

CURED BY THE KNIFE.

Dr. Rouff Takes a Knife in a Merciless Elk's Disposition. From the Post-Dispatch: The victim of the elk in Forest park that gored to death Keeper Nelson last week, will have a kinder disposition in future. That is what Dr. Anatole Rouff, the veterinarian, says. After the unfortunate accident it was decided first to kill the old fellow and sell his carcass to some restaurateur, but Dr. Rouff suggested that he could take a reef in the elk's temperament by performing a surgical operation. So it was finally agreed to give the forest monarch a longer lease of life, and the operation was successfully accomplished. Since then the elk has been doing nicely and giving no trouble. Dr. Rouff, Park Commissioner Ridgely and eight assistants, armed with clubs, pitchforks and rope enough to hang anyone, started for the inclosure wherein dwelt the murderous elk. After some tedious maneuvering the old fellow was lassoed. Then he was securely fastened on each side and his head pulled down to the ground. But this didn't put him in readiness for the operation; only half of the work was accomplished. He fought desperately with his fore and hind legs and no one would venture within their reach. One by one the legs were encircled by the rope and then all four were securely fastened together. Then the operation was easy. This is the first operation of the kind ever performed on an elk, deer or any similar animal, either in Europe or America, says Dr. Rouff. In speaking of the affair the doctor said: "Of course this elk was a bad fellow, and had killed one man before, in Chicago, but what made him so extremely vicious was his constant jealousy and his quarrels with the other bucks. He will now be kept by himself and can have no chance for a fight in future." The doctor performed laparotomy on one of the bull buffaloes last week. Two of the bulls quarreled and one was badly gored in the right side. Through the incision made by the horns, part of the entrails protruded. When the doctor went to replace them he noticed one was badly lacerated. This was quickly stitched up and the entrails replaced. After that the wound in the side was sewed and dressed and the buffalo is now well.

IN A HOT BOX.

Another Time the Engineer Would Draw the Water. San Francisco Post: "I got into a hot place once," remarked ex-Sheriff Healey of Marin county. "In fact, it was the hottest place I ever got into in my life. When I was running an engine on the Narrow Gauge road I noticed a leak at the soft plug in the crown of my engine. It kept getting worse, so I decided to plug it. That night I raked the fire, and when the fire box cooled off a little I crawled in and examined the leak. I measured the hole carefully, and after trying the calipers on a rat-tail file, I had concluded that it was just the thing. I would drive it in and break it off. I put the end of the file in the hole, hit it a crack with the hammer, and instead of sticking it went clear through. The next minute boiling hot water was pouring down on me from the boiler. The fire box was only about four feet square and the soft plug was right in the center over my head, so I couldn't get close enough into any of the corners without getting my legs scalded. I am pretty large, and the door of the fire box was small, but I had to get out or get scalded. I turned my back to the hot water, and by the time I wiggled out the door I was the hottest man on the coast. When I pulled off my clothes I took about eight square inches of skin with them. Since then I draw the water before I do any plugging."

A Lawyer's Breach of Confidence. A queer case is reported from Sydney, Australia. A man was convicted by a jury of having tried to poison his wife with arsenic. His lawyers obtained a reconsideration of the sentence by a commission appointed by the legislature, consisting of two doctors and a lawyer, which pronounced him innocent, the doctors voting down the lawyer, who thought him guilty. The man was set free in consequence. Subsequently one of his lawyers, moved by conscience, told another member of the bar that the man had confessed his guilt to him at the time of the trial and the matter was brought before the legislature. Lawyers and clients have been arrested and are to be prosecuted for conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice. Communications between lawyer and client are consequently not privileged in Australia.

Setting on the Races. The big trotting-horse people in Buffalo and western New York, including C. J. Hamlin, are said to be preparing to make a determined movement this year to secure a moderation, or possibly, the abolition, of the present anti-betting laws of the state. The unsuccessful grand circuit meeting of last summer will be used as an argument that it will be impossible to conduct trotting meetings profitably without pool selling of some sort. These interests are powerful ones, and if banded together would make a strong fight.

God's Will. "Since God doth will that some shall dwell at ease, And others shall know hardness, this is sure, The lot that fits each nature He foresees; And wherefore murmur when we must endure? Some day His loving wisdom will be plain, As the sweet sunshine following after rain." -Mary Bradley.

We know of only one man in Box Butte precinct who favors the removal of the county seat and as every one is "onto" him he cuts a very nail for us.

The Times tries to convey the erroneous idea that the warrant for $390 was for repairs on the court house alone. This amount was paid for repairs on court house and poor house. Come, Brother Ellis, if you have any argument, produce it, but don't try to gull the people. We are here to refute your mis-statements.

The Alliance Guide stated last week that "the assessed valuation of this county is about ONE BILLION DOLLARS," and as no correction was made this week we suppose the editor meant just what he said. The records show that the assessed valuation for 1894 is $946,151 and $868,322 for 1895. Brother Paradis, why don't you post yourself "just a little?"

Much nonsense, some of it utterly idiotic, has been written because President Cleveland was absent from Washington when Lord Salisbury's answer to Secretary Olney's note of last July, asking whether England intended to arbitrate its boundary dispute with Venezuela, and notifying England that this country would not tolerate the forcible seizure of territory claimed by Venezuela, arrived. Stripped of all verbiage, here are the facts: President Cleveland knew the nature of the answer; he also knew that it was useless to send a special message to congress with that answer until the house had its committees. If anybody is to be blamed it should be Speaker Reed, for not announcing the house committees.
