Gifting Takes A Step Forward With Footwear

New Casuals Join Bedroom Slippers As Yule Presents

Buying slippers for Dad or Mother, or the children, or a friend, is a time-honored Christmas tradition, but this year smart shoppers are going a step further by including a pair of fashionable new casuals among their gifts.

The reasons are clear. For the first time in nearly a generation, men's footwear has been radically restyled, with the result that casual shoes most assuredly enter the gift category. This applies to boys, too.

And as for the feminine side of the family, it is even simpler to find the gay and glamorous "at home" shoes that will bring squeals of pleasure from the girls.

Soft suede in delicate colors, smooth and crushed grain leathers, glittering silver and gold leathers, all have been worked into luxurious glamour shoes for wear while hosting, viewing T-V or just lounging around.

Although normally you might never think of buying father a pair of shoes as a gift, the new loafers will strike you as perfect as a present for him. So will the new low cut, one and two eyelet models done in leathers soft to the touch, available in myriad colors such as bamba, smoke, butternut, sorrel tan and of course black.

There are literally hundreds of different styles of leather bedroom slippers to choose gifts from for all members of the family. They range from soft leather scuffs and mules for Mother and the teen-agers to the more conventional leather opera slippers for Dad. Or the warm-as-toast slippers lined in genuine wool shearing for all members of the family. Shearing, if you don't know is the soft underwool of the sheep or lamb, which has been left on the leather as it is tanned, and results in the warmest, most comfortable cold weather footwear this side of the North Pole.

Gay Wrappings, Must For Christmas Gifts

Present To Be Sent Through Mail Needs Special Care

Gay colorful wrappings are a must for Christmas gifts—even those to be mailed. But for mailing purposes, you'll need special designs that won't get crushed.

The answer to this problem is to use colored gift wrap tapes. These tapes can be arranged in a variety of designs that will be easy to cover for mailing.

Besides an assortment of colored tapes, you'll need white or colored shelf paper (less expensive than wrapping paper), transparent tape and a pair of scissors.

Cutouts from last year's greeting cards are helpful to add a few decorative touches. Gifts may be wrapped in colorful Christmas papers or in plain shelf paper first. It's best to re-wrap the decorated package in the shelf paper before finally treating it for mailing.

On the other hand, if first wrapped in shelf paper, gift wrap tapes can be used for applying myriad decorative designs.

Transparent cellophane tape can also be used in a number of ways to create unusual patterns. For a glamorous effect, try dipping the sticky side of the tape in gold or silver flitter and tape this around your package.

Even salt, tapioca or ornament "snow" crystals can be applied to the sticky side of tape in the same way.

New Gift Games Featuring Fun For The Whole Family

This Christmas the four to six year old contingent will be counted in on the fun of playing games, along with their older brothers and sisters.

There's a strong trend in games that adapts competitive family fun over board games to fit the limitations of the kindergarten crowd, catering to the recreational needs of the increasing number of families with three and four children.

Annie Oakley, for example, makes competitive family fun out of Wild West adventures, slanted to a four to 12 age group. Candyland, another favorite for family fun that gives the kindergarten crowd a chance to play instead of kibitzing, bases moves on color. Chuggedy Chug, an ingenious new board game, keys competition to maneuvering locomotives to a round house which revolves just like the real ones.

Tax Figuring Time Will Come Soon

Records Should Be Gotten Into Shape Within A Few Weeks

Time is getting short to plan your farm income and expenses for income tax and social security purposes in 1955, remind agricultural economists at the University of Nebraska.

With income reduced by drought and low prices, some Nebraska farmers reporting their income on the cash basis may want to consider postponing some farm expenses until after the first of the year.

If your net income is such that you won't have to pay any income tax, postponing some farm expenses to 1956 may help reduce your taxes next year, they explain. Also, you may want to sell some crops and livestock this year instead of next if price conditions are favorable.

A little figuring and planning now could save a lot on your taxes next year. The economists also say that farmers near the retirement age of 65 will find it to their advantage to try for a net income as close to $4200 as possible. This will build up your credit for social security retirement payments.

Remember, though, that while net income up to $4200 is counted for social security benefits, net
