GOP Dent In Labor Vote Noted

By William H. Stringer
Chief, Washington News Bureau,
The Christian Science Monitor
Washington

The hard work which a big, powerfully built, friendly gentleman in the Eisenhower Cabinet has put into his contacts with organized labor, is paying off.

The latest Gallup poll, surprisingly, shows that organized labor—as of today and as indicated by a sampling from coast to coast—actually prefers President Eisenhower over Adlai E. Stevenson.

This is sorry news for the Democrats, and it must be qualified by all sorts of provisos. Insofar as it does represent a steady shift in labor sentiment, the man who receives an important share of the credit is Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Secretary Mitchell is one Republican who has always believed that the Eisenhower administration could make a vigorous dent in the Democratic allegiance of organized labor. And in an indefatigable, painstaking manner, by promoting favorable legislation, by personal contact and by speaking to labor conventions here, there, and everywhere he has made that dent.

Of course the other Republican who has helped along this unusual shift is President Eisenhower. Riding above the political storms, nonpartisan in his personal preferences, he has attracted labor strength right along.

In 1952 it is estimated that President Eisenhower received a substantial vote from union members, some 39 per cent. Now, in a Gallup "trial heat" against Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Eisenhower received a majority of the votes—56 per cent.

Campaign Fund
A polling of union leaders would of course show a very different sentiment. Only the other day David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union estimated that the united labor movement (AFL-CIO) would raise a maximum of 3 million dollars in voluntary political contributions for the 1956 presidential and congressional elections. And the presumption is that most of this money would go to support Democratic candidates.

But not all of the rank and file followed its leadership in 1952, and possibly a still larger percentage of the rank and file may not follow the leadership in 1956.

It should be noted that some members of the Eisenhower camp do not rate precisely as high with labor as do the President and Secretary Mitchell. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, in their recent Washington convention, charged that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was "unfit" to continue in his high office. Labor has had similarly uncompromising things to

The Last Word

By Elizabeth Davis Pittman

Well, I've waved goodbye, said goodbye and received numerous postcards from fortunate vacationers. Now the question is—when is it my turn? Much as we all like to travel, there are many of us who have not done so thus far this summer; and, consequently, we're sweltering in our all too familiar surroundings while the travelers are sweltering or cooling in new and intriguing atmospheres.

I can't point out too often the importance of these annual treks to far away, not so far away and almost across the street vacation spots. We all get a little tired of the same old dull routine once in a while and a change of pace in a different environment is just what the doctor ordered. How nice to meet people from various places of residence and exchange notes about current affairs, mutual acquaintances and amusing experiences. Many lifelong friends are formed in this casual manner and many a person has met his or her future marriage partner—realizing all the while that only happenstance has thrown them together.

The adventure that lies ahead as you speed down the highway, over the railroad tracks and along the air lanes is an ever challenging and refreshing thrill. The conversation seems to grow more stimulating, the food seems to become that fit for a king and each person seems to project a captivating personality. Just the thought of all this excitement makes the traveler tingle as he leaves thought of humdrum duties and responsibilities behind him.

How many times has the traveler forgotten minor irritations, made plans for future development in his own life and generally taken stock of his assets and liabilities? There is nothing like a vacation to enhance one's existence, broaden one's personality and give life an effervescent quality!

Pardon me—while I look at these vacation folders. I think I've convinced myself there's nothing like a vacation!

ert W. Wallen, will be the featured speaker. Wallen is now with the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, of Brooklyn, New York, sponsors of the assembly, and governing body of Jehovah's witnesses. His principal talk will be Sunday, August 5, at 3:00 P.M. Peace Will Come in Our Day."

"Preparations are already well under way," said McLaughlin. Temporary headquarters have been set up at 2901 North 30th Street. To look after the details, 19 departments have been organized. Meetings of the departments were held over the weekend. Ministers from Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota attended.

Another Omaha resident, Alfred Nussallah, will also address the group. Nussallah is now working in the headquarters of the Watchtower Society, Brooklyn, New York.

A dedication service to Jehovah God, symbolized by complete water immersion of the candidates will be held Saturday. Panel discussions and staged dramatizations will be presented emphasizing training for the ministry and separation from world conflicts. The delegates will then put these suggestions into practice by calling on residents of Omaha and Council Bluffs.

The Civic Auditorium will be transformed into an enlarged Kingdom Hall for the convention. The present boxing ring in the auditorium will become a stage. (Local meeting places of the congregations of Jehovah's witnesses are called Kingdom Halls.)

There are seven congregations of Jehovah's witnesses in the Omaha-Council Bluffs area. All sessions of the assembly will be free and open to the public.

Witnesses Meet Here August 2-5

A four day assembly of Jehovah's witnesses will be held in the Civic Auditorium here, August 2 through 5, according to John McLaughlin, Convention Director from Lincoln. An estimated 4,000 ministerial delegates are expected by the conclusion of the assembly. The ministers will be coming from Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Missouri and Kansas. The purpose of the assembly is to provide practical instruction in the ministry and to offer sound scriptural counsel in meeting today's problems.

A former Omaha resident, Robert W. Wallen, will be the featured speaker. Wallen is now with the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, of Brooklyn, New York, sponsors of the assembly, and governing body of Jehovah's witnesses. His principal talk will be Sunday, August 5, at 3:00 P.M. Peace Will Come in Our Day."

electric cooking is COOL

... there's no wasted heat

Once you've tried cooking electrically, you'll agree that an electric range makes a delightful difference in kitchen temperatures during hot weather.

The reason is that your electric oven is completely insulated—top, bottom and sides—to keep heat in the oven and out of the kitchen. Electric surface units cut waste heat, too, because they heat by direct metal-to-metal contact with cooking utensils.

That's one of the important reasons why last year Omaha households purchased more than twice as many electric ranges as any other type.

Find out for yourself how cool electric cooking can be, and discover its other advantages, too. You'll like its cleanliness, safety, and economy. See your favorite appliance dealer soon.
