RESOLUTION

The following resolution was adopted unanimously by the delegates to the chief stewards and president conference held in Des Moines, Iowa, October 1, 1955.

WHEREAS the murder of 14-year old Emmett Till was a brutal lynch act made by men who wish to enforce medieval practices of segregation, and

WHEREAS such an act, unpunished by the state in which the act was committed, tends to serve notice on the country and the rest of the world that the State of Mississippi refuses to adopt standards of justice and common humanity, and

WHEREAS the hasty and thoughtless decision of jurors who tried the two men, who obviously were guilty, demonstrates the lack of regard the State of Mississippi has for the traditions of justice which have evolved through the struggles of common people in this country, and

WHEREAS the decision of the jurors was an act that shocked the rest of the nation into realizing that a profound injustice is being done to the Negro people and all humanity, and

WHEREAS it becomes obvious that, if justice is to be done, it must be done by a higher authority than the State of Mississippi,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the delegates to the District 3, UPWA-CIO chief stewards and presidents conference on this first day of October that we demand President Eisenhower call an emergency session of Congress and urge such session to pass legislation as will give the federal government authority to prosecute such cases in the future.

South Africa Mum On Race Issues

THREATENS TO BOYCOTT ANY DEBATE

United Nations, N. Y. (CNS) The Union of South Africa brazenly announced this week that if any United Nations debate got underway on the Union's flagrant race problems, then the Union would boycott the meeting. The Union claims that for nine years other nations have been trying to attack it for its treatment of Negroes and Indians. This year, however, the Union says it will not even discuss the problem.

India has led in the attacks for India argues that those Indians now in South Africa went there as laborers under an agreement guaranteeing them equal treatment. India says this agreement makes the issue an international affair subject to U. N. action.

How our tastes change. Little girls like painted dolls; little boys like soldiers. When they grow up, the girls like the soldiers and the boys go for the painted dolls.

Led by Scales 208 and Ross's 204 they took two games from No side Laundry with total three game pins of 2401 to 2302. Watch this team.

The most spectacular game of the evening was the third game between Monty's and Rosen Novak; Monty's was leading by 80 pins going into the tenth frame and when it was over Rosen Novak had won by 16 pins. Theodore Roosevelt Post No. 30 American Legion advances into the fall season with the same fine spirit of genuine comradeship that has served to keep us going all through the years. The American Legion will go on and forward though at times the progress may become rough. With this permanent courage within us we will continue to serve our needy comrades, widows and orphans. Long live the American Legion and Theodore Roosevelt Post No. 30.

At our last joint Executive Board and faithful few loyal members, big allotments of duties and services were planned and financial arrangements were made for the betterment of the POST. ## Governor Of Texas Lashes Court

SOUGHT TO EMBRASS STEVENSON VISITING DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Houston, Texas (CNS) Despite the fact that parts of his state have already embraced the Supreme Court ruling outlawing segregation in schools, Texas' Governor Allan Shivers made a bitter speech against the justices: "They stepped out of their judicial robes... Nine men sitting 2,000 miles away are not going to tell Crossroads, Texas how they are going to run their schools."

Shivers, a thorn in the Democratic Party's side for he bolted it in '52 for Gen. Eisenhower and says that in '56 he will do the same if Adlai Stevenson heads the ticket, made his speech at a time to particularly embarrass the liberal Stevenson on his visit to Texas with high party talks with Senator Lyndon Johnson and Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn.

Shivers says he sees the segregation issue a "political problem" and one in a long series to bring about "centralization of government."

Storz Gives $2.25 Per Pound For Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H Champ Beef

First patients in Omaha's almost completed Clarkson Hospital will dine on meat from the grand champion baby beef of the Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H Live Stock Show. Storz Brewing Company, Omaha, Friday, paid $2,148.75, or $2.25 per pound, for the 955-pound Hereford steer. The sum went to Leo Gentrup, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gentrup, Beemer.

At the sale, Storz announced he is donating the animal to be fed to patients at the new $5,000,000 hospital building, which is the first new structure in Omaha's planned medical center and which has been chosen by Modern Hospital magazine as one of 12 new institutional buildings that will be considered in choosing the "hospital of the year."

The price for the grand champion was 80 cents per pound above the top bid at Ak-Sar-Ben in 1954 and the fourth highest price in the 28 years of the show and sale. Storz Brewing Company purchased grand champion 4-H steers at Ak-Sar-Ben in 1940 and 1943; reserve champion steers in 1938, 1939 and 1942; the champion 4-H heifer in 1948 and the reserve heifer in 1950.

Cattle Business Veteran
Storz, an Ak-Sar-Ben governor since 1946, was in the cattle business many years as a partner of Carl Hoffman of Ida Grove, Iowa. They had the grand champion fat carload at the International Live-Stock Show in Chicago in 1945-47, three years in succession, a record that has not been equaled. They also received the highest price ever paid at the International for a carload lot.

Storz Brewing Company has purchased animals at 15 fairs and shows in Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota in 1955. The firm set record prices at 12 of the sales. At each sale, the brewery donated one or more animals to charitable or civic groups.

Why Join Kellom In '56?

Travelers Seek Team Talent

Practice sessions begin Saturday, October 8. Omaha Travelers management has announced that their famous basketball organization will hold their initial practice and try-out sessions for the 1955-56 team at 6:00 p.m., on Saturday, October 8, at the Near North Branch YM CA, 22nd and Grant Streets.
Regular members of the 1954-55 team as well as any man 18 years or over who would like to join the Travelers team are urged to make this initial practice and meeting. All should bring their own practice equipment.
Travelers' manager, "Josh" Gibson is anxious to acquire suitable new talent, as several members of the 1954-55 team, which had a record of 15 and 1, have joined the armed forces or are away attending college.
Says Mr. Gibson, "Every man will get a fair and extensive try out, and every position on the team, except that of manager, is open."

Campy Made Good In 3rd Series Game

Brooklyn, N. Y. (CNS) The way they were berating and lambasting Roy Campanella for his ineffectiveness at the plate in the first two days of the World Series, you would have thought that Campy needed to be sent back to the minors, or that he was just plain "chicken" when he saw those Yankee uniforms. But Campy's third game appearance was so completely the opposite that it put the critics to rout and to shame.
Campy's "skid"—called one critic on the catcher's 0 for 8 times at bat. "Slump-shackled" Campy cited another as the reason the Yanks would make it in four straight.

Only Campanella himself wasn't worried. He knew the club would snap out of it and that they hadn't been playing that bad a ball. Campy himself resounded beautifully with first-inning two run homer — his second in two days and his fourth of world series' competition. Campy also got a hit and brought across another run. That should keep the critics quiet for a while.

Lincoln U Takes On A New Look

The highlight of the weekend will be the annual football classic with the Lincoln Tigers meeting an arch rival, Texas Southern University of Houston.

This year's celebration is again expected to draw a record number of visitors. The Jefferson City chapter of the Lincoln Alumni association is making special plans to house and entertain returning graduates.

"What Hoppen To Giants?"

What hoppen to the Giants? That's the question everybody's been asking, and just as many people think they know the answer.

The editors of SPORT magazine, being an inquisitive bunch, thought they might be able to come up with a final and conclusive reason for the collapse of the champions if they interrogated the right persons. And so the current issue of SPORT carries the biased and unbiased opinions of players, managers,

Western Security Is Discussed

A leading authority on political science and American foreign policy, Dr. Hans J. Morgenthau, will discuss "Germany and Western Security" Wednesday evening at the University of Omaha auditorium.

The 8:15 P.M. meeting is the second of six lectures to be presented in the Institute on World Affairs. This year's program, conducted for the tenth consecutive year by the University's College of Adult Education and History and Government department, is entitled "Since the Summit." It concerns the Geneva conventions and their focal point—Germany, the key to disarmament, the European security system and immediate Soviet relations.

Professor of political science and Director of the Center for the Study of American Foreign Policy of the University of Chicago, Morgenthau taught international law at the Universities of Geneva, Frankfurt, Madrid and Paris before coming to America in 1937. He became a citizen in 1943.

While studying at Geneva, Morgenthau was able to watch the meetings of the League of Nations and of the Disarmament conference during the time Germany, Italy, and Japan started to undermine international law and order. His warnings appeared in leading Swiss newspapers, and he published two books which contain the conclusions from his Geneva experiences.

As for Manager Durocher: "I don't think it takes a genius to figure out what happened to us. Look at it this way. We have a man on first, a man on second or a man on third this year. Who's going to drive that man in? No one! Last year, everyone on the club knocked him in. Now that we haven't done anything at the plate, let's go out in the field. Okay, we suddenly need a great play. No one's here to make it. Last year we had a lot of guys to make it. This year either one guy louses it up or another guy does. And if neither of them do, I do. You can blame me as much as anyone else. I deserve it."
