Lack Of Funds Closes Storer College

Harpers Ferry, W. Va.—Historic old Storer College, which was chartered in 1868, has closed its doors — at least for this academic year. Storer is a victim of the state's new integration program.

According to its president, Rev. L. E. Terrell, the school's financial troubles were climaxed when the State withdrew an annual grant of $20,000 because of its new program to have Negro and white students together.

Rev. Terrell added that the Negro college might open next year

Seein' Stars

BY DELORIS CALVIN

New York.—The figures are in and the final tabulations have been made: "House of Flowers" which showed off Pearl Bailey at her very best — lost $210,377. The lavish and colorful musical — which just missed being a hit in its story — represented a $240,000 investment.

Harry Belafonte continues to be the hottest male attraction out there. He's just inked a return engagement to the Waldorf Astoria for September 29th. And he was just there this Spring following Dorothy Dandridge — the first of the race to appear in such gilded company.

Arthur Lee Simpkins makes his traditional stay at Broadway's Latin Quarter in New York for this February. It's already signed . . . Louis Armstrong just about ready to leave for his grand tour of Italy.

Count Basie set for the southwest in a grand package of jazz, rhythm and blues. His work will be with Ruth Brown, George Shearing, the Orioles and T-Bone Walker. Should really draw on its three week stand.

Kay Dunham and her dancers doing pretty good biz out in California . . . Belafonte has yet to make up his mind whether to take on a remake of "Emperor Jones" which made Paul Robeson, Harry certainly would carry it off tremendously . . . A film showing the Puerto Rican influence in New York nearly completed. First of its kind.

"depending upon developments." He also stated that nearly all faculty members have obtained other positions and he himself will go to Virginia State College where he will teach and serve as School Minister.

State Seeks 30 Scale Men

State Engineer, L. N. Reas, this week stated that an urgent need exists for scale officers to operate State weighing stations. Men chosen will attend a week's schooling in the Department of Roads and Irrigation in Lincoln, and will receive 30 days training at weighing stations with experienced operators. The week's schooling will cover legal procedures and the mechanics of reciprocal agreements with other states.

Thirty men will be chosen for training. Of these 30, 13 will be selected for positions; twelve will constitute the reserve list. Applicants must be between 21 and 49 years old; they must pass a physical examination; they must be a resident of Nebraska for six months; and they must have a high school education.

Scale officers must be willing to move to any of the twelve locations in Nebraska. The officers are subject to the rules governing all State employees are entitled to two weeks vacation with pay each year, fifteen days sick leave, and group insurance is available. They work 48 hours a week.

Application blanks may be obtained from Richard Carter, fifth floor, State House, and must be returned or post marked before midnight September 10, 1955.

Davy Crockett and B'ar Added to Ak Rodeo Thrills; Starts Sept. 23

The 1955 Ak-Sar-Ben World Championship Rodeo, which opens at Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum in Omaha Friday evening, September 23, will offer an arena full of thrills, laughs, and spine-tingling excitement. The eleven big performances, extending through Sunday afternoon, October 2, include nine evening performances at 8 p.m. and two Sunday matinees at 2:15 p.m.

Drawing a large share of the attention at the great cowboy classic will be Rodeo's own Davy Crockett (in real life Buck Robinson) and the fabulous Casey Tibbs, World's Champion Cowboy, shown in the picture above. Rodeo's Davy Crockett, making his first personal appearance in this part of the country, will bring his live grizzly bear into the arena at all rodeo performances, and will invite every boy and girl in the audience to visit him in the arena and receive a free souvenir. Tibbs, one of the most popular and sensational contestants ever to appear at Ak-Sar-Ben, will return to defend the three championships he won here last year. He will lead a large contingent of cowboy champions and top-ranking contestants from all parts of the nation who will be at the Ak-Sar-Ben Rodeo to battle the vicious Cremer Rodeo Company animals, the most formidable rodeo stock in the world, for a prize fund exceeding $15,000.

The action-packed spectacle also will feature Wiley McCray, America's greatest bullfighter, and his clowning partner, Billy Keen; "Ribbons", the only trained Zebra in the world; Serenado, the amazing Musical Wonder Horse; Jay Stoker's beautiful Strotolite trick roping exhibition, and scores of other thrilling attractions. The Rodeo again will be held in conjunction with the Ak-Sar-Ben Live Stock Show which this year features the Nebraska State Herdof Show together with the world's largest 4-H Baby Beef Show.

Tickets for all performances are now on sale and are priced at $3.50 for box seats; $2.25, $1.70 and $1.40 for reserved seats, and $1.20 for general admission. Out-of-town patrons may send mail orders with remittance and stamped-return envelope to the Ak-Sar-Ben Office, 201 Patterson Bldg., Omaha, Neb.
