Superintendent Fillmore is busily engaged in visiting all the school (mams) in the county before he retires to "irrigate and meditate."

A number from here attended the teachers meeting in Alliance Saturday. Papers were read by each of the candidates for county superintendent.

A surprise was given Phil Michaels Friday evening. Dancing and games were indulged in and those who attended report a pleasant time.

Attorney Jas. H. H. Hewitt republican candidate for judge and F. M. Phelps republican candidate for clerk called at these democratic headquarters Monday.

A. S. Beebe and family arrived in town Wednesday from Edgerton, S. D., having driven all the way. Mrs. Beebe is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Shindler, with whom they will visit.

Hon. W. H. Westover, of Rushville' populist candidate for district judge, addressed a good-sized audience at the court house Saturday evening. Mr. Westover is all right—politics excepted.

On Monday night nearly every out house in town was overturned. We do not know whether it was Hemingford or Alliance smart alecks, that played the trick, but it shows true republicanism anyhow.

S. Wallick night operator has moved his family to Hemingford. Mr. Wallie has rented the Gerber residence on east Niobrara avenue.

J. H. Johnson of Lawn was in town last week. He informs us that he has decided not to take the Lawn postoffice and that J. Lutsch will probably be appointed and will also run a store.

On Wednesday evening a pleasant surprise was given Rev. W. B. Dada previous to his departure for his home in Michigan. About fifty people were present and a pleasant evening was spent.

Prof. Worden went to Crawford last week to get some of his art material. He informs us that when the syndicate block is completed, will return to Crawford and open up the finest art parlors in the west, and we believe the professor is capable of doing that very thing.

Hon. F. W. Smith accompanied the Alliance delegation to Hemingford Monday evening. No doubt Mr. Smith is a hustler and has done more for republicanism in this part of the state than anyone else—but how much better it would be if he were working for a grand and noble party in which the common people are allowed to have a voice—democracy.

It makes us laugh to hear such men as Sullivan, Preston, Payne and deputy sheriff Trout talk about Hercul being a straw man and Mike Elmore supporting Sweeney. The following amusing incident occurred in Alliance a few days ago:

Mr. Elmore put the question: "Who is the best man for sheriff?" Simon Spry answered, "Payne." Mr. Elmore pulled out a five dollar bill and said he would give it to anyone who would name a meaner, ornery—in Alliance than Payne. Dave Lee (Scrub Peeler) answered, "Sweeney!" Elmore said "Here's your money," which Scrub took and bought himself a new hat.

Obituary.

Mrs. Glassner, wife of Rev. W. O. Glassner, died at her home in Crawford on Sunday Oct. 27, 1895, at the age of 62 yrs, 10 mos, and 2 days. Death was caused by paralysis of the bowels after an illness of only 10 days.

Mrs. Glassner, formerly Mrs. C. E. Howard, was born in Jefferson county, New York, in 1832, and with her family came to Box Butte 10 years ago. She was always known as a kind and loving wife and mother who was admired by everyone with whom she was acquainted.

The funeral services took place in Crawford and were preached by Rev. O. S. Baker of Chadron assisted by Rev. G. W. Prioleau.

The remains were taken to Hemingford Monday night and after a brief service conducted by Rev. Kendall at one o'clock Tuesday, were followed to their last resting place in the Hemingford cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. A devoted husband, two sons, S. J. and C. E. Howard, and a daughter who resides at Cape Vincent, N. Y., are left to mourn her loss.

C. J. Wildy wants some dressed poultry and hogs.

False Statements by Political Healers.

A few of the Alliance-for-county-seat populist healers with John Trout as local striker are circulating the report that Mike Elmore and other prominent democrats are against Hercul and working for Sweeney. They do this for the purpose of trying to convince the people that Hercul is a straw candidate. We are in a position to refute this statement. Mr. Elmore is not home at present but his foreman John Burns informs us that it is a lie made out of whole cloth. Both himself and Mr. Elmore will give Mr. Hercul their hearty support. Mr. Burns also stated that if any of those unscrupulous liars disputed it, send them to him and he will back it.

We have talked with many other democrats in Alliance and they all say that Hercul will receive the full democratic vote.

Republican Circus.

The republican rally Monday night was a success so far as attendance was concerned. Hemingford turned out and with the 250 who came up from Alliance, the Congregational church in which the "services" were held, was filled to its utmost capacity.

A republican rally is similar to a circus, when you see one you see everything. The only drawing card is the Jumbo elephant and the gentlemen who was billed to represent Jumbo Monday night was General Colby, of Beatrice. However before Mr. Colby was led to the rostrum, presiding officer Benjamin F. Gilman announced that the county candidates would say a few words and as predicted by THE HERALD last week, they spoke their little pieces again and they all had them pretty well committed except A. M. Miller and he made the best impression, at any rate it was a relief to the audience.

Jasper H. H. Hewitt was the first to tell how good a republican he was and how glad he would be of "your support," etc. Erasmus Poggun Sweeney was the next victim. He began by saying that he didn't know how to make a public speech and while he was explaining this the audience discovered that he didn't know enough to make a public officer. Presently some one in the audience yelled, "Say, Mr. Sweeney, have you ever been up Red River?" A brief silence and the echo went through the house "he's just a going" and Sweeney fell into his chair with a sickening thud.

Bob Noleman was "sicked" on to roast the candidates but as Bob is considered a big joke in himself, people paid no attention to him. Then came General Colby the great. He began by saying that Coroner Miller made an examination of his throat and discovered that he was afflicted with "clergyman's sore throat" but he thought that it would become better as he proceeded and it did. He had his little tale well learned and for an hour and a half continued to pour hot shot into the democratic and populist ranks. Mr. Mullin of Alliance, got out his gun several times and returned the fire with good effect. And Messrs. G. W. Waisner and H. H. Tomlinson were there. We warned these gentlemen not to attend this meeting but they replied that they "liked to hear 'em all" and went. When the firing at the populists was the heaviest and the smoke the thickest, two elderly gentlemen were noticed taking to their feet and making for the door. But you ask, "What did the democrats do?" Well sir, they didn't do a thing only sit there and laugh to think what an ass an elephant could make of himself. In fact the only sensible remark we heard Mr. Colby make was when he showed up the free silver fallacy.

The hour of eleven came. Everybody was tired. The turn-key unlocked the door and a rush was made for pure air. People retired and commenced to dream. They dreamed that they were at a circus and saw elephants, monkeys, bob-tailed peacocks, wild cats, and General Colby, all having a republican label stamped on them "at both ends." It was a terrible sensation and everyone hopes that this is the last circus of the season.
