President's Message Relayed By Film

President Eisenhower will welcome the 2,000 persons taking part in the Nation's historic White House Conference on Education tomorrow night at the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington by sound film made at his Gettysburg headquarters.

The five-minute film will be shown shortly after the opening of ceremonies which commence at 7:30 P. M., November 28. Vice-President Richard Nixon will deliver the main address. The other main speaker Monday night will be Neil McElroy, president, Procter and Gamble Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, and chairman of the 34-member President's Committee for the White House Conference on Education.

Mr. McElroy will hold a press conference in the Burgundy Room of the Sheraton-Park Hotel Monday, November 28 at 10:00 A. M.

The White House Conference will end Thursday night, December 1, with the presentation of the final two reports on "How can we finance our school—build and operate them?" and "How can we obtain a continuing public interest in education?" The chief speakers that evening will be Marion Folsom, Secretary of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and U. S. Commissioner of Education S. M. Brownell.

The 2,000 persons, participants and observers, will come from the 48 States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the District of Columbia. All of these States and Territories have held conferences on education in cooperation with the President's program.

Of the 2,000 persons taking part in the national meeting, 1,400 participants were named by the States and Territories. More than 300 participant invitations were issued to representatives of national organizations, Governors and chief State school officers. Observer invitations were sent to Members of Congress with legislative interests and responsibilities in the field of education, foreign observers and others selected by the President's Committee.

The six main subjects to be discussed at the national conference are: (1) What should our schools accomplish? (2) In what ways can we organize our school systems more efficiently and economically? (3) What are our school building needs? (4) How can we get enough good teachers—and keep them? (5) How can we finance our schools—build and operate them? (6) How can we obtain a continuing public interest in education?

The Conference participants will prepare a report on each of the six subjects which will be made available to the press.

The President's Committee is responsible for a FINAL report to the President on the "significant and pressing problems in the field of education." The final report will consider the results of the White House Conference, findings of the State conferences on education, and independent studies made by the President's Committee.

Admission to the White House Conference on Education will be limited to those with official badges only. These badges are divided into three categories: participants, observers, and press. Because of the tight schedule and limited space, no one will be admitted to any official Conference function without proper identification.

"Vanishing Island" Draws Huge Crowds

Stockholm, Sweden — Tage Erlander, Prime Minister of Sweden, attended tonight's performance of the Moral Re-Armament musical play, "The Vanishing Island", in the Royal Opera House. He is the third Prime Minister to see the play in the last two weeks. In Helsinki November 6, U. Nu, Burmese Prime Minister, attended a special performance together with Prime Minister Kekkonen and Foreign Minister Johannes Virolainen of Finland. With Mr. Erlander came a party of ten.

The popular response to the ideology of MRA is massive. At every performance of MRA plays in Stockholm the crowds have been so great that overflow meetings have been held.

Socialists trade union leaders from all continents were introduced to the audience at the close of the play.

"Workers everywhere respond to Moral Re-Armament," said Duncan Corcoran from the Clydebank, Scotland, "because it is an idea on which East and West can unite." We speak for thousands of workers across the world. We have given our lives for this. We live in an age where we have learned to split the atom but not found how to unite. MRA is an idea above class on which every race and nation can unite. We fight for this idea because it is creating the new world we all long for."

Today the MRA World Mission from 30 nations received a cable from workers' leaders in India. It said:

"WE ASSURE YOU OF OUR UTMOST SUPPORT. YOUR VISIT AND 'THE VANISHING ISLAND' MADE A DEEP AND LASTING IMPRESSION IN ASIA."

The signatories included Chotubhai Desai, General Secretary of the Western Railway Employees Union; Nariman Bugwadia, Vice President of the Bank Employees Union; and K. D. Tilak, Vice President of the Scindia Employees Union.

Peter Howard, author of "The Vanishing Island", stated his conviction: "Sweden — a center of sanity, purity and unity for the whole world."

About Americans Affairs

ATLANTA (GA.) NORTH SIDE NEWS (Ind.) says: (11/16/55)

... We have done a mighty poor job of selling the American way of life, and Democracy to the world. All indications are that we have fewer friends and more enemies today than ever before.

To be sure, there have been a few bright spots, but very few. The Voice of America has done a remarkable job with its meager facilities. CARE has been of some value to us. But, by and large, our gifts have won us no friends, and our spirit of giving has gained us many enemies. This despite some improvements and skillful negotiating by Mr. Dulles. ...

DILLON (S.C.) HERALD (Dem.) says: (11/16/55)

The farmers have more power than the combined power of all the labor unions. If the farmers were to strike and plant only enough food for themselves and their families every business in the nation would have to close down. No greater calamity could befall the nation. The farmer knows that he has this tremendous power, but he carries on with infinite patience while selfish and thoughtless men on the sidelines continue to fight among themselves with the utter disregard of the effect their wrangles will have on the welfare of mankind. Many times in the past the farmers have saved the world, and if the present trend toward intolerable conditions continues it may be the farmer who will have to bring the disturbers to their senses.

THE BABBLING BROOKS

By Gertrude Brooks, AT 8817

HELLO READERS! I'M GLAD TO BE BACK WITH YOU AFTER TWO WEEKS VACATION. Thanks to all who called, I am glad that the Babbling Brooks was missed, it was so kind of you to call and I do appreciate each and every call. We had the most enjoyable Thanksgiving we have had in years and we hope you did too. Now that the Thanksgiving Holiday is past, Christmas is just around the corner. Let us take good care of ourselves so that we will be here when old Santa comes. Let us DRIVE carefully and WALK safely and save a life. REMEMBER THAT THURSDAY IS SAFE DRIVING DAY AND LET US DO OUR PART TO KEEP IT FREE FROM ACCIDENTS.

Bazaar Proceeds $22,750

The Seventh Annual Children's Hospital Bazaar, held November 7th, at the Fontenelle Hotel in Omaha, produced $22,750 for Children's Hospital.

Individuals, firms, and Women's Clubs of Nebraska, western Iowa, northern Kansas and Missouri, gave their whole hearted cooperation to insure the continued success of the bazaar by contributing thousands of items to be sold to help the hospital continue their policy of admitting ALL children who are in need of hospitalization. Hours upon hours of voluntary work in making and procuring the merchandise for the bazaar have been given throughout the entire year by hundreds of men and women.

The Bazaar Committee endeavors to thank all donors personally. As some gifts were received without the identity and address of the donor, we are most desirous to have those people know that we extend our heartfelt thanks to them for their kindness and loyalty to the hospital. We also, thank the hundreds of patrons who attended the bazaar.

The articles displayed at the bazaar were of outstanding quality. The baked goods, home canned fruit and vegetables, chickens, eggs and candy sold as fast as they could be displayed. All were sold early in the day.

The nursery which was staffed by trained personnel and two nurses was kept busy from 9 A. M. to 4:30 P. M. Play equipment, cookies and milk kept the children happy.

The Fontenelle Hotel donated the space and the help of their personnel. All the decorations and supplies, also, were donated. Proceeds from the Bazaar Dance, held November 5th, were added to the bazaar fund.

The Bazaar Committee of the Friends of Children's Memorial Hospital are grateful to all those who contributed. We extend thanks for the children who will benefit from your help throughout the coming year.
