Vice President Nixon is Chairman of the Contract Committee and Mr. Maxwell Abbell is Chair man of the Employment Policy Committee. They acted as co-chairmen of the joint meeting.

The Committees' statement pointed out that "more and better jobs are being opened to qualified members of minority groups. The increase in opportunity for apprenticeship training and onthe-job training which has been made available for qualified candidates is noteworthy. Leaders of industry, Government and organized labor have cooperated in achieving this objective."

The Committees also agreed to hold additional joint meetings, both in Washington and in other their class at Omaha in Muny areas throughout the country, in the future.
