YELLOW CAB CO.) for the courageous, intelligent progressive stand you have taken and we know the general public will support and applaud this stand for democracy.

New Legion Officers Now Installed

Theodore Roosevelt Post No. 30 American Legion at this issue will have had its annual installation of the elected officers. Previous preparations for this affair was the best that the Post could hope to have, including any previous affair of the same order. Great things should and are bound to happen. Regardless of the very hot weather the Post continues to progress and new and old members in increasing numbers come into the Legion organization.

It is the firm expressed resolution of each elected officer to do their very best to keep the Post at its highest peak. Notice of the passing of Comrade Thomas L. Moore of 2606 No. 21st was received with sympathetic regrets. The Legion will serve at last rites at Cleve Temple Methodist Church. We have sick comrades in V. A. Hospital—Willie Bell, Ralph Underwood, and Paul Adams. Send the sick a card or do the better service by making them a personal visit.

The Ladies Auxiliary, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Emory Hickman is progressing very nicely. The attention of both Legionnaires and Auxiliary members is called to the coming membership drive right after the installation of officers and please stress this effort with all your might. It is the honest summation of all things that makes us great, our service and loyalty to God, our Country and our fellowmen.

Amoros Is Off The Cripple List

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Sandy Amoros came off the Brooklyn Dodgers' crippled list, but he still won't be used for a while to be sure he's okay. For Sandy is wearing a corset-support and though he can play, New York has been plagued with torrents of rain leaving the field in a muddy state. So Manager Alton says this: "I'd kinda like to get him in there for a game or two and see how he reacts. But if the field is muddy, I won't play him or Robinson. Before his back acted up, Sandy was Brooklyn's leading left fielder."

Mays Cannot Play Winter Baseball

New York.—The new ruling against players of experience playing Latin American baseball—unless they are natives of those countries—may be a blessing in disguise for Willie Mays, who spent all of his winter playing ball.

Many blame Willie's "under par" playing this year to his winter ball activities. The new ruling as signed by Commissioner Ford Frick and the Latin League means that no American player of two years or more in the major leagues can participate below the border.

JACKIE HAS CLASS AGAINST GIANTS

Brooklyn N. Y.—Jackie may be aging but the records show he still has class when it comes to the N. Y. Giants. He's batting .349 against them this year.

Bloodathon To Take Place Aug. 26 - 27

For the second year in a row, the Douglas County Chapter of the American Red Cross and WOW-TV of Omaha have joined forces in a drive for blood.

A special televised bloodmobile operation will be presented Friday and Saturday, August 26 and 27, to observe the station's sixth anniversary, it was announced by The Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, S. J., Red Cross Blood Program chairman. He said:

"Last year's TV bloodathon was very successful. We hope again to be able to show the television audience how easy it is to give blood, and how this blood is being used. We also hope to get many new donors."

Equipment will be moved from the Red Cross Blood Center to the WOW-TV studios at 3509 Farnam Street. A special television program from 7:30 to 8 Thursday night, August 25, will kick off the event. On Friday and Saturday, blood donations will be taken at the studios from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Last year, a total of 641 pints of blood was collected as the station observed its fifth anniversary. WOW-TV began regular daily telecasting on August 29, 1949.

Persons wishing to join in the "life-giving" anniversary can make appointments to donate blood by calling the Douglas County Chapter of Red Cross, Atlantic 2723, between 8 and 5 daily. In addition, night calls for appointments will be taken from 8 to 11 p.m. Monday, August 22, through Friday, August 26.

Respiratory Ails Man's Constant Foe

Upper respiratory infections—such as influenza, pneumonia, grippe and bronchitis—are man's most persistent foe.

After studying nearly 500,000 cases in its files, Mutual of Omaha, the largest exclusive health and accident insurance company in the world, found that upper respiratory infections caused nearly 20 per cent of all disabilities reported among men.

Ulcers and stomach or intestinal trouble ranked next, causing 6 1/2 per cent of all disabilities. General health reasons were responsible for disabling one of every four men covered by the survey. Disorders of the digestive and circulatory systems together caused nearly one-fourth of all cases.

More than one of every eight disabilities was the result of a fracture, dislocation or sprain. Ribs were the most frequently fractured bones.

Since Mutual of Omaha does business in every state, the survey covered the entire nation.

NAACP GETS MORE MEMBERS

New York.—When Georgia acted to fire teachers who belong to the NAACP it did not know it was helping the Association to get more memberships, but as soon as he read the news a physician sent in a $500 life membership.

"He said he was angry and wanted to help," said Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary. "We can use all the help we can get because the Association is under direct attack by highest state officials in Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana."

"After Governor Hodges of North Carolina attacked us in his speech August 8, we received a rush order for 1,000 membership cards from that state.

"The rest of the country can give a most effective answer to Georgia and the other states by sending memberships and contributions to the NAACP. People who get angry should take it out in money, $500 to $500 and not in cussing. Cussing doesn't help the Dixie situation. Only action backed by money can help."

Checks from individuals, churches and other organizations can be mailed to NAACP headquarters, 20 West 40th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

Catholics Urged To Join NAACP

New York.—A Catholic Priest here has urged all Catholics to join the NAACP as a means of bringing about racial justice.

Speaking before the Catholic Interracial Forum, the Rev. Archibald V. McLees said Catholics should join the NAACP for two reasons.

"In the first place," he pointed out, "we Catholics have for long years known what bigotry means, we faced it, and we had to fight it. Therefore, we should realize the need for helping those who are being oppressed at the present time by bigotry."

"Secondly, the NAACP platform is one that Catholics can support wholeheartedly."

The goal of the Association, Mr. McLees noted, is to "achieve complete freedom for Negroes by 1963," the centennial of the Emancipation Proclamation.

Mr. McLees, pastor of Holy Rosary Parish in Brooklyn, is a life member of the NAACP and vice president of the Brooklyn NAACP branch. He spoke on August 5.

Agencies To Try New Idea This Fall

Something new in fund raising will be tried this fall in Omaha. The Red Cross and Red Feather Agencies have combined forces in attempt to have just one big fund raising campaign.

In a letter from Mr. Lloyd H. Mattson, chairman of the United Red Feather and Red Cross Campaign, to Omahans, it was stated that the merger would prevent 17 separate fund raising drives.

A total sum of $3,323,149 has been set as the goal in order to meet expenses of the 47 Red Feather services and the Red Cross. This includes building expenses.

This action, the letter further stated, eliminates the March Red Cross fund drive and combines the two largest welfare, health and charitable organizations in the area.

The main Nebraska Game Commission exhibit will have booths on big game, game birds, trapping and pelting and fishing. At each of the booths, trained management personnel will be in attendance to answer questions pertaining to each of the respective fields.

"The public is invited to make inquiries of all types," explained a Commission spokesman. "This type of exhibit has been well received by the public in the past. We intend to give people another opportunity to meet some of our field personnel and get better acquainted with them and their work," he concluded.

NAIA Cage Tourney Set Dec. 28-30

The first NAIA "Tip-Off" Basketball Tournament to be held in Omaha's new seven-million dollar Municipal Auditorium will be staged December 28, 29 and 30 with Creighton University and the University of Omaha as two of the eight competing teams.

That announcement was made last week by Al Duer, Executive Secretary of the NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics), at a dinner meeting of the sponsoring organization, the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The annual December tournament, initiated some 10 years ago, had been a Kansas City, Missouri, fixture until the NAIA decision to move the championship this year to Nebraska's No. 1 City. The association's 32-team March championship, begun in 1938, will remain in Kansas City.

34 Oklahoma Communities Comply With Supreme Court Ruling On Segregation

Orientation To Run Sept. 7-14

The eight day program will be occupied by the new comers in planned educational experiences designed to teach the basic ideals of the university, give clear insights into the role of the student in the learning process on the higher education level and collect data for future use in behalf of the enrollee.

Penalties will be imposed upon those who fail to engage in the complete program from beginning to close. A fourteen member faculty-student committee has planned the details but the entire university staff will be on hand to contribute to the full realization of the goals to be attained.

White Sox Look To The Fans At Home

Chicago, Ill.—In the American League's tightest pennant race in years, the Chicago White Sox are looking to the fans at home to help the team down the stretch. Manager Marty Marion recalls that a lot of his players are sensitive to criticism as Minnie Minoso who gets down when booed and Chico Carrasquel. "I know we haven't done any better at home than we have on the road, but I think the cheering of the home crowd if they're behind us should help." Marion is hoping the team arrives home in as good shape as it is now -- 1/2 game out of first place.

Home of the Yr. Opens for Inspection

The Better Homes and Gardens all-electric Idea Home of the Year, now getting its beautifying finishing touches on a site just south of Center Street on 102nd Street west of Omaha, will be ready for public inspection on August 23, starting at 2 p.m.

Designed by Hugh Stubbins Associates, architects at Cambridge, Mass., and Better Homes and Gardens magazine building editors, the Idea Home is a pleasant combination of the type of electrical living which gives all-around comfort and convenience.

In the opinion of home planning experts, the all-electric Idea Home of the Year is America's home of the future. It is a single story, gabled roof dwelling. Basic construction is post and beam, which eliminates the need for interior support walls and allows heavy use of glass in the exterior walls.

There are three outdoor terraces and patios—one next to the living room, one off the master bedroom and the third adjacent to the family activity room. Angles of the house shelter two patios and a wall fence completes the privacy of the third.

The house measures 70 by 30 1/2 feet and will fit nearly any size lot. There are three bedrooms, two baths and loads of storage and closet space. Step-saving and cost-saving arrangement of the utility areas will appeal to homemakers. The electrical features throughout are so cleverly arranged as to be of real interest to all persons thinking of building, buying or remodeling.

The Idea Home, featured in the September edition of Better Homes and Gardens, was built by Irwin Bridgeford. The electrical contractor was Westside Electric. Furnishings are by Orchard & Wilhelm. A TV preview of the all-electric Idea Home will be on WOW-TV from 1 to 2 p.m., August 28.

New York — A southern city with a quarter-of-a-million population this week announced plans for immediate school desegregation, as communities in several southern states which had awaited the second Supreme Court school decision before acting, continued to comply. The announcement of the Oklahoma City school board brought to a total of at least 34 those Oklahoma communities which have issued school desegregation plans.

A policy statement adopted by the Oklahoma City school board declared in part:

"The board of education as the sympathetic cooperation and patience of our citizens in its compliance with the law and making the changes that are necessary and advisable."

This week's spot check of the southern school situation by the NAACP showed two additional Oklahoma towns whose desegregation plans have become known since last week's check. They are Muskogee and Red Rock.

In Arkansas, North Little Rock became the sixth community in that state to declare an end to school segregation. Amarillo, Texas, joined a growing number of Texas towns and cities which have announced desegregation plans for their schools. Others which came to light in this week's survey are Edinburg, Karnes County, Harlingen, Weslaco, Mission, Kerrville, Alpine and Nordheim. The total number of Texas communities which have announced desegregation plans stands now at about 16.

Meanwhile, the Alabama state legislature passed a school "placement bill" which has as its admitted purpose the maintenance of segregated schools in that state.

The bill, which became law on August 2 without the signature of the governor due to the timing of its passage, gives to city and county boards of education the police power to "assure social order, goodwill and the public welfare" in assigning pupils to elementary and secondary schools.

Each child is to be assigned to a school on an individual basis after consideration of some dozen factors in his case.

These factors include "the effect of admission of the pupil upon the academic progress of other students," "the possibility or threat of friction or disorder among pupils or others," and "the possibility of breaches of the peace or ill will or economic retaliation within the community."

Savings Bond Purchasers Increasing

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds are hitting a steady pace in Nebraska, according to an announcement last week showing that $6,439,255 worth of E and H savings bonds were purchased in the state during July.

Compared with a year ago, the gain was 10%, with 1952, 41% and with 1951, 86%. July sales bring the year's total E and H bond sales to $67,957,886 which represents 59.9% of the year's goal.

The sales figures were announced by Glenn Cunningham, State Sales Director for the Treasury Department's Savings Bond Division. He said that savings bonds, together with life insurance and savings deposits are recognized as the cornerstone of any personal program to protect a family's future.
