December Draws On Blood Bank

"Your Nebraska-Iowa Regional Red Cross Blood Center will need at least 3,500 pints of blood during December so that the holiday sick and injured will live to see Christmas, 1956," stated the Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, S.J., Blood Program Chairman, today. Father Reinert added that "the gift of life, the gift only you, the blood donor can give, is the most precious of all this holiday season."

In an appeal for donors to add the Red Cross Blood Center at 2549 Farnum Street to their Christmas gift list, Father Reinert commented that according to records, accidents are always more frequent during the holidays. Also, people continue to need blood for sickness or surgery.

"Were your child to become ill or a member of your family were to be injured this Christmas, you would be eternally grateful for the Red Cross blood that helped to save his life. However," said Father Reinert, "blood will be available for such emergencies only if each of us supports the Program by donating a pint of our own blood very soon."

Someone needs your blood more desperately than you do. Make this a happier Christmas for him and for yourself. You can give the gift of life this Christmas by calling AT. 2723 for your donor appointment.

This is the month for giving and receiving. And by giving the right of way in traffic... you will receive a few more years of living. The Omaha Safety Council asks you to give the gift of a lifetime this year... give a life... by driving safely.

You can be your own Santa Claus... so says the Omaha Safety Council. Give yourself a worry free Christmas... by driving safely... when the roads are bad and when they are good... and don't drink if you are going to drive. The best gift... is your own life... keep it.

Christmas GREETINGS

As the three kings brought their gifts to the Christ Child, may we all bring to our celebration of His Birthday, the priceless gifts of love, understanding and good will toward all mankind.

Packers Are Central High Party Hosts

The Central High School Auditorium took on a "Christmas Look" Sunday afternoon when Local 60 of the Packinghouse Workers of America, AFL-CIO were hosts to over 1800 children at a Christmas Party given for the children of local membership.

Within the auditorium entrance a decorated Christmas tree lent a gay spirit of yuletide to the party. Santa was on hand to greet the youngsters. Each child was given a stocking of candy and a gift. A program of movies and cartoons topped off the afternoons entertainment.

Treats were also in store for the adults. Lucky winners of the door prizes really "brought home the bacon." Door prizes of 10 hams, 5 slabs of bacon, and 12 one pound packages of bacon were donated by the Cudahy Packing Company.

An estimated crowd of 2500 attended the festivities. Headlights just before dusk don't light up the roadway... but the Omaha Safety Council reminds you... that your lights help the other driver to see you which means you will be much safer... so turn on your headlights before dark.

A Christmas tree stands for joy and happiness... but careless trimming and handling can mean tragedy and sorrow. Keep the tree in water... keep it away from flame and heat... and the Omaha Safety Council says to also see it is well braced, if it is a large tree. Be sure the lights are in good condition. It's too easy to have a tragic Christmas... because of carelessness.

Ask Civil Rights Be Part Of Message To Congress

New York, Dec. 15.—President Eisenhower has been urged to call upon Congress in his State of the Union message, "to take favorable action on pending civil rights bills, especially those protecting the security of the person and the right to vote freely."

In a letter to the President, made public here today, on the 164th anniversary of the Bill of Rights, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, cites the "series of murders and wave of economic terror" in Mississippi and elsewhere in the South and asked the President to "recognize and denounce" these conditions in his message to be delivered next month at the opening of the second session of the 84th Congress. The letter dated December 9, officers not to say a mass at a church which included white parishioners."

The people, Mr. Wilkins continued, "are bewildered and dismayed at the silence and apparent impotence of their federal government in the face of what is, to all intents and purposes, A rebellion against the United States Constitution and its guarantees to American citizens. The rebellion is in the open. The defiance is vocal and overt. The methods—murder and economic intimidation—are beneath decent and honorable combatants in any controversy short of actual warfare."

Conspiracy Charged

Asserting that the state governments have failed to protect the people, Mr. Wilkins asked the President: "Where shall they turn for relief from intolerable persecution in the states, counties and towns of their native land?"

WILKINS URGES PRESIDENT

The evidence indicates, the NAACP leader concluded, that there is "a widespread conspiracy extending over certain southern states to deprive Negro Americans of their civil rights. The states are supposed to protect those rights, but when they fail to do so, when law and order breaks down or is subverted in wholesale fashion, the federal government, unless it wishes to abdicate, would seem bound to step forward and protect the rights of citizens of the United States."

"If these colored citizens were foreigners within our borders, or if they were American citizens abroad, the federal government would use all its powers in their protection. It is incredible that it cannot so act in the existing circumstances."
