Hick's Great Works.

Rev. I. H. Hicks, the celebrated storm prophet of St. Louis, is now a household name in nearly every home in America. His wonderful almanac predicts the weather for a year ahead more correctly and accurately than any other publication or any other system. The veracity of a large number of careful observers is that 90 per cent. of Hicks' predictions are fulfilled to the letter. His series of annual almanacs are now well and favorably known in all parts of this country and 15 foreign lands. The new almanac for 1895 is the most practical and instructive, as well as the prettiest, of this splendid series. It contains 100 pages, printed on fine book paper, with elegantly printed in colors. The matter, although scientific, is written in popular style, there being nothing difficult to understand about it. It is also finely illustrated. Don't confound this with some patent medicine pamphlet. It is nothing of the kind, but is a fine book which sells at all news stands for 25c. This fine almanac is given as a premium to every party subscriber to the Rev. I. H. Hicks' well known and cheerfully popular paper, Word and Works. This unique journal is a priceless educator of the masses, and is fast becoming a household guardian and necessity in the homes of America. Those who want to keep up with the advanced thought of the age in science, religion, and all social, commercial, literary and domestic subjects, should subscribe for Word and Works. Subscription only $1 a year. You can send for both direct to Word and Works Publishing Company, St. Louis Mo. Single copies of Word and Works, 10c.

You cannot find in these United States the equal of the genuine Round Oak. You may try; you'll get left. Remember it's the combination of good points that makes the perfect stove. Buy the genuine and be satisfied. See the name on the leg. For sale at Uhrig's.

President Cleveland's message on the Venezuelan question leaves no room for criticism. It is an exhibition of American backbone which every true American will applaud.

President Cleveland is still receiving congratulations for his patriotic message on the Monroe doctrine, and while there is less outward excitement in Washington than existed for the first two or three days after the message went to congress there is a stalwart belief in the absolute correctness of the position taken by President Cleveland, and a determination to maintain it at all hazards. Instead of being shaken or weakened by the attempt of the British capitalists to frighten us by unloading their holding of American securities, with the hope of creating a financial panic, those attempts have strengthened that determination. While it may be a temporary misfortune for the United States to have all railroad, state and federal securities now held in Great Britain dumped upon the market, and sold, it would be equally disastrous for their holders, and in the end it might prove a great blessing for us, as there are lots of people who think the United States needs a financial declaration of independence more than it needs any other one thing.

Calvin J. Wildy
New Goods
Low Prices

Quick sales is our motto. We are now showing a better line of goods than ever before, and we would call particular attention to our new line of Mens' and Boys' Clothing, and Ladies' Cloaks and Capes, on which we are making very low prices. We are not selling out any old, bankrupt stock, but we are selling cheaper, quality considered, than anyone else. We buy for cash, and sell for cash, or exchange for produce. We are the oldest firm in the county. Our reputation is merited by our large increase of patronage, to whom we feel grateful, and for which we warrant a continuance of square dealing, and a saving of money by staying with the undersigned humble servant.

Yours Truly,
CALVIN J. WILDY.

1895 finds the genuine Round Oak with greater sales than any year gone by, and the number of imitations has become a multitude. See it and learn the reason why. For sale at Uhrig's.

John Phillips, the Alliance liveryman, was in town Monday transacting business at the court house. Mr. Phillips says that he is satisfied to let the county seat business alone, and there are a great many others in Alliance who are of the same opinion.

Paint, Glass and oils of all kinds sold according to the hard times cheaper than the cheapest, at ANTON UHRIG'S.

We acknowledge receipt of the Flagley (La.) Vindicator, which is published by our friend, D. W. Watsabaugh, who has lost none of his newspaper ability, and whose paper bears signs of prosperity. His many Hemingford friends wish him success.

The HERALD and the Omaha semi-weekly World-Herald both one year for $1.75.

Mrs. E. W. Alexander received a Christmas present from her daughter, Nellie, who is at Fresno, Cal. The present was a box, weighing 165 pounds, and containing 12 pounds of honey, six kinds of dried fruit, an assortment of lemons and oranges, and a demijohn of wine.

The genuine Round Oak costs no more than an imitation. Why not buy the one that everyone knows is right. Uhrig sells them.

The Epworth League of Hemingford has secured President Hancher of the Black Hills college for a course of three lectures. All who have had the pleasure of listening to this eloquent orator will be especially pleased to learn that he is again to visit our town. The dates of his lectures have not yet been decided upon, but will be given sometime during the winter.

NOTICE—Having made arrangements to leave the city Jan. 1st, to be absent some time, those wishing jewelry work done will please bring same soon. Call and get goods cheap for next 30 days. Thanking you for past favors, I remain respectfully, Ed. L. JONES.

The great social event of the season will take place on the night of January 1, in the shape of a grand ball, to be given at the court house in this city. All ye who trip the light fantastic, don't miss this opportunity, as it will positively be the grandest social affair of the season. The committee on arrangements have prepared an extensive and excellent program. A beautiful supper will be served. Tickets for couples, including supper, $1. Everybody invited.

Farmer's Voices.

Here is what some of our farmers say and think about the removal of the county seat:

Postmaster Lockwood of Canton says: "I can drive up on my estate next year, but if Alliance should succeed in getting the county seat I shall not do so, nor shall I remain in the county. I know enough about living in a bonded county, and this will follow; I do not care what Alliance people promise."

Leslie Price, as prosperous a farmer as lives in Nonpareil precinct, says: "If Alliance is given the county seat I shall not pay another cent of taxes on my land. I would rather put my money into cattle, which I can move when I want to. While the land will be sold for taxes I can live on it just the same. Alliance will bankrupt the county as fast as they can, for the few farmers who are left cannot stand the burden."

"That is right, farmers; speak out. It will probably bring these Alliance tricksters to their senses. A good word from our best farmers ought to set all interested in paying taxes to thinking."

The Great Farmer and Taxpayer.

"Henry F. Mathes" is the high-sounding title of the gentleman (?) who had an "article" in last week's Alliance Times. While the man in the moon wrote as much of the article as Mathes, yet the man who allows his name to be connected with it is responsible (?) for the same. He starts off by saying "as the county seat is up on wheels again and every body is having their say, and as I am a taxpayer and an old settler, I think I am entitled to mine," and continues with a half column of rotten slush—the only kind of argument that Alliance can produce. He uses the language of the Alliance editor, "this tax business is a humbug," "and if there is a tax, I am willing to stand my part." Let us see how much Mr. Mathes would have to stand: His taxes for the year 1893 was 81 cents; $1.49 for 1894, and fifteen cents for 1895, poll tax excluded. Dear reader hold your nose. We are wasting too much space on the subject. The only thing that we can find out about the gentleman is that he is no good on earth—for himself or anybody else—and we are informed by a reputable person, that he (Mathes) is in charge of a neighbor who is "working him for his board." We would advise our Alliance friends to scare up a live "suspect" in their next hunt.

Box Butte Bulletin.

Mrs. Curr is dangerously ill with a cancer.

Santa Claus grows better looking every year.

Miss Emma Texley has returned from Edgemont.

Miss Lizzie McLean went to Chadron to spend Christmas.

Miss Katie Sredker is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Hiram Wilson is recovering from her protracted illness.

Miss Della Han came up from Alliance Monday to spend the holidays with friends.

L. Snedeker and Charlie Wilson did not start for Pine Bluff Thursday, owing to inclement weather.

It is not probable that the literary society will hold a meeting Tuesday evening, as some object to a meeting during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, and their daughter, Mrs. Hamlet, returned from the Black Hills, to spend Christmas with relatives in Box Butte and vicinity.

A mistake was made in last week's issue in regard to the supper to be given at Mr. Mamon's. It will be given on New Year's eve, December 31, instead of New Year's evening, January 1.

Holiday Rates.

Via the Burlington route, December 24, 25, 31 and January 1, between stations not more than 200 miles apart. Return limit January 2, 1895.

Take advantage of this low rate opportunity and spend Christmas with the old folks. They are counting on you. The Christmas turkey and the Christmas pudding are all ready. Eat them where they should be eaten—at home with your own people—among your own friends.
