The State Fair.

The Nebraska state fair was a decided success, both in the matter of exhibits and attendance. If anybody had any doubt about this, a visit to the grounds was sufficient to dispel the doubt. The weather for most part was not all that could have been desired, and yet the attendance went considerably beyond the record, and would undoubtedly have been much greater had not heat and dust interfered. Forty thousand people are credited with being on the grounds Wednesday, and at least 10,000 in addition to this number on Thursday. There was a lack of means of transportation, the dust was not properly laid, and some other things were left undone that should have been attended to. The managers have gained experience that will enable them another year to have all matters arranged and carried out in a satisfactory way.

The agricultural exhibit was the best ever seen in Nebraska, and this is saying a good deal when it is considered how many splendid exhibitions the state has held. All the various departments were full to overflowing, and evidence was present on every hand that Nebraska is not only a productive state, but that her citizens take pride and satisfaction in making it known to the world. Counties vied with counties in elaborate displays, and all were so good, so full and complete, that it was difficult to draw comparisons.

Omaha took care of the large crowd in a splendid way, making her claim good to every pretension previously set forth. The city was brilliantly illuminated through the entire week and entertainment elaborately provided for the thousands of guests within her gates. Bands, innumerable, wrought an enchanting music on all sides, and the parades arranged for the various evenings were up to expectations and drew hundreds of thousands of sightseers. The Nebraska state fair for 1895 passes into history as one of the most successful ever held, and if there was anything lacking the experience that has been gained will enable the managers to provide it in 1896. The fair has advertised the state's resources in a manner that will bring good fruit in great abundance in coming years.

Irrigation Contest Decision.

Following is the opinion of Judge Neville in the matter of the alfalfa irrigation district recently organized under the new law.

In the District Court of Keith County, Neb., Board of Directors of Alfalfa Irrigation District Plaintiffs. And now on the 31st day of August, 1895, this cause came on for hearing and trial to the court upon the petition of the plaintiff, the answer of the defendants thereto, and the evidence, and the court having heard all the testimony and arguments of counsel and being fully advised in the premises finds:

That the said district has been organized in all respects as provided by law, and that all things required to be done by said law, particularly as required by the act of the legislature which passed and took effect March 26, 1895, entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, etc.," have been done and performed and that the bonds of said alfalfa irrigation district in the sum of $22,000 have been in all respects voted by said board of directors in accordance with the law, and said bonds are in form, substance and amount in strict conformity to law.

The court further finds that the organization of said alfalfa irrigation district and the election and issuing of said bonds in the sum of $22,000, of which bonds there are forty-four of $500 each were regular and according to law. The court further finds that the notice of the filing of the petition herein was given, and for the time in the manner prescribed by law.

It is therefore considered, adjudged and decreed that the said proceedings and each thereof in and about the organization of said alfalfa irrigation district and the election and issuing of said bonds and all things pertaining thereto be and the same are and each thereof approved and confirmed, and the issue of said bonds of said district and the said bonds and each of them are declared to be legal and valid and in the respects binding upon the said alfalfa irrigation district.

Protects the Cattlemen.

The Northwestern Live Stock association of Cherry county, Nebraska, with headquarters at present at Merriam, held a special meeting at Valentine for the purpose of extending the hand of welcome to all cattlemen of the middle and eastern portion of Cherry county. On December 13, 1893, this association was organized and incorporated under the laws of the state of Nebraska. It is in its infancy as yet, but it has proved itself worthy of consideration in protecting stockgrowers and shippers from the petty pilfering that has been carried on in the last few years. The association's next semi-annual meeting will be held in Valentine for the purpose of amending its by-laws and increasing its membership, and if possible locating the association's main office at Valentine, Neb., which is the county seat of Cherry county.

The Feast of Mondamin.

The great parade on Thursday night at Omaha was the crowning feature of the kind in the west. Thousands and thousands of people viewed the great pageant and expressions of awe and surprise were many and pronounced. Never a sight so beautiful in this western land. Inconceivable in beauty hardly describes the magnificent floats, twenty in number. Blending with the richness of the costumes were the colors of the king and Uncle Sam—red, white and blue and the rainbow hues of heaven. Indescribable was its grandeur. It was fairy land in reality—an epoch in the life of every witness.

Morrison Not Worrying.

Chadron dispatch: The all-absorbing topic of conversation on the street is the verdict in the Morrison murder trial. Morrison expresses himself as believing the verdict returned was better for him than one of a less degree, as it would give him a better chance for a new trial. Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Morrison and her two children. Morrison has lived at different times at LaSalle, Ill.; Huron, S. D.; in Montana, Wyoming and several other western states. The town of Crawford, of which he was marshal, is much divided on the case, as there are two strong factions there.

BANKERS PUT UP GOLD.

WILL PLEDGE $30,000,000 TO THE TREASURY, IF NEEDED.

WORK OF BONDSYNDICATE

They Desire to Avoid Any Action Which Would Have the Effect of Checking the Steadily Increasing Business Prosperity That Is Now in All Sections of the Country.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The easy assurance and confidence of the treasury officials that there will not be a bond issue and that the treasury gold reserve will not again be seriously depleted is explained by a prominent official, who says that through the good offices of the bond syndicate, promises have been secured from bankers in the principal cities of the country that in case of necessity they can be called upon to place up to $30,000,000 of gold in the treasury in exchange for legal tender. This important matter has been quietly negotiated by Messrs. Belmont and Morgan during the last fifteen days.

The reasons which have led to the action are varied, but all tend to the same end. On the part of the administration it is recognized as good policy to avoid another bond issue and throw the responsibility and necessity for remedial financial legislation upon the incoming congress. It was determined by the president several months ago that there would be no bond issue until after the elections, as an issue previous thereto would have the effect of strengthening the hands of the free silver men and the Populists.

On the other side the syndicate wishes to avoid any action which would have the effect of checking the steadily increasing business prosperity.

The parties to the present voluntary combination for the protection of the treasury gold reserve are almost entirely within the list of banks that were allowed to participate in the handling of the last bond issue.

LAND FRAUDS CHARGED.

A Wyoming State Senator Warns Secretary Smith to Investigate.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 23.—Robert Foote, state senator of Johnson county, has written an open letter to Secretary Smith of the interior department, exposing what he characterizes as "one of the most gigantic and glaring frauds of the age" which is about to be committed, he says, in Wyoming, under the Carey land law. He says that all the waters of the streams in the Big Horn basin were "parceled out" to members of the "state land ring" by the state engineers and companies have been formed which propose to charge to settlers for water rights $10 per acre which are not worth over $10. The lands which the state authorities have asked to have set apart under the Carey law are not desert lands as contemplated in the act of congress, Mr. Foote asserts. In conclusion the senator says the design is to create a system of peonage or tenancy-in-will in our rich valleys where non-creatable and independent manhood should be found.

DONE UP THE JUDGE.

Sol Hughtlett's Crooked Work Growing in Extent—New Victims Found.

MEXICO, Mo., Sept. 23.—The schedule of people who were swindled by the late Sol Hughtlett of Wellsville is growing. Judge E. M. Hughtlett, who is now holding circuit court here, lost sight of Mrs. W. Dickroger and two sons of Wright City and J. A. Forstleit, of Foristled, Mo., who had forged notes and fraudulent deeds of trust executed by Hughtlett for $4,500 against the farms of G. A. Burwell, J. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Bergman, W. C. Bush and J. B. Alderson. Many farmers about Wellsville have small clouds on the title to their farms in the shape of bogus deeds of trust. It is estimated that the whole indebtedness will aggregate nearly $13,000.

QUARREL OVER SPOILS.

Colonel Ross' Explanation of Where $75,000 of Indian Funds Went.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Colonel D. M. Ross, of Guthrie, Ok., spent five hours on the witness stand trying to tell what he did with the $75,000 he received from the secretary of the treasury on the well known $3,000,000 payment to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians for their shadow claim to the Cheyenne and Apache lands in Oklahoma. Colonel Ross stated that he had paid $10,000 to one Colonel Parsons of Maryland, who has been a member of the state legislature and voted for Gorman, and who is generally believed to be the fine financial manipulator of Senator Gorman in certain western legislative matters. This $10,000 he paid Parsons was for Parsons himself, as Colonel Ross stated. Then Colonel Ross says he set apart $10,000 for himself, and then he gave Sam Donaldson of Kentucky, who was supposed to have a financial lobby pull in the treasury, $5,000, and the remaining $50,000 he paid to Colonel Parsons in cash, and it is his understanding that Parsons paid it out to certain persons, but not knowing who they were, he can not explain further.

Will Bring Claims Against Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—A number of men who were imprisoned by the Dole government during the rebellion in Hawaii have organized for the purpose of gaining the assistance of their respective governments in an effort to obtain damages from the Hawaiian government. From Washington he will go to London, then to Paris and thence to Athens. At these points he will act as agent of members of each nationality now residing in Hawaii who have claims against the Hawaiian government.

During President Cleveland's first term Mrs. Ficklin was postmaster in this city.

Anson Rosenfield Dead.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Anson Rosenfield is dead of Bright's disease at his home in this city. His death will recall old California days to many newspaper men and women who knew Mr. Rosenfield through his connection with the "Alta California," of which he was a part owner for many years. Mr. Rosenfield was a forty-niner, and, in common with the enterprising men who invaded the Western coast during that lucky year, rapidly accumulated a fortune. He was born in Germany and came to this country in 1842.

NO CUBAN RECOGNITION.

The United States Unlikely to Take Any Positive Action at Present.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Save vague newspaper reports, nothing is known at the state department of the intention of any of the governments of the American republics to recognize the belligerence of the Cuban revolutionists, and it is quite certain that no formal application for such recognition by the United States has been made. It is not perceived here how the insurgents can reap any substantial advantages at this time for such recognition. The only comfort that they would derive would be from the moral effect of an assent by an independent power to the proposition that they had assumed statehood.

As far as the United States is concerned, it took such a pronounced stand in the case of the late Brazilian insurrection that it could scarcely recognize Cuba at present without a complete reversal of its position. It has held that, to entitle them to recognition, insurgents must set up a seat of government and maintain it; that they must issue money, and must possess a navy to make effectual any blockade they wish to establish—in short, that they must have an actual defacto government. The state department is not informed that any of these requirements have been met by the Cubans.

POLITICS AND CRIME.

Professor Warner of California Attacks the Present Police Systems.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 18.—At this morning's session of the national prison congress a paper on "Politics and Crime," written by Amos G. Warner, professor of economics and social science in the Leland Stanford university of California, and read by John N. Dryden of Kearney, Neb., created a sensation. "If the state itself is under the influence of criminals," wrote Mr. Warner, "how can it hope to reform criminals? Setting a thief to catch a thief was an old-time doctrine, but the plan of setting a thief to reform a thief has never yet been defended. The representatives of the state with which criminals are most frequently brought into contact are policemen, police justices, sheriffs, sheriffs' deputies and others only a shade—if at all—better than the criminals themselves. The hope for the cure of criminals largely lies in curative treatment in the early stages. Petty offenders and those on the verge of criminality in the large cities seldom or never get beyond this line of guards, and live more or less in their presence. The police to them represent the state."

FATAL WEDDING FEAST.

John and Simon Hancock Mortally Wounded at a Bridal Reception.

Simon was shot four times and John was once shot and stabbed. They are not expected to live.
