A Single Store That Is a City in Itself.

THE BOSTON STORE Stateenth and Douglas, Omaha.

Over a Million Deliars Worth of Goods on Extra Special Sale During Fair Week-Most Wonderful Bargains-Most Wonderful Attractions-A Most Wonderful Brilliant, Dazzling and Gorgoous Electrie illumination Display at Night-This Electrical Display Alone is Worth Coming Milles to See.

The very flist place that Omaha people take their friends to visit is the Boston Store; by alt odds the greatest mercantile concern in the West. The immense crowds which throng the place all day long are in themselves a most interesting sight; but still more interesting, to those who come from out of town, are the Really Wonderful Bargains Which astonish everybody at every turn they make.

Boston Store, therefore, invites you to visit the store early and often-in fact every day of your stay in Omaba. We have fitted up special reception, waiting, reading and tollet rooms in our store for the especial comfort of our out-of-town customers, all absolutely free and without charge of any kind to any body. You can write your letters, meet your friends, wash up and make yourselves generally at home in our visitors' rooms, and we will take care of your eatchels and packages, give you a check for them, all without costing you a cent.

Then when you are ready to do your shopping, we will offer you

A Chain of Bargains So great, so astonishing, so really wonderful that you will hardly be able to realize that you are buying goods; it will seem to you as though they are being given to you as a present. Never, so long as we have been doing business, have our buyers been able to secure so many snaps, so many good values, as they have during the past sixty days. Our immense build-ing, with its four stories and basement, covering a block, is one mass of bargains. In justice to yourself you must visit Boston Store and do your trading and shopping there.

Boston Store practically sells everything. We sell dry goods, silks, satins, velvets, cloaks, jackets, capes, wraps, millinery, boots, shoes, rubber boots, rubber shoes, laces, embroidery, corsets, linens, ribbons, bosiery, blankets, comforts, bed-spreads, tapestry, draperles, fancy goods, carpets, rugs, oil cloth, matting, muslin, sheeting, trunks, vallses, umbrellas, fans, men's furnishing goods, women's underwear, drugs, hats and caps, notions, crockery, glassware, tinware, cutlery, jewelry, candies, teas, coffees and spices, stationery, books and toys and a fine restaurant in basement. BOSTON STORE, 16th and Douglas.

The Atlantic Monthly for September will contain two important articles bearing on the political campaign-one on "The Election of the President" by the historian John B. McMaster, and the other a very striking paper on "The Problem of the West" by Professor Frederick J. Turner, of Wisconsin. He traces the apparent Eastern and Western sectionalism and maintains that the true American is the man of the Middle West. The economic reasons for a divergence of opinion, on the currency question for instance, are so clearly indicated that the article is particularly illuminating as a study of opinion as shown in the present cara-

Iowa farms for sale on crop payments. 10 per cent cash, balance 34 whereabouts. A man in the first rap-crop yearly until paid for. J. MUL- ture of an engagement naturally dis-HALL, Waukegan, Ill.

"What, no more tongue?" asked the talkative matron of an old acquaint-"Why, you used to be very fond "Yes, I know, replied the absent-minded man. "And I like it still "-Washington Times.

If the Baby is Cutting Teetn. Se sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, Mas WESLOW'S SOUTHING STRUP for Children Teething-

A small piece of candle may be made to burn all night by putting finely powdered salt on it until it reaches the black part of the wick. A small, even light may be kept in this way. FITS stopped free and permanently cured. Re fits after first may's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free 2t trial bottle and treatise. Send to Dn. Klins, 801 Arch St., Philadeiphia, Pa.

Old-fashioned brocade makes lovely waistcoats for tailor gowns. Only 116 divorces have been granted in

There are altogether over 113,000,000 women in india.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condi-tion of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, prompt-ly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you pur-chase, that you have the genuine arti-cle, which is manufactured by the Cali-fornia Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists. in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative. one should have the best, and with the

GREATEST SIGHT IN OMAHA, JACK'S LOVE AFFAIR

"Ah," he said, coming to the win-catching the monkey. I expect she misses me now sometimes. You didn't see which way it went, did you?" "No," I said. "Is she addicted to bunting monkeys?" "Only the monkey," he replied.

used to do it once." "Dear me!" I said. "It's fashionable amusement in the neighborhood, then?

"No," he answered mournfully. "I was engaged to that girl once and that beast of a monkey broke the engagement."

"Were you," I asked, "cut out by the monkey, then?"

"A man," he said, "must be very, very young to make a remark like that.'

"Who is she?" I inquired. "Oh, she's Miss Tremaine," he said. "I'll tell you the story, if you like. It will be a warning to you never to get engaged to a girl who keeps a mon-

"At present," I said, "there is no girl better to be prepared for all emer-

"I got engaged to Miss Tremaine," he said, "about three years ago. I met had never seen much of her at home, and I was unaware even of the monkey's existence. As soon as we were was a small monkey of ordinary appearance and was not at first sight prepossessing but in the Tremaine household he was a family fetich. It's curious to notice the dominant influence in different families. Sometimes it's the baby, sometimes the butler, sometimes a first husband's memory and sometimes the daily paper. But in this case Jacko reigned supreme. Captain Tremaine, who was dead, had bought the beast, and it was concerned in a touching deathbed scene or something of the kind. At any rate Mrs. Tremaine regarded it as a sacred relic of the dear deceased, and lavished all her love and affection on it. I well remember the first night I saw Jacko, and discovered the habit that eventually wrecked an engagement. It was a stiffing evening and I suggested to Maud the desirability of opening a window, 'Oh, no,' she said, 'we never can have the windows open in the evening. Jacko would get out.' My first hint of Jacko's habits was enlarged by Mrs. Tremaine's frequent and objectionable intrusions to inquire as to the beast's likes the inrushes of someone else in pursuit of a monkey. The next morning the nuisance increased. A servant came round-they live a few doors him? I found him about lunch time after a long and exciting chase. As tail, and the brute bit me and went on for another half hour. Mrs. Tremaine explained reproachfully that Jacko always bit people who touched his tail.

to be a nuisance at home and abroad.

"For some months Jacko continued

When he escaped, which he managed to do about once a week, I was expected to secure him. This generally happened in the morning, when the windows were open and the tradesmen were calling, and at first on these occasions I did not reach my chambers till the afternoon. Afterward I became quite an adept at catching him. His plan of campaign was to wait until his pursuer was quite close and then jump about twenty yards. I bought a large butterfly net with a long handle, and he never got the hang of that. When I had discovered this invention lively time. Mrs. Tremaine hectored I was comparatively happy, but I waited with dread for the time when Jacko Mrs. Tremaine. Neither of them unshould escape after dark, and I should derstood a word the other said, and I be compelled to hunt for the brute through the watches of the night on the peril of losing the regard of the Tremaine family. Jacko's nomadic habits were, I may explain, attributed to a desire to find his dead master. At last the event that I dreaded occurred. One cold winter's evening Jacko disappeared while the cook was interviewing her favorite policeman at the back door, and got well away. The cook received a month's notice on the spot, and I was at once put on the track of keys. And so it turned out. Both the animal. Mrs. Tremsine was much annoyed because I wished to put my boots on before starting, and even Maud seemed only anxious for the monkey's health. After tramping through three or four miles of streets, I experienced what at first I regarded as unexpected good luck. The brute came tearing round a corner and in a second he was in the butterfly net. 1 was just preparing to return elated | call Jacko softly. They both answered that the run had been so mercifully cut to the name, if there was any food short, when a crowd also came around the corner, headed by an angry and be the other monkey. breathless Italian. I soon discovered the connection of events. The Italian grinder appeared punctually, and a could not speak much English, but I heartrending scene followed. No degathered that he claimed Jacko as his cirion had been come to till the mornmonkey, his carrissimo menkey. The ing of his arrival, and then Mrs. Tregrowd, who had become excited in the maine and Maud differed as to which chase, and who imagined that I was was the real Jacko. The question had attempting to cheat a poor, ignorant to be decided, though it mattered little foreigner out of his only solace in a which we kept. I suggested that we strange land, demanded that I should should toss up. The flippancy of the bours a week learning to a nd mestages

linquish Jacko.

the crowd I lost my temper and a con- I was very much mistaken. No sooner out of the window siderable portion of my clothes, and had he gone than Mrs. Tremaine and Jack Trevor's by the time that a policeman arrived, I Maud became convinced alike that they lodgings, "why that suppose my appearance did justify him had given up the real Jacko. They girl's rushing up in conveying Jacko, the Italian, and said they were now certain of it. Poor the street without me to the police station. There I spent | dear Jacko was sitting on a barrel ora most miserable night. My utmost gan in a cold street and engaged in the entreaties failed to induce the police to degrading occupation of collecting copsend to Mrs. Tremaine to ball me out. pers, and monkeys were liable to condow, "I thought it I think their malevolence was promptmust be she. She's ed by the policeman who had been so think if he were alive? rudely interrupted in his tryst with the cook.

his worship. The Italian and I were ther complications, His affections were charged with creating a disturbance and assaults and breaches of the peace keys, for he consented to an exchange and that kind of thing, and, as far as I for further consideration. Surely, I remember, the police threw a charge thought to myself, Maud and her of drunk against me. His worship mother will be content now. But no, asked to see the monkey, and when the thing began all over again. The they brought him in, to and behold, there were two Jackos,

"After some explanation the magistrate dismissed the charge against us with a caution, on the ground of excusable mistake. And, indeed, it was most excusable. Apparently the Italian had reled and we parted, and I've never really lost his monkey, and whether it was his monkey or Jacko that he had never get engaged to a girl who keeps been pursuing when I encountered it, a monkey." I do not know to this day. At all events, the police had captured the other monkey during the night and had shut the two up together. There they sat, two ugiy, grinning, indistinguishable creatures, both guilty, acof the sort in my mind's eye, but it's cording to the evidence, of aggravated assaults on the police.

"When we were released from the dock the magistrate asked us to remove the monkeys. The Italian and I her at the tennis club and dances and stared at each other blankly. He knew For the sake of round figures we will around the places generally here, but I no more than I which was his property. Of course, it was useless to consult the police about their identity. As the magistrate pointed out, there is no engaged I was introduced to Jacko. He presumption either in law or in fact as to the ownership of two stray monkeys. I appealed to him to decide the question himself, and he pointed out that it was the duty of the police to restore property to its owners. He said that he was not Solomon, but only a police magistrate, and that he doubted whether even the house of lords could throw much light on the subject. The matter, he thought, was eminently one to be settled out of court.

"At first I tried to solve the difficulty by buying out the Italian's claim to either of the monkeys, with the idea of sorting them afterward. But he also, it appeared, had a romantic attachment for his carissimo monkey, and he declined my overtures with fervent appeals to most of the saints on the register. The whole thing, he seemed to think, was a base attempt on the part of a brutal foreign government to trample on the rights of an Italian citizen, and to consign his monkey to the dungeons of the zoo. Then I offered him his choice of the two, and this might have saved all trouble if Mrs. Tremaine had not arrived at that moment to inquire for Jacko, and had not learned the whole affair from a communicative inspector.

"Neither Jacko nor the alleged Jacko showed the faintest signs of recognition. Indeed, they almost at once defrom here-to tell me that Jacko had voted themselves to a sanguinary fight just escaped and would I help to catch in which Mrs. Tremaine intervened with considerable injury to herself. Then she turned to me and I could see seemed obvious, I caught him by the from her manner that she considered me responsible for the whole difficulty.

IN THE BUTTERFLY NET.

For a quarter of an hour I had a really the Italian and the Italian objurgated had to act as interpreter and buffer.

"Eventually, I made the best terms that I could. The Italian agreed, for a consideration, to allow us to keep both monkeys for a week, during which we might discover their identity. Mrs. Tremaine quite readily agreed to the proposal, for she was confident that no amonkey but Jacko could possess Jacko's virtues. I was more doubtful, believing that the virtues were few enough to be common to many monmonkeys made themselves quite at home, overate themselves equally, stole as eleverly, and, what was most remarkable, searched with identical persistence for the deceased Captain Tremaine. Twice that week I had to catch two monkeys, and when they were both in the butterfly net they nearly killed each other. Mrs. Tremaine used to look at them by the hour, and sob, and about, and at other times preferred to

"At the end of the week the organ well-informed everywhore. Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely Maud's face, if the sacred animal spent to recrimination, but at last we agreed made considerable use land gives most general satisfaction. The night in the possession of an unto decide by lot, that being a biblical stor of the key.

trustworthy Italian, rose before my way out of the difficulty and suitable eyes, and I distinctly declined to re- to the occasion. The organ grinder went on his way contentedly and I "In the course of conversation with hoped the affair was at an end. But sumption, and what would dear papa

"I stood this for about ten days and then I went to the Italian again, hav-"In the morning we appeared before ing obtained his address in case of furapparently now extended to both monformer Jacko was their darling and they'd given him up when they'd gotten him safe, and it was by my advice and it was all my fault. Twice more I exchanged those monkeys, and, at last, even my patience falled. We quarspoken to her since. That's why I say

WOULD YOU BELIEVE

That You Can Walk 85,253 Miles an Hour?

Have you ever thought of the distance you travel while you are out on an hour's stroll? Possibly you walk three miles within the hour, but that does not by any means represent the distance you travel. The earth turns on its axis every twenty-four hours. call the earth's circumference 24,000 miles, and so you must have traveled during the hour's stroll 1,000 miles in the axial turn of the earth. But this is not all. The earth makes a journey around the sun every year, and a long but rapid trip it is. The distance of our planet from the sun we will put at 92,-000,000 miles. This is the radius of the earth's orbit-half the diameter of the circle, as we call it. The whole diameter is therefore 184,000,000 miles, and the circumference being the diameter multipfied by 3.1416, is about 578,000,000. This amazing distance the earth travels in its yearly journey, and dividing it by 365 we find the daily speed about 1,586,000. Then, to get the distance you rode around the sun during your hour's walk, divide again by 24, and the result is about 66,000 miles. But this is not the end of your hour's trip. The sun, with its entire brood of planets, is moving in space at the rate of 160,000,000 miles in a year. This is at the rate of a little more than 438,000 miles a day, or 18,250 miles an hour. So, adding your three miles of leg travel to the hour's axial movement of the earth. this to the earth's orbital journey, and that, again, to the earth's excursion with the sun, and you find you have traveled, in the hour, 85,253 miles.

Methodism.

The Methodist church has grown until to-day one out of every fourteen persons, one out of every five Christians, and one out of every three Protestant church members is a Methodist. -Rev. W. J. Thompson, Methodist.

Too True.

"You don't read novels as much as you used to, Mr. Beverly?"

"No, there are so few women in fiction nowadays that are fit to associate with."-Tit-Bits.

tause and Effect. Father-"Why didn't you get your degree?" Wild Student-"Because I was examined.

PEOPLE.

Dr. Walsh, archbishop of Dublin, is regaining his health by riding a bicycle.

Upon the death of a woman whose name is not yet divulged Yale is to receive $750,000. Bernhardt, who talks of playing 'Lorenzo de Medici" in De Mussett's 'Lorenzaccio," may give her own 'Hamlet" this year. Douglas Tilden, the deaf mute sculptor of San Francisco, was married the other day to Miss Bessle Cole, who is also a deaf mute. Rudyard Kipling's greatest ambition is said to be to serve as a war correspondent. The next big war will take him into the field. Miss Mabel Beardsley, a sister of the only Aubrey, has left a place as high school teacher to become an actress.

She recently made her debut in London as Edith in "Dearest Mama." John Jacob Astor denies that he intends building a theater "at which only first-class plays should be presented." He is not thinking of investing his money in such enterprises. Verdi tries hard to hide from the world the very fact that he is writing a new opera, and some precautions he took recently have led many to suppose ie is at work on a "final" work. A lady has been appointed a registrar of births, marriages and deaths by the guardians of the city of London. Miss Kemm, the lady in question, has for some time acted as assistant to bar father.

A Portland man has in his possession an interesting and valuable relic. It is an act passed by the Continental congress establishing a pay table for the Continental officers, signed by John

Hancock, president. Emperor William's latest fad ta telegraphy, and he is spending several give the monkey up. The vision of suggestion annoyed them and led them by dots and dashes. He has already Maud's face, if the sacred animal spent | to recrimination, but at last we agreed | made considerable progress as an open

Sun Cure For Women.

Its "sun cure," which is rather herowhat a prominent physician recom- of the Armenians by the Turka. bath is better than nothing," he says, "but having made up your mind to try the sun cure, do it with a will. Walk Turk.

ever possible let the sun rest on your or of the health-giving currents, and when you take your sun bath let it hang loose in the brightest rays you can find. Do as the ancient Grecian women did; Lie in the sunshine with your hair spread loosely over your pleasant dryness which always follows winter weather and furnace or steam heat will disappear, and it will grow glossy and strong again.

A New Hiluminant.

A London correspondent of the Manchester Courier publishes a remarkable account of a new illuminant, which, if all that is said of it is true, will push both gas and electric light very hard. For its production no machinery is required save that contained in a portable lamp neither larger nor heavier than is used with coal oil or paraffin. This lamp, it is declared, generates its own gas. The substance employed is at present a secret, jealously guarded by some inventive Italians. The cost is declared to be at most only one-fifth of that of ordinary gas, and the re-sultant light is nearly as bright as electric light and much whiter. A single lamp floods a large room with The apparatus can be carried around nearly as easily as a candlestick and seems both clean and odor-

A Billion of Coins.

To gain an idea of a billion of coins place a $5 gold piece upon the ground and pile upon it as many as will reach twenty feet in height. Then place numbers of single columns in close contact, forming a straight line and making a sort of wall twenty feet high, showing only the thin edges of the coin. Imagine two such walls running parallel to each other and forming a long street. It would be necessary to keep on extending these walls for miles-nay, hundreds of miles-and atill be far short of the required number, and not until we had extended our imaginative street to a distance of 2,286% miles that we shall have presented for inspection a billion of coins.

The Songs Did It.

It is now asserted that Moody and ic treatment in this kind of weather, is Sankey's hymns caused the persecution mends for women who spend most of ward, Christian Soidiers," read in the their time indoors. "A window sun Turkish language, breatis a martial spirit and is apt to be taken in a literal sense as an exhortation to fight the It is suggested as a possible the sunny side of the street, choose the explanation of the charges against supny side of the street cars and trains | Prof. Troumaian that what was supand sit, stand, walk or lie in the sun posed to be his revolutionary language at all possible times and seasons. If was the quotation of some such hymn. you can get only one hand or foot in The revivalists and the sweet singer the sunshine, do that much, and when- in Israel should be sent to Yildiz Kionk to explain that they sing in a Pick-The hair is a wonderful conduct- wickian sense. - Literary Digest.

How to Grow 40c Wheat.

Salzer's Fall Seed Catalogue tella rou. It's worth thousands to the wideawake farmer. Send 4-cent stamp for catalogue and free samples of face, and it will show you the effects grains and grasses for fail sowing. of this treatment directly. The un- John A. Salzer Seed Co., LaCrosse. Wis.

> McClure's Magazine for September will contain a paper on Dr. W. T. G. Morton, the discoverer of anesthesis, by his wife. Dr. Morton's discovery established painless surgery, and Mrs. Morton's paper is the intimate personal history of a heroic battle for a new idea. It has special interest at this time, because in October there is to be a public jubilee in honor of Dr. Morton's priceless service to humanity. paper will be fully illustrated. McClure, & Co., New York.

Hegeman's Camphor Ice with Giveerine. Chapped Hands and Face, Tender or Sore Foot ins, Piles, &c. C. G. Chark Co., New Haven, O.

Constant thought will overflow in words unconsciously,-Byron,

She's just "poll parroting."
There's no prettiness in pills, except on the theory of "pretty is that pretty does." In that case she's right.

Ayer's Pills

do cure bilionsness, constipation, and all liver troubles.

> The Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina

"BATTLE AX" is the most tobacco, of the best quality, for the least money. Large quantities reduce the cost of manufacture, the result going to the consumer in the shape of a larger piece, for less money, than was ever before possible.

が表現を明されるからいるのではでいたい。 Pullを記されるいというないというでは、 Pullを記されるいというないというできない。

You Know Columbias

You think you'll save a few dollars at the start in cheaper bicycle buying-perhaps you get what you pay for, but you don't get a hundred dollars' worth-the real value is in the cost at the end of the year-the best costs less, lasts longer, doesn't bother you while it lasts-certainty is always worth its price.

Columbia Catalogue, free at our agencies-by mail for two 2-cent stamps.

Pope Manufacturing Co., Hartford, Conn.