Ted Rhodes Posts Sub-Par

Washington, D. C. — Ted Rhodes, goldfom's St. Louis flash, posted a subpar 276 to win his fifth UGA pro championship in the 31st annual tournament of the United Golfers Association played over the East Potomac Golf Courses here last week.

Trailing defending champion Charlie Sifford by one stroke, 141 to 142, at the end of 36 holes, the St. Louisan toured the final 36 holes of play with a 10 under par 134. Rhodes combined rounds of 70, 72, 6 and 65, missing the course record by 3 strokes in his final round. Rhodes won $500, while Sifford, with 283, earned $325.

Howard Brown, Saginaw

Michigan, became the first southpaw to win the Men's Amateur championship when he defeated two-time winner Gordon Goodson, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on the 20th hole. Mrs. Ann Gregory, Gary, eliminated Mrs. Ethel Funches, of Washington, to annex her third UGA Women's title.

The only defending champion to repeat was James Mayfield Junior Boys', of Baltimore. Jean Robertson, Chicago, outdistanced defending champion Shirley Turner, of Detroit, to win the Junior Girls' division.

Mrs. Helen Harris, Washington, D. C., won the Senior Women's crown, while J. C. Davis, Cleveland, became the champion in the Senior Men's division.

Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis was the Men's Amateur low medalist with 70 for the epar-72 layout, being eliminated in his second round of play by Elliot Granberry, Dallas. A total of 476 golfers, largest in the UGA's history, entered the tournament, which was hosted by the all women's Wake Robin Club.

Detroit's Franklin T. Lett, UGA president, described the tournament as one of the most successfully operated events ever held by the nationally-known golfing group. Wake Robin is believed to be the first all-women's club to host the tournament, while for the first time in history a woman, Mrs. Paris Brown, of Washington, was tournament director.

Mrs. Brown was ably assisted by Mrs. Ann Robinson, Chicago who is assistant tournament director. Nathaniel Jordan, St. Louis, UGA executive vice president; Howard Anders on, Toledo; John Reddick, Philadelphia and A. D. V. Crosby, Columbus, Ohio. Members of Wake Robin served the tournament in many capacities.

The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Georgia, led the number of products and companies in contributing trophies to the tournament. Among other trophy donors were Schaefer and Pabst beers, Seagrams and Stitzel-Weller distilleries, Atlanta Life Insurance Company and the Washington Evening Star. The Coca-Cola Company has contributed the tournament's major championship trophies for five years.

In addition to Rhodes and Sifford, other pros finishing in the money were Moses Brooks, Texas, $225 for 290; S. Woodson, South Carolina and Bill Mays, Washington, $112 for 291. Lesser sums went to Howard Wheeler, of Philadelphia, 292; R. Thomas, Baltimore and R. Dreher, South Carolina, 294; J. Perry, Boston, 296; W. Mosley, Detroit and Z. Hartsfield, New York, 297.

Ten-year-old Alan Kendrick, of Washington, was the youngest contestant in the tournament while Dr. H. M. Holmes, Atlanta, is believed to have been the oldest person playing in the event. Dr. Holmes, age 73, did not take up golf until he was 50. There were 308 amateurs, 64 pros, 65 women, 27 senior men and 12 juniors in the tournament, which will be played in Pittsburgh next year.

4000 Colored Farmers Use $10 Million

More than 4,000 colored farmers received initial loans totaling close to $10 million from the Farmers Home Administration during the fiscal year 1957. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimated this week.

The estimate does not include those colored farmers who were already operating their farms with Farmers Home credit and received additional loans, or those who received emergency credit in drought and flood areas.

The loans went for a variety of needs designed to develop and improve family-type farms. A total of 153 farmers obtained loans to buy farms of their own, or to enlarge or develop their present holdings into economic units; 111 received loans to build or repair their homes; 16 were given credit aid in carrying out sound soil and water conservation practices; and 3,875 obtained loans to buy machinery, livestock, fertilizer, insecticides, and to take care of other operating expenses.

Since the loan programs were established 20 years ago, the Farmers Home Administration and its predecessor agency have made loans to 280,000 Negro farm families. These total more than $300 million. More than 10,000 of the families received loans to purchase family-type farms of their own.

Altogether, during the 1957 fiscal year, white and colored farmers borrowed $356.3 million from Farmers Home. During the same period, farmers repaid the agency $294,623,000 on previous loans, leaving a balance outstanding as of last June of $1,013,180,000.

The loans were extended to farm families who had or could obtain the land, labor, and other resources needed for successful farming, but who could not obtain from local sources the credit needed to finance their operations. All loans were accompanied, to the extent necessary, by technical assistance in planning and carrying out sound farming operations.

During fiscal 1957, in connection with the Rural Development Program, the agency was authorized to make operating loans to farmers who have part-time off-farm employment, and development loans to farmers who own less than family-type farms. The agency was also authorized to make real estate loans primarily for refinancing debts.

Approximately $4,533,000 was loaned for operating expenses to 3,045 farmers who had part-time off-farm employment. These included 659 colored farmers. The agency also advanced $3,072,000 for farm development to 382 farmers who own less than family-type farms.

Aldens Sales Grow Twice Industry Pace

Aldens, Inc. increased both mail order and retail store sales during 1956 to pass the hundred million dollar mark for the first time in company history. R. W. Jackson, president, disclosed in his annual report to stockholders.

Record sales and earnings during the past year climaxed ten years of increase at a rate of growth almost double that of the industry. Jackson pointed out.

Since the base years 1947-1949 Aldens sales have increased 28.8% as compared with an industry increase of only 14.9% according to the president's report. Increased customer service through "will-call" stores, where shoppers can order and receive merchandise, and telephone offices where customers can order for home delivery were cited as major reasons for the increase. Further service expansion by opening catalogue order units in supermarkets is planned for testing in 1957, Jackson said.
