Nebraska Honored For Bond Buying

During his visit to Omaha recently, Vice President Richard Nixon presented a replica of the Liberty Bell to Wade R. Martin, chairman of the Nebraska Savings Bonds Advisory Committee in recognition of Nebraska's outstanding Savings Bond sales last year. Nebraska ranked number one in the nation in percentage of quota attained. Mr. Martin accepted the award on behalf of Nebraska Savings Bond volunteers and informed the Vice President that without their patriotic support, Nebraska's outstanding record could not have been possible. Shown above at the ceremony are, left to right, Glenn Cunningham, Nebraska director of the Savings Bonds Division, Vice President Nixon and Mr. Martin.

From Antipasto to Dessert Keep Italian-Style Menu Authentic

APPETIZERS, hors d'oeuvres, antipasto — they all signify the same thing: a first course, made up of lighter food than the main course.

When you are serving a regular American dinner, with beefsteak, perhaps, and apple pie, then half a grape fruit makes a good appetizer. If you have chosen fillet mignon and meringues glacees for the main course, then a plate of French hors d'oeuvres is in order. And so, with such Italian fare as ravioli, a platter of antipasto makes a good beginning to the meal.

Literally of course, the word "antipasto" means "before the pasta" and the pasta or paste dishes are spaghetti, noodles and macaroni in their many variations. Ravioli is little macaroni pies, filled with chopped beef and simmered tender in a characteristic chef's sauce. You can buy it in cans, ready to eat as soon as it is heated. And it will heat through in a double boiler while you are eating the antipasto. It is usually available in two sizes, the smaller serving two, the larger serving five.

A tempting antipasto plate might include a leaf of lettuce and a little celery, a couple of slices of pickled beet, half a hard-cooked egg, an olive or two, paper thin slices of hot Italian sausage or salami, and pimiento, anchovy, scallions or little

Apple Sauce Buffet

COME ONE, COME ALL and help yourselves to this dessert! Apple Sauce Buffet is so simple, it belongs in the "why didn't someone think of this before" category. And it's so good tasting, everyone will enjoy it.

Just fill a big deep bowl to the brim with your favorite brand of ready-to-serve apple sauce, well chilled. Around it set smaller bowls each containing a different topping. Guests help themselves and have fun selecting the various delicious toppings for the sauce. You'll find they will combine one, two or three toppings and then come back for second helpings to taste the others.

The toppings suggested here are coconut, peanuts, whipped cream and crumbled peppermint candies. You might offer raisins, candied chopped ginger, crunched peanut brittle, marshmallow cream, maraschino cherries, mixed citron fruits, or slivered almonds. The canned apple sauce with its just-right consistency and lively tang takes on new glory with toppings like these.

Governor Objects To Race Barrier

WHEN NEGRO DEMOCRATS ARE BARRED

Birmingham, Ala. (CNS) Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams refused to address a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner here because of the city's stringent segregation laws that would not permit Negro Dem. to attend the dinner though they could be solicited to contribute funds for the dinner.

Said the popular Governor: "I am advised that the Dinner Committee is willing to sell all applicants regardless of race. But the Birmingham ordinance cannot be suspended and there would be no assurance that it might not be enforced against any Negro Democrat who actually attended."

Mr. E. D. Nixon, prominent Negro Democrat, had been refused admittance to two such meetings in Birmingham and has already been denied attendance for the October 5th dinner.
