THE BELL TOLLS

By Leonard H. Hall

The die is cast. This presidential election is now just another phase of history. But we can learn many interesting things as we try to analyze the final results.

This column has reached these conclusions set forth below. We are sure that the voter has become more intelligent in casting his ballot. He has lost his feeling of subservience to a single political party. Especially when that party blandly ignores his desires and his needs as a citizen. He has thrown aside his former blind party loyalty and learned to vote with retaliatory effect toward those whom he realized were no longer worthy of his vote.

We think that the results plainly demonstrate the pressing need for a rejuvenation in both Republican and Democratic Parties. The Old Guard of the Republican Party must be replaced by the liberality and progressivism that surely must exist in the young Republicans. The Democratic Party has to clean house completely, according to this electorate. For the voters showed that they feared to place absolute control of our Government into the hands of a Party that nurtures, protects and accepts in silence the slanderous rantings and machinations against minorities, constantly spewed out by Talmadge, Eastland and others of their anti-racist ilk.

The Negro vote has clearly indicated that cleaning house for the Democratic Party must also include firm support and steady implementation of the Supreme Court's Integration Decision; the abolition of the social and economic barriers that attempt to keep the Negro in a second-class citizenship status throughout the South, and a wider and more just dispensation of political patronage to the Negro, where his voting strength is strongest.

Furthermore, President Eisenhower, with his popular return to office seems to have been placed on trial by the Negro voter, to see if he will really be as effective in fighting for and pushing for the civil rights of the Negro as his partisans have proclaimed him to be.

The verdict of guilty has been brought in from the polls against both parties in this mass political trial. They have been punished nationally, by state and locally, by an informed electorate.

White Woman Makes "Test Case" Of Sitting Beside Negro at Virginia Rally

Mr. Frank Young

Arlington, Virginia. (CNS). . . Miss Faith Bissell, 43, a Librarian with the National Research Council, sat beside a Negro at a political meeting for candidates and thereby not only brought about her arrest as the law so states there should be no intermingling of races at public meetings, but caused a heated argument at the rally.

Miss Bissell told police when arrested in a section of the hall reserved for Negroes that she decided to make a test case "as a matter of personal conscience." She added: "I was horrified to see those Negro citizens sitting in the segregated seats."

A native of New Jersey, she moved to Arlington from Washington in '51 and had never made a test case on any racial issue before. She says, too, that she is no member of the NAACP. She has been charged with violating the state law but was released on $100 bond. Her case was continued until November 13th so that she could get a lawyer.

The act of acceptance is the art of making someone who has done you a favor wish that he might have done you a greater one.

Love's like a radiator—it keeps you warm, even when you know it's only hot air.

For Holiday Glamour Try A Tetrazzini

An elegant buffet dish which makes excellent use of planned holiday leftovers is Turkey Tetrazzini, a lyrical combination of turkey, mushrooms and a pale cream sauce smoothed with evaporated milk and livened with sherry.

Glamorous as the famous soprano from which it takes its name, Turkey Tetrazzini teams beautifully with a tart salad, hot coffee and a pretty dessert for an easy and effective buffet. The evaporated milk adds creaminess and serves as the perfect blending ground for the delicate turkey and mushroom flavors.

TURKEY TETRAZZINI
1 can (3 or 4 ounces) mushrooms
1 cup evaporated milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 chicken bouillon cube
1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
2 cups coarsely diced cooked turkey
1 to 2 tablespoons sherry, optional
2 cups (4 ounces) cooked macaroni or spaghetti

Drain mushrooms; reserve liquid. Add enough water to liquid to make 1 cup. Combine with evaporated milk. Melt butter in saucepan. Remove from heat and blend in flour, salt, bouillon cube and monosodium glutamate. Gradually add evaporated milk mixture and stir over low heat until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add Tabasco, turkey, mushrooms, sherry and macaroni, and bring to serving temperature. If desired, sprinkle with chopped ripe olives.

YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

"Thank God For America—Our New Home!"

This thankful Hungarian family of fourteen offered a prayer of thanksgiving as they sat down together recently for their first dinner in their new home in Chicago. One of the largest family groups to immigrate to the United States under provisions of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, the father's visa represented the 30,000th person to come to this country under auspices of Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference. It brought the overall total of homeless refugees resettled by the agency in free countries throughout the world since 1948 to 200,000, marking the greatest effort of any voluntary agency.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Bela Roman with twelve of their fifteen children ranging in age from 3 years to 26. Three daughters remained in France—two of them nuns and one married. With the assistance of the Hungarian Catholic League a home and job assurance have been provided for the family.

Roman, who is 58, and his 48-year-old wife, Elisabeth, fled with their eleven children to Germany from their native Hungary in 1944, when Russian troops entered the country. Their flight was prompted by the father's fear of communist reprisals. As a young man, in the Hungarian Royal Army in which he served 28 years, he had taken an active part in the 1919 uprising against the communist regime of Bela Kun. Their nomadic existence finally took them to Vosges, France, from which place they immigrated.

Here they will begin a new life eagerly awaiting the day they can become American citizens. Mrs. Roman stated, "It was only the grace of God that let us rear our family through these years."

Negro Doll Is Ready

AKRON, OHIO — Now ready for Christmas gift-giving is this new all-vinyl brown skinned doll which six-year old Norma Dansby of Akron, Ohio, is holding.

This is the doll which was designed by the Sun Rubber Company of nearby Barberton, Ohio, to meet the requirements parents said they wanted in a doll for their children. It is 18-inches tall and is a real deluxe doll because it drinks, wets, coos and even blows bubbles! The arms, legs and head move and the arms and legs are dimpled. The simulated dark, wavy hair hangs in natural-like ringlets, giving Sun Rubber's new doll the life like appearance of a baby. It's dressed in a two-piece sweater set with matching booties. A tiny nursing bottle and a bubble pipe complete the accessories.

White Is Raising A Negro Girl

Chicago — Mrs. Dorothy Danner DaPonte, a wealthy, white Southern aristocrat of Mobile, Alabama, who is defying the Ku Klux Klan in a courageous attempt to rear a Negro girl like a full-fledged American citizen, is featured in the December EBONY.

The child, 12-year-old Carrie Mae McCants, whose mother once worked for Mrs. DaPonte, was taken in by the childless woman when her parents split up six years ago. At first Mobile whites paid little notice to the Negro child when she moved into the widow's home. They took the position that what Mrs. DaPonte did was her own business. When the white mother and her Negro "daughter" went to Europe for two years, the case was forgotten.

While Carrie and Mrs. DaPonte were abroad, the Supreme Court banned segregation in public schools. When the widow read about it she made the decision which has brought the wrath of the South upon her. She decided to enroll Carrie in a white school.

This year she asked the Mobile County school board to admit Carrie to a white school near her home and the request was denied. Immediately, a band of 100 Ku Klux Klansmen burned a 10-foot cross in her driveway. Mrs. DaPonte and the child hid in a friend's home but the Klan hunted them down and burned another cross. Threatening phone calls and letters poured in. Former friends ostracized her. Some of her blood relatives stopped speaking to her. Her father left town.

At present, alone and almost friendless, Mrs. DaPonte is thinking of sending Carrie North to be tutored privately while the case

LIBERAL RELIGIOUS YOUTH GIVES OFFICIAL ENDORSEMENT TO NAACP

New York — A notification that Liberal Religious Youth, Inc., officially has endorsed the program of the NAACP was hailed here last week by Herbert L. Wright, the Association's youth secretary.

Mr. Wright said the action marks the first time a national youth organization has taken this step. Liberal Religious Youth, Inc., is composed of young persons affiliated with the Unitarian and Universalist faiths.

By a resolution adopted at a meeting held last June, the group declared NAACP goals to be in agreement with the principles of Liberal Religious Youth. The group further resolved to become a "cooperating member" of the NAACP.

A letter explaining this stand and enclosing a contribution was received recently by Mr. Wright, who responded by congratulating the young men and women and urging them to take out a collective life membership in the NAACP.
