AS DESCRIBED BY SIR EDWARD ARNOLD.

Grand and Gorgeous Show-Barbaric Splender of the Oriental Representatives-The Monarch and the Caurina Described - Moscow's Illumination -Money Spent Without Measure.

Never Anything Like It.

LONDON, May 2d,-Sir Edwin Armold, who went to Moscow on behalf of the Dally Telegraph, in his dispatch to that paper, describing the scene at the Kremlin and the entry of the czar into Moscow, says: "Why cannot one write in colors? There was never anything seen on any stage like the living kaleidoscope of fanciful attire of fantastic hues and embellishments visible around me, particularly in the Oriental element, and all the far Eastern nations. The officials from Khiva wore magenta colored velvet robes, gold embroidered and sugar-loaf hats, Now China contributed a dazzling group with flowered satin frocks and vermillion buttoned hats. Now a bevy of magnates from Lake Baikal astound the eye with fur trimmed brocade and long red boots. Now I recognize the gray surtout and amber capstrings of the Coreans and try one of them with a greeting in Japanese. He politely murmurs. Some of the Khirgiz Tartars then appear in yellow silk and scarlet shawls, outdoing all, and at a window of the Gostinnoy Dvor there is a beautiful vision of a Circassian lady in black and orange brocades, glistening with pearls and turquoises. I abandon in despair the polychromatic aspects of the pageant. "The Cossack guard was glorious, uniformed in scarlet and gold, riding little, weedy, Roman nosed Ukraine nags, with only a snaffle and bridle and with gold and black bandcliers. looking quite fit to pace in front of the czar. After these came upon the scene almost the chief interest for me personally, since I saw gravely riding along as the vassal friends of the great white khan all the chiefs of the Central Asian kingdoms and provinces, over which his eagles east the shadow of their They passed demurely upon noble Arab stallions, the very least among them mounted upon animals covered from crest to haunch with the costlicst trappings of silver and gold cloth. But these and other parts of the pageant paled before the grand master of ceremonies, borne haughtily onward in such a golden chariot as I thought existed only in heaven or in classical pictures, holding a wand of gold topped with an emerald as big as a walnut. But here at last comes the august object of this unparalleled manifestation, the successor and heir of Ivan the Terrible. His handsome and manly young countenance is pale with the prodigious sensation which such a scene must naturally excite. and holds his gloved right hand almost perpetually to his regimental cap. He bends his head gently to this side and that to acknowledge the boundless welcome. Every man is bareheaded and every woman is waving a handkerchief or shawl or vio-lently crossing her loyal bosom in a prayer for 'the little father.'

"The ezarina also sat alone, dressed wholly in white, even the jewels, pose to do so."

pearls and diamonds, seeming to mar by their color the effect of this pure reponded Mr. apparel, which caused her to resemble a marble saint within a golden shrine. Most numistakable were the affection and lovalty of the crowd and I saw more than one poor peasant woman's eyes fill with tears of sheer joy to behold this fair lady. One honest fellow fell upon his knees to say his prayers as though he had seen something divine, till a Cossack bundled him back into the crowd." It would be impossible to overdraw the splendid picture presented by the procession and by the illuminations, No money has been spared to make the coronation festivities memorable in Russian history and up to the present all efforts have been crowned with success. The Russian government is said to have spent over $20,-000,000 on the fetes up to the present and the city of Moscow is understood to have expended nearly as much money and more expenses have to be

The illuminations will last three evenings in succession and will cost several million dollars, to the government alone, without counting what the city will contribute toward this portion of the expenses.

Beside the expenses of the Russian government and the city of Moscow the expenses which grand dukes and grand duchesses, foreign princes and ambassadors, etc., have been put to, is really enormous, one authority going so far as to estimate that there was about $ 00,000,000 worth of jewelry alone in the procession of yesterday.

Hill Fittbustering

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The chaplain's prayer hardly closed to-day when Mr. Butler renewed his motion to take up his bond bill. After some sparring Mr. Hill Interposed the objection that this was too important a question to be considered "without quorum." This was the first evidence of a renewal of obstruction, but. a quorum being found very quickly, the motion was adopted-yeas, 34;

Mr. Mills of Texas gave notice that he would object to any business until the pending bond bill should be disposed of, and after Mr. Pettigrew presented a partial conference report on the Indian bill, which was admitted and agreed to, Mr. Hill began his speech in opposition.

Quay Wants to Be Chairman Again. WASHINGTON, May 23. -It is current gossip here that Senator Quay proposes soon to visit William McKinley, not to discuss the financial question, but to try to secure that leader's influence for his return to his old position of chairman of the Republican national committee

A world's Irish Convention Called. LONDON, May 23 .- The convention of the Irish throughout the world. which, it was decided yesterday at the meeting of the anti-Parnellites to call, has been fixed for September 1 at

AID FOR TEXAS SUFFERERS.

Gov. Relcomb Urges Citizens of Nebrasks to Hein.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 24.-Governor Culberson of Texas replied to the telegraphic offer of assistance sent him by Governor Holcomb. The message of the Texas governor was as follows:

Austin. Tex., May 22,-Governor Silas A. Holcomb, Lincoln, Neb: The storm safferers will gratefully accept anything your people may send them. Communicate with C. H. Smith, chairman of the relief committee, Sherman, Tex. Accept my personal appreciation of your kindness.
C. A. CULBERSON,

Governor. In accordance with the foregoing Gov. Holcomb has issued the fol-

"Recognizing the existence of a very worthy desire on the part of many Nebraska citizens to show their appreciation of the hitherto expressed generosity of the people of Texas, and realizing the suffering which must have been left along the track of the tornado which recently devastated property and destroyed life at Sherman, Texas, and vicinity, I would suggest the pro-priety of those of our citizens who are able and benevolently disposed contributing such articles as would be most likely to relieve the distressed condition of our unfortunate southern neighbors. Major T. S. Clarkson of Omaha, chairman of the executive committee of the Nebraska club, will receive and recept for any contributions for this worthy cause and will see that they are placed in the hands of the proper local authorities at Sherman, Tex. I trust that at least one car load of provisions may be forwarded to these distressed people within a few days."

HOT UNDER THE COLLAR.

till and Allen Exchange Left Handed Compliments

WASHINGTON, May 23 .- The Senate had an hour of much excitement with a resort to obstructive tactics and several heated personal controversies at a late hour yesterday. The early portion of the session had been given to the routine of agreeing on conference reports on appropriation bills. At 5 o'clock Mr. Butler, Populist, of North Carolina moved to take up his bill prohibiting the further issue of interest-bearing bonds. Mr. Hill immediately moved an adjournment, securing an ave and nay vote in order to gain time. The motion to adjourn was defeated, whereupon Mr. Chandler followed with a motion for an executive session. Mr. Pettigrew asked leave to offer a supplementary conference report on the Indian bill. The consent being given, Mr. Hill immediately demanded the full reading of the report. This was an unexpected move for delay, as the report was volumin-The presiding officer, Mr. Faulkner of West Virginia, ruled that Mr. Hill's demand was regular, and directed the clerk to proceed with the reading of the report. Senators Butler, Stewart and Allen interposed a chorus of protests. Mr. Allen said he hoped the senate would not violate every decency and propriety by these obstructive tactics. "What right have you to the floor?"

asked Mr. Hill, sharply, addressing Mr. Allen personally. Then, address-ing the chair, Mr. Hill added, "He has no right to the floor.

"I have, too," declared Mr. Allen.
"I have the right, to speak and I pro-

"Others have rights as well as you," reponded Mr. Hill. The tone of the Senator showed feeling.

Mr. Allen proceeded and said that the obstruction was manifestly aimed at a Populistic measure. 'I am glad it is admitted to be a Populistic measure," interjected Mr. Hill

At this point a heated colloquy occurred between Mr. Hill and Mr. The latter had continued to hold the floor. He spoke with much feeling, saying he had never known the spirit of unanimous agreement of the Senate to be violated, and the Senator who committed such a violation would regret it.

'I would like to know if the Senator refers to me?" said Mr. Hill, rising There was a momentary silence, owing to the suggestive tone of Mr. Hill's inquiry.

"What does the Senator want to know for?" asked Mr. Allen, with equal significance. 'I want to know if reference is made to me," replied Mr. Hill. "I referred to the Senator," said

"Then I desire to say here," answered Mr. Hill, savagely, 'that the statement is false, absolutely false. I have violated no agreement, and my course was sustained by the chair. "The Senator will never be able to convince me," said Mr. Allen, In somewhat subdued tones, "that he was honest in having that report read. "I care nothing about convincing you; I stand on my rights here," said Mr. Hill, contemptuously. The vote was about to be taken when a snarl of parliamentary obstruction was interposed. For an hour roll calls and calls of the Senate obstructed business, a quorum disap-earing on most votes. Mr. Stewart moved that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to request the presence of senators. The motion prevailed and the business of the Senate was suspended while the sergeantat-arms looked up absent senators.

At 4:35, no quorum having ap-peared, Mr. Butler moved to adjourn, saying he would continue the contest tional saengerfest, which begins in to-day. Senate then adjourned.

General Lucius Fairchild Very Sick. doubts of his recovery are entertained. illuminated.

QUAY CALLS ON M'KINLEY Ex-Governor Meets the Senator

With His Family Carriage. CANTON, Ohio, May 23.-United States Senator M. S. Quay of Penn- here yesterday, and made the first of sylvania, accompanied by J. Hay his four speeches to be delivered in Brown of Lancaster, Pa., arrived here Kentucky. The court house was this morning and was met by ex-Gov- filled with representative citizens of ernor McKinley with his family car- Anderson, Spencer, Henry and Shelby Senator Quay declined to talk counties. as to the object of his mission, saying merely that he was paying Mr. Mc-Kinley a friendly visit. The coliseum of Rome was built to accommodate 100,000 spectators.

TWENTY-FIVE ARE DEAD.

The Northeast Kansas Death List incrensing.

SENECA, Kan., May 10 - Fifteen persons were killed and fully fifty injured in this (Nemaha) county by the tornado of Sunday night, while six perished in and about Reserve, in Brown county, and four met death across the State line in Nebraska, This is the death list so far as known definitely at present. Some portions of the route of the tornado have not been thoroughly gone over as yet and the total number of the dead may be increased. Of the dead in this county five are here, six at Oneida and four at or near Sabetha.

The losses from the tornado along its deadly path are placed now at fully $1,000,000 and this may be increased. In this county conservative estimates put the total loss at $700,-000, while at Frankfort it is $100,000 more and at Reserve $150,000. At other points a low estimate makes the losses over $50,000.

The injured are doing well as a rule at all points, but it is almost beyond question that several of them will succumb in a few days. The tornado struck the fair grounds here first and demolished every build-ing. Then it swept through the best part of the town, wrecking the handsome court house and either destroying or damaging greatly over 200 buildings, many of them the best in this place. The citizens have organized and are doing all possible for the homeless, whose losses are placed at rainbow. It has grown even more ag-$100,000, while those who are aiding them have themselves lost $300,000

At Sabetha, Ellen Carey, the child injured by the storm, died yesterday. About forty families are homeless and destitute and about there twenty more families in want. The mayor of that place has issued an appeal for

In all of the country clear across the county the tornado left a well-defined path of ruin, but fortunately in nearly every instance so far as is now known the occupants of farm houses saw the approach of the storm in time to get into places of safety.

THEIR CORPSES FOR SALE.

A Despondent Missouri Couple Try to Contract With a Medical College.

Sr. Joseph, Mo., May 20 .- Allan Wilson and his wife, to whom he had been married but a few days, went to the Central Medical College this morning and offered to sell his body and that of his wife for a small sum. He was well dressed, and his wife, who is 19 years old, is very pretty. He insted on the college officials agreeing to take the bodies, saying that they vould deliver them in a short time.

Dr. Thomas E. Potter tried to dissuade the two from committing suiide and told them that the college had no use for the bodies at this time. The two came here from Harrison county.

The Losses in Nebraska. PRESTON, Neb., May 20. - The storm

here Sunday night did more or less damage, to every building in town. The Bethany Brethren church, four miles southwest, C. Stuhl's house, eight miles southwest, the Pony Creek German Baptist church, the United Prethren church and Jacob Lichty's residence, southwest of here are total

At Falls City about fifty freight cars were overturned and the Bur ington freight house and depot wrecked. The mill was destroyed and the buildngs at Hinton park demolished. Near there the son of J. M. Houcks, Samuel Saylor and wife, Mrs. Shrock and John Smith were killed and William Brannon and wife, J. M. Houcks and wife, Isaac R. Rhoades and two children, William Hinton and wife and daughter, William Smick and a tramp were injured. The farm houses of H. E. Lemmon, J. R. Rhoades, W. R. Kent, Samuel Saylor, Jacob Lichty, Thomas Eakin and William Drugmiller were destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Saylor, Mrs. Schrock and John Smith were in the cellar of the Saylor house when the walls caved in on them, killing them.

Prison Manufacturers Involved.

Columbus, Ohio, May 20 .- W. E. Joseph, chief clerk in the headquarters office here of the Patton Manufacturing Company of the State prison at New Albany, Ind., and of the plant at Muncie, Ind., has been appointed receiver of the company in both places. His bond is $50,000. The assets are not known. Discrimination against falls over the hair and a prince of prison goods labeled by compulsion of | Wales plume gives height at the back. law is said to be the cause of the assignment

A Kiss Thrower Fined.

WICHITA, Kan., May 20 .- On the trial of Mrs. Ashkraft and daughter, Etta, for throwing kisses at J. F Fawcett, tailor, the police judge dismissed the case against the widow, fined the daughter $5 and rebuked the tailor for bringing such a case into Miss Ashkruft pleaded that COBIL she had kissed her hand to Fawcett in a spirit of fun and her fine was remitted during good behavior.

The President's Sacugerfest Promise. PITTSBURG, Pa., May 20. - President | bodice decorated at all at the back, no Cleveland has written to the executive committee of the twenty-eighth na-Pittsburg, June 8, that he will be unable to attend, but will open the Madison, Wis , May 23. - The friends trie button at the White house. A of General Lucius Fairchild are much flag of red, white and blue glass, at a worried over his condition and grave given signal by the President, will be

> Stone Opens 'the Kentucky Campaign. SHELBYVILLE, Ky., May 20.-Governor William J. Stone of Missouri opened the free coinage campaign

> A Prassian Financier at Rest. BERLIN, May 20 .- Herro Ott Campfinance, is dead.

SOME CURRENT TOPICS FOR DAMES AND DAMSELS.

Hats for the Season-Dresses for Little Cirls - New Norfolk Rodice - The Course of True Love-Answers to Correspondents-Notes of the Modes.

OR SEASONS UNtold it has been the custom to buy an extravagant hat for Easter and then settle down to some quiet mode. With most fashion writers "the advance styles are very extravaga n t. but when the season opens more reasonable modes will prevail" has been a stereotyped phrase suitable for the early part of any sea-

All our old theories are now overturned. The Easter hat of this season blinded the eyes with its magnificence. It glittered and glowed until one stood bewildered before it. The Easter season came and went, but the Easter hat remained. It didn't grow quiet; it didn't reform. We wear the same hat to-day. It perches saucily on our heads, thrusting at us the colors of the gressive since it made its debut.

A charming daughter of Eve wears above her bright eyes a rather small hat of rough green straw. Massed above it is a handful of pink roses, falling every way above the crown. until the hat proper is entirely concealed.

Bright red popples cluster above another green hat, while a third has mingling with violets. It is a wonderful combination, but-

IN WOMAN'S CORNER. intersections of lace or of whatever and perhaps more serviceable than any But whether the bodice be plain or other style. As spring approaches trimmed, see to it that you acquire that there is a great change in jackets for graceful polse which insures the sup- little men, and to the ever-ready serge ple curve at the waist. A great deal of it is a matter of carriage. Most women walk in languid, wabbly style, especially swell, and when the lads apwhen the correct position is to keep the body firm at the waist and hips, are always greeted with looks, if not while the steps should be as free as possible.

A fetching Virot trock of glossy black brilliantine is made with a flaring, untrimmed skirt and a dainty bodice as lavishly decorated at the back as in front. The body of the bodice fits perfectly smooth and is cut exceedingly plain. Over the shoulders spreads a sailor collar of heavy patterned gold embroidery, laid over white satin, with narrow ends extending into the deep

There is a wide stock covered with sofe folds of yellow crepe de chene, while a soft scarf of the same stuff drapes gracefully across the front and into two huge buckles placed on the girdle The sleeves are puffed bouffantly at the shoulders and much wrinkled over the lower arm. A smart parasol of yellow crape over yellow satin and a tiny bit of millinery in the shape of a black satin bow on the bright hair complete the toilet .-- Chicago Chronicle.

The Course of True Love.

H. M. M. is deeply in love with a very charming young woman. They have been engaged for about half a year. H. M. M. is fond of a quiet life and thinks that his lady-fair should like the things that he likes. But she has a slightly changeable disposition, as she has been engaged once before Foliage fills in all the available space and broke that engagement. Her friends, however, approved of the course she took. She promised her present intended that she would never break the pledges she made to him. bunches of bright green candytuft But alas for the inconstancy of woman! she writes him that she has learned to love another, and has asked that A hat more worthy of mention is of the affair with H. M. M. be broken off. white rice straw, with crown and brim He is deeply grieved, and while he has edged with tiny forget-me-nots in yel- consented to the severing of the relalow. White tulle is gathered about the tions between them, he insists on rebase of the crown, and forms a fan at serving the right to visit the young pants a blouse or jacket of pique is added. Pink, white and blue are pear in an entire cotume of white they

Little girls, however, have always had the advantage in the matter of dress over their young brothers, for the materials used in their wardrobe are not exceeded in style by that found among their mothers' beautiful things.

of society are made of heavy corded silk, in white or other colors. They are made long and usually with box pleats, which hang from a yoke, and thus give a large sweep at the bottom of skirt.

Spring coats for these embryo queens words, of admiration,

pleated ruffles, makes an exquisite coat for a less fashionably dressed child, while pique and embroidery are very useful for the little one's every day

The smaller the face the larger it seems the ruffles on the poke bonnets of little girls are becoming. Some of the latest of these bonnets are surrounded not only by a deep ruffle of the material which forms the crown, but another of pleated chiffon, and still another of pleated lace. Around the neck a cape is formed by these ruffles, and the bonnet is tied under the little pink chin with wide streamers, which makes a large bow. Bounets are made of lace and soft silk, but grass cloth is also used in many of the simpler ones,

- CONTRACTOR Not Funny to Mrs. Newlywed. Recently as a young couple stepped aboard the train to start for their honeymoon a long box of flowers was handed them. It bore the name of a well-known florist on the cover and was daintily tied up with white satin ribbons. They looked askance at the box. The white bows made it too evidently a wedding favor; and had they not feared to hurt the feelings of some tactless friend by refusing the gift, they would not have taken the box into the car. However, they did take it. Presently the bride decided that it would be better to take the flowers from the box and wear them. Then the pretty little bride, trying hard not to look conscious, held the big box in her lap and and untied the silken fastenings. As she undid the last bow the cover jumped off with a report loud enough to attract the attention of the whole Pullman, and out from a bed of flowers sprang a rosy-cheeked Cupid, stretching his bow ready for a shot. It was a species of jumping jack. To the passengers on the car the joke seemed funny, but the poor little bride broke down in a storm of hysterical tears.

Some Timely Recipes.

Croquettes of fish,-Take one pound of any cold boiled or baked fish; break into small bits; put into a saucepan, with one-half pint of white sauce, a tablespoonful of thick cream, a teaspeonful of anchovy essence, and a little salt and pepper. Set over the fire until hot. Butter a dozen shells and fill with the mixture. Cover the tops with fried bread crumbs, and set in the oven to heat. Serve on a napkin.

Natalle K .- It seems incredible that any girl in her right senses should wish for shadows under the eyes. They are the certain indications of ill health. No, indeed, I cannot advise any simple means of gaining them, unless you do your best to become sick.

About Mourning Dress.

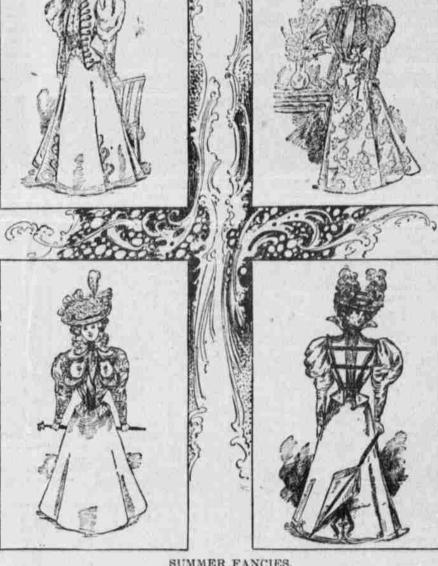

L. B. asks if it is proper to wear surah, gloria or black lace when dressing in mourning? Are small sleeves fashionable again? Answer: Acording to strict rules, none of these materials are mourning goods, but there is so much variety in individual opinion that rigid lines cannot be drawn. French mourning includes lace and many things that our ideas would not approve. If you want to be dressed in a genuine mourning costume, wear only crape and soft, black all wool goods, without figure or much luster. Small sleeves are not fashionable.

Fashion Notes.

Spring millinery is attracting the attention of women of all classes, and one can only wonder who designs all the hats, as there seem to be no two alike. A favorite style has a rather wide brim rolled up at the back and is profusely trimmed with ostrict tips and fans of chiffon.

A stylish hat is of black fancy chip. It is in a modified sailor shape. The back of the brim is rolled up and fastened to the crown. The trimming is of very full plaitings of chiffon in mignonette green and black, the two colors intermixed with sprays of mignonette.

True happiness ne'er entered an eye; true happiness resides in things un-

SUMMER FANCIES.

the back of the hat. An ostrich tip

The damsel who wore this hat wore a jabot of lace at her neck. Instead of being in front it was fastened at the nape of the neck, between two velvet points.-The Latest, in Chicago News,

New Nurfolk Bodice. Generally the back of the gown is left plain and bare, while the front is lavishly decorated, thus bringing all the attractions in one place. Why should not the back of a costume receive as much consideration as the front? Aye. even more, for there's nothing to relieve its plainness. One rarely sees a matter how gorgeous the display in but his desire to be big counteracts front. The Norfolk bodice is a change any complaint he is inclined to make hausen, former y Prussian minister of and an improvement, since it is made on this subject. a bit attractive at the back as well as the front. Why cannot there be sharp fashion, with trimmings of white back to himself. He has made arrangements for a farm, and now fears he will not be able to find a wife in time to take charge of it according to his plans. He wants to know what course is best. Whether to try to win the girl again and go to farming or to give up the farm and take up a profession. Answer: Long years of trial and heart weariness have demonstrated that love is one of those eccentric articles that is always doing just what is not expected of it. One thing is certain, that it is almost useless to try to win back lost love. It is done in books very often, but in real life rarely. The most sensible course is to make up your mind that love that is not freely given will never freely abide. Better find out before marriage that the young lady is fickle than to wake up to it afterward. As to taking up the farm, it appears as though, having a good start, it would be folly to give it up. Why not stick to it and make a success of it? Then you may have the satisfaction of showing this changeable young woman how much better she might have done had she remained faithful to her promises made to you.

woman and try to win her affections

For the Little Ones. As the butterfly emerges from the chrysalis so does the little man of the house when he steps out of his kilts and short socks into the dignified costume of a sailor lad The flapping width of the trousers about the foot has often discouraged the little fellow.

Blueflannel and serge suits in this