Next Monday Is Labor Day

Monday, September 5, is Labor Day. It marks the third long week-end of the four that are calendared for 1955.

On the next day, September 6, the public schools again open their doors for new and returning pupils. Officially the summer vacation has ended.

Previously, Decoration or Memorial Day and Independence Day had offered laborers the chance to be off from the daily task of bread-winning. And there still remains Christmas which falls on Sunday but possibly will be celebrated on Monday.

May 30th is usually marked with relatives and friends decorating the graves of soldiers and those who have passed before us.

July 4th commemorates the successful attempt of the founding fathers to establish this great country of ours.

It remains for Labor Day to recognize the fruits of the laborer who toils, for the most part, eight hours a day, five days and often six a week, to produce the necessities and luxuries enjoyed everyday in one's home.

One of their own, a Peter J. McQuire, incidentally a union man, around 1882 thought it was time to recognize the laborers with a day of their own.

Eventually, the first Monday of September was chosen for that observance. This gave the working man a chance to get out in the country and see how his friend the farmer was doing.

It was the last time he, wife and children could be together in an outing before little Mary and Junior would be hiking to the little red school house.

So Labor Day really had a two-fold meaning, each separate from the other, because to each member of the family it means something different.

No more picnics, hikes, or trips to the old swimming hole, is what the kiddies thought.

Mama knew that after getting the old man off there was still the job to be looked forward to of getting the kids off to school.

Papa knew that with the advent of school his pocketbook would be emptied for the next few months outfitting the kiddies so as to keep them looking as good as their playmates.

Without a doubt, by the time he could retain a couple bucks it would start all over as Christmas is just around the corner.

No wonder there is a Labor Day for the "Old Man" must have at least one day he can just relax and do what he wants to, before the World Series begin.

It's a lot different just being off from the job on Monday than when custom demands that his day be spent reverently observing the Sabbath.

Consequently, Labor Day has a different significance for everyone. It doesn't matter whether that day heralds the end of the summer vacation, the coming of fall, or the third long weekend of the year, the important thing is it is a respite for the "Old Man" to enjoy himself one day without having to put in eight or nine hours at a job.

Observe Safety Rules And Live After Labor Day

Detroit-If you expect to drive in the heavy traffic expected during the coming Labor Day weekend, it may pay you to look over the "Big Ten" safety rules outlined by Danny Eames, noted chief test driver for Dodge Division, (Chrysler Corporation):

1. Traffic regulations are for your protection. Observe them.

2. Keep a safe distance between yourself and the car ahead, particularly at higher speeds.

3. Stay in your own lane on hills, curves, and in "no-passing" zones.

4. If driving at night, dim your lights to oncoming traffic.

5. The right of way may rightfully belong to you, but if a pedestrian comes along, give it to him. (And that doesn't mean "Let him have it.")

6. Always be on the alert for children.

7. Know the proper hand signals and be sure to use them!

8. Watch where you're going, and where the cars behind, ahead, and on both sides are going.

9. Give the other fellow more than his share of the road and watch him!

10. Regulate speed to road conditions, rather than posted speed limits.

You can't think of ten things at once but try to keep Danny Eames' "Big Ten" tips in the back of your mind when you drive this weekend. If you do, you'll be sure to get back to your labors on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

"IT'LL BE MOORE - SAYS MAXIM

North Adams, Mass. (CNS) "I pick Archie Moore to win the world heavyweight championship by a knockout on September 20th," predicts Joey Maxim, former world lightweight champ. Maxim says he has good reasons for going along with Archie: "Marciano is a nothing boxer. Rocky is so easy to hit. My sure Archie will call his shot."

CUBS BUY THREE NEGROES FROM MONARCHS

Chicago, Ill. (CNS) The Chicago Cubs raided for a second time the Kansas City Monarchs in getting topnotch Negro talent. Previously they bought their double play combination from the Monarchs in Gene Baker and Ernie Banks. This week they bought three young players for an undisclosed sum.

The three included J. C. (Joe) Hartman, 21, shortstop; George Lee Altman, 22, first baseman, outfielder and Louis B. Johnson, 21, outfielder.

Urban League To Discuss Job Outlook At Milwaukee Merit System Exams To Be Held Sept. 24

Persons interested in a number of state jobs will be given an opportunity to qualify for such employment by taking Merit System examinations on September 24. Examination centers will be established throughout the State wherever there are enough interested persons in the area to justify such a center.

These examinations will be given for positions in the three State Departments of Health, Public Welfare and Employment Security. Many of the positions will be in County Welfare Offices, State Employment Offices and local Health Departments. Most of the positions will be clerical such as Typists and Stenographers. Others will be technical and professional positions such as Case Worker and County Director in Public Welfare; Interviews in Employment Offices and Nurses, X-Ray Technicians, Sanitarians and Laboratory Technicians in Health Departments.

Several of those who will take the examinations on September 24 will be provisional employees who have been appointed provisionally until they can be fully qualified by examination. It is expected that many will be interested in taking examinations for positions which they anticipate will be vacant at some future date. Examinations are given on Wednesdays of each week in the Merit System Office for all applicants who find it convenient to take the examinations in Lincoln.

Those interested in these positions should contact their nearest State Employment Office, County Welfare Office or local Health Department for more detailed information. Complete information may be secured by writing to the Merit System Office, 1306 State Capitol, Lincoln 9, Nebraska.

In preparation for the Milwaukee session, the NAMD, whose headquarters are located at 1830 Eleventh Street, N. W., in Washington, D. C., has conducted surveys among local Urban Leagues, Negro colleges offering training in marketing and related subjects, and persons actively engaged in Negro market operations. Results of these surveys will be presented at the session.

According to NAMD's prexy, Moss Kendrix, who is Public Relations Counselor to the Coca-Cola industry, and Ramon Scruggs, of the Public Relations staff of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, the Milwaukee session is expected to attract nearly 100 participants from Urban League and from marketing circles. Over thirty local Urban League industrial secretaries have already indicated their intention to participate.

As a "warm-up" for the Milwaukee meeting, officers of the National Association of Market Developers will meet with a number of Chicago sales and public relations personnel on Saturday, September 3. A luncheon session has been arranged at the Washington Park Y.M.C.A., 5000 South Indiana Avenue. Louner Pemberton, former Industrial Secretary for the Chicago Urban League, and newly appointed Industrial Secretary for the Dayton Urban League, has arranged the meeting, with the cooperation of Chicago members of the Bottle and Cork Club.

The luncheon meeting, slated for 12:30, will review the services of the Urban League and the Bottle and Cork Club to Negroes in sales, advertising, and public relations, and develop recommendations regarding possible future programs in these fields.

The National Association of Market Developers was organized at the Tennessee A and I State University in March, 1954, after two years of planning activities. Purpose of the Association is to serve as an information center to aid persons working in the Negro market, local associations of such workers, and young people aspiring to careers in this field.

Honorary members of NAMD include James A. (Billboard) Jackson, of the Standard Oil Company; Dr. W. S. Davis, President of Tennessee A & I State University; Julius A. Thomas, Director of Industrial Relations, National Urban League; and John H. Johnson, President of the Johnson Publishing Company.

The atmosphere you have now entered caters to adults and the sooner you act like an adult the sooner you'll become a member of the group that is seeking to improve and make this a better world to live in.

Participants will discuss such questions as: the significance of the job openings for Negroes with large firms seeking to cultivate the Negro market; the past and future impact of integration upon such operations in various sections of the country; and the roles which the Urban League and organizations such as the National Association of Market Developers have played, and may be expected to play, in this area.

Other panelists include Samuel W. Whiteman, NAMD Vice-President and Assistant Manager, New York Office, R. Mars, The Contract Company; and Joseph F. Albright, National Representative, Curtiss Candy Company. H. Naylor Fitzhugh, Howard University Marketing Professor, and Consultant to the NAMD Board, will serve as recorder for the session.
