With the Asian and African peoples' steady upsurge of nationalism and desire for freedom, where still subjected, many interested quarters are now taking a long look at the situation in an effort to save something of their former position. The National Council of Churches! Division of Foreign Missions met at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., on November 26, to seek "new directions."

In an opening address, Dr. Roy G. Ross, National Council general secretary, urged the adoption of foreign missions programs to the world's changing social, political and religious " climates. He recommended "(1) a world organization with East and West churches as equal par ners; (2) interchurch aid administered by local agencies of the churches; (3) a large body of experience represented in world wide church policy and planning activities." The Rev. Phillip Potter, youth secretary in North America of the World Council of Churches, challenged churches to concentrate efforts on winning the allegiance of the youth of the world's newly freed nations. Rising nationalism and a corresponding strengthening of ancient religions in these countries once considered traditional U. S. churches' area, make integration of the young people into the life and leadership of the church imperative, he declared.

American foreign missions endeavors in Africa are lagging behind social and economic developments, the Rev. George W. Carpenter, retiring executive secretary of the Division's African Committee, declared in a report, "Churches and missions for the most part are carrying on the traditions of the past generations, and moral presaures are found in the cities as migrant workers flock to the eities and industrial areas." He said the Christian church in Africa is fragmented, not only by sectarian union division but also by racial uriers and white churches are apt to feel no concern toward Africations in the same community. Because of "indifferences in languages" and the fact that large areas "remain under the domination of European powers which believe the territories are not ready to become autonomous," he emphasized, "there is no opportunity for the development of nationhoods based on the cultural heritage of African peoples."

And finally, the Tennessee Council of Churches has unanimously oted a resolution calling upon the State's governor, board of ducation and state legislature to desegregate its public schools. It urged that the public school system be brought "into harmony with latter and spirit of the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation cision and denouncements" "contrary to our evangelical principle of separation of Church and State" the announced intention of "organized opposition to desegregation" to propose "legal control of church schools in order to attain its ends."

We find this progressive trend of the church and foreign missions quite gratifying at this time of the year. However, there is still much to be done by the church to save African and Asian peoples from communism and ancient religions, specifically in South

The other is a small packing plant which has started at Curtis. Like any other business, it will provide labor for several men and at the same time give ranchers a better price for the livestock which the plant buys for packing purposes.

Curtis has discovered that the small plants are not only easier to get than the large plants, but are better, in the long run, for the community.

A small industrial plant is to be built at Berwyn, Nebraska, near Loup City which will build metal corn cribs, metal animal cages and all types of wire containers. The plant will be in operation late in January. The owner of the plant has a patent on a special type of welding used in the process.

A red Sicilian Cart, loaded with Christmas packages, a snow man driver and a little grey donkey won first prize in the overall home decorating competition at Wahoo last week. Darrel Ludi, editor of the Wahoo Newspaper won the prize.

Judges said that Wahoo had as many entries in their contest as the entire town of Fremont, which indicated the enthusiasm with which the people went into the spirit.

The Chadron Record pointed out last week that construction work hit an all-time high in that community in 1956.

Some of the things built included: $100,000 street improve ment program. $70,000 water system extension; $100,000 hardsurfaced runway at the airport to provide daily landing for Western Airlines planes; $130,000 Assumption Acadamy Arena; $200,000 in buildings at Chadron State Teachers College; $70,000 for a new fire station besides dozens of new homes and private business improvements.

Ord is laying plans to rebuild their high school building which was wrecked by a boiler blast a week ago. First survey of the damage was estimated at $350,000 but has since been scaled down to around $100,000. Since parts of the old building have to be rebuilt, this remodeling will become a part of the $300,000 construction program of a new wing which was going on when the blast developed.

Waters behind the Kingsley dam at Ogallala have risen 8.7 feet since a record low of several months ago. More water is being held in the lake than is being discharged in an effort to get the water level back to the point where it will be sufficient for irrigation next summer.

enterprise so that these groups receiving subsidies would not have to depend on the government, because the products would cost much less, therefore would not be controlled by the government.

Research and the increase of the technical know how would enable people to buy a lot more with the same amount of money, because it is not the number of dollars you have in your pocket, but how much the dollars will purchase. The government also would save a lot of money, because of freedom from all subsidies and a decrease in all defense material that the government has to buy. The government, in my frank opinion, should stop collecting social security from all the groups working in all large and small industries, because it takes from 40% to 60% of the social security dollars for the government to keep up this program, when it could be paid into a fund with pension plan and other funds set up by joint industry and labor. There would be no cost to the man or woman who paid his money if the plans were jointly set up by labor and in-

Finally, the government should watch labor as well as industry to keep down monopolies. Industry with its monopoly could go ahead and increase the cost of the products, since they would not have an competition. Labor with its monopoly at the present time can completely paralyze industry, and make for us very serious conditions in the United States. A good example is to be found at the present time as longshoremen of the East Coast and Gulf Coast have completely stopped all imports and exports. No group of selfish men should be allowed to make all of the American people suffer when they could continue at work and still have collective bargaining between industry and labor.

Please, if you read this article, write your members of the House of Representatives, your Senators, your President, and all the labor leaders that you know. We must save America as a land of freedom, and a land of free enterprise, or sink into oblivion as all other countries have, that tried socialism in a welfare state. Let us all in America be thankful to correct the situation that now exists, and re-establish free enterprise so that our government can save billions of dollars which can be used to reduce the debt and cut taxes.
