CARTER GETS IN LINE.

The Montana Senator Urges His Constituents to Stand by McKinley. HELENA, Mont., Sept. 10.—United States Senator Carter has written a letter to the Republican State convention, which meets to-day, explaining the action of himself and the four other members of the Montana delegation to the St. Louis convention in reserving the right of the Republicans of the State to accept or reject the financial declaration of the platform there adopted. The Senator says in the letter:

"As a Republican I believe in the free coinage of silver and protection to American labor and American industry. I do not believe in free coinage coupled with free trade, and I do not believe that free coinage, coupled with free trade, can be successfully established and maintained by our government. The free trade policy will render the establishment of bimetalism an utter impossibility. The attempt to secure free coinage in conjunction with free trade is a Utopian dream. After looking the whole situation over, it will be found that the Republican party has not declared in favor of the gold standard, but in favor of the restoration of silver. I find in this particular that it differs from the opposition platform in the matter of method.

"I believe that the Republican party in this behalf is too conservative, but as between the acceptance of the Republican party, with its conservative expression on this subject, and the Chicago platform, with its free trade, State's rights, free riot and other objectionable features, I find no room to hesitate. I believe it is the clear and unquestionable duty of the delegates who assemble under and in conformity with the forms and usages of the Republican party of this State, and as delegates representative of other people who reside here, to place in the field electors favorable to McKinley and Hobart. The party in Montana should, in my opinion, endorse the entire Republican platform, except as to the feature declaring international condition precedent to the remonetization of silver. For that declaration this convention should substitute a declaration for the free coinage of gold and silver, in the same manner as our state conventions have heretofore declared.

"In the future, as in the past, I shall stand for protection and free coinage. Firmly believing that the best interests of our state and the nation at large will be subserved by the election of McKinley and Hobart, I shall give them my support, notwithstanding the national platform does not meet my approval in one particular.

TALKED TO EDITORS. McKinley Greeted the Men of the Press. CANTON, Ohio, Sept. 9.—The Republican Editorial Association assembled in Elks' hall at 10:30 yesterday morning. The venerable John Hopely of Bucyrus was in the chair, with Colonel R. B. Brown of the Zanesville Courier, vice president, and C. B. McCoy of Coshocton, secretary. An able paper on the financial question was read by H. P. Boyden of the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune. The feature of the afternoon session was an address by Hon. Charles Emory Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press, and ex-minister to Russia. Mr. Smith spoke on "The Campaign of Education."

After the address of Mr. Smith, the association marched in a body to the McKinley home. The editors were joined by a number of Cantonians and the party which cheered Major McKinley when he appeared on the porch numbered several hundred.

Major McKinley responded in part as follows: "Fortunately, in this contest, the Republican party is not alone in its support of the Republican cause. Conservative men of all parties stand with it. It numbers among its strongest allies many of the most powerful Democratic newspapers East and West, which are doing yeoman services for patriotism and national honor. They are welcome, thrice welcome, and the country owes them a debt of gratitude for their unflinching loyalty, as against party, for sound sense and for public opinion."

"This is a year, gentlemen, of political contention, without bitterness. Intelligence and investigation are taking the place of passion and partyism. Party prejudice cuts little figure in a crisis like this. We must not indulge aspersion or crimination against those who may have differed from us in the past, but who are now with us in patriotic effort to preserve the good faith of the country and enforce public and private honesty. (Applause.) We must not drive anybody out of camp, but welcome everybody in."

CAN PLOW ON SUNDAY. An Illinois Court Gravely Decides That It Is No Breach of the Peace. MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Sept. 10.—The Appellate court of the Fourth district has decided that plowing on Sunday in sight of church-goers does not in itself constitute a disturbance of the peace. In construing section 261, which relates to disturbing the peace by labor on Sunday, under which Mr. Foll, a Seventh Day Adventist, was arrested, the court holds that this section does not prohibit work or amusement on Sunday, but prohibits only such conduct as disturbs the peace and good order of society. The defendant being a Seventh Day Adventist, observed Saturday as the Sabbath and plowed on Sunday, and was arrested and conviction resulted. The case was appealed to the Appellate court, with the above result.

THOUSANDS AT CANTON.

DEMOCRATIC COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS VISIT M'KINLEY.

THEY CAME FROM CHICAGO

From Eight to Ten Thousand People From Pennsylvania Also Came—The Steel Workers of the Carnegie Homestead Mills Turn Out in Great Force—Railway Employees on Hand.

CANTON, Ohio, Sept. 14.—Two trains bearing the Commercial Democratic McKinley club of Chicago arrived here this morning to call on Major McKinley. They were met at the station by the Canton Commercial Travelers' escort and the Canton troop. Heading the party were President G. Hoffstead, Chief Marshal Frank Higbee, First Vice President E. Dodd, Second Vice President John Devlin, Third Vice President W. E. Grafton, Secretary Harry R. Levy and Treasurer A. F. Oiger and Brooks' Second Regiment band of Chicago. Marshal Field and Company, the J. V. Farwell Company and Carson Pirie, Scott & Company were represented. These and the band occupied the first section, numbering over 400. The second train carried about 600 more. They were escorted to hotels for breakfast and prepared to call on McKinley at 11 o'clock. As they paraded past Mother Nancy Allison McKinley's home they cheered and cheered again, the venerable woman, 87 years old, bowing her acknowledgements from the front stoop, where she usually spends an hour in the morning.

Thousands of people joined the Democratic Chicagoans at the McKinley home at 11 o'clock. As Major McKinley appeared on the doorstep of his house, Chief Marshal Frank Higbee introduced President Hoffstead, who spoke briefly but strongly for the club, explaining why its members had left their old party this year.

Following closely upon the call of the Chicago commercial men, came the beginning of Pennsylvania's delegation. It surpassed in size, noise and enthusiasm all of its predecessors. The first division was the steel workers of the Carnegie mills at Homestead, in a special train of three sections, aggregating thirty-three coaches each packed to the platform. A parade was organized at once. The men marched four abreast, and as the last were falling into line at the depot the first were almost at the McKinley residence, over half a mile away. Cheers from thousands all along the line mingled with the music of a dozen or more bands. Every department of the big Carnegie steel works was represented in the parade, presided over by Chief Marshal Schwab. J. Molanthy, a workman in the mills was the spokesman.

As Molanthy was speaking, the trains at the depot poured out a new and steady stream, composed of Pennsylvania company employees and the McKeesport, Pa., McKinley and Hobart clubs, who came on special trains run in sections. The railroad company estimated that from Eastern Pennsylvania this morning 5,000 to 10,000 people would be carried to Canton.

AS VIEWED IN ENGLAND. No Reason to Show Interest in Either American Candidate. LONDON, Sept. 14.—The St. James' Gazette, commenting on the rise in the bank rate and causes of the outflow of gold, says: "At any rate, it is the American who dominates the financial situation, and he is likely to continue to do so until the election in November and afterwards. As regards the prospects of the election, most Englishmen assume confidently that McKinley will be elected and he probably will be, although it seems to us undesirable to speculate too freely on the elections in a country where public opinion is so easily irritated by anything in the nature of English patronage or criticism. Englishmen have no particular reason to regard with affection a party leader whose platform includes a virulent denunciation of England and the open threat that English debts will be paid in depreciated currency. On the other hand, there is no occasion why they should enthuse over a statesman whose chief political achievement has been to raise Chinese wall industries around American industries in order to maim and penalize the British exporter. Besides, it would do no good in the long run. If McKinley is supposed to have won with the help of English gold and influences, the reaction will be all the more intense when Bryan comes in, as is not improbable, in 1900, even though beaten in November. The object of all Englishmen is to be good friends with the people of the United States, if the pestilential activity of the politicians who misrepresent that people will only allow it, and this end is not likely to be facilitated by too violent partisanship."

A CRISIS REACHED.

Powers Discussing the Deposition of the Sultan of Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—There is no doubt that a crisis of extreme gravity has been reached in this nation and there is reason to believe that the powers are discussing the deposition of the sultan, that being, apparently, the only means of restoring quiet and confidence. A British fleet of about fifteen warships is off the island of Thasos within easy striking distance, and it is believed that Great Britain will not hesitate to act alone in the matter of putting an end to the present state of affairs, if the other powers delay too long. The extraordinary tribunal which has been trying the man accused of massacring Armenians in the streets of this city and its suburbs, has turned out to be nothing more than a whitewashing court. The full text of the note which the representatives of the powers sent to the sultan August 31 has only just been communicated to the press. It declares that the bands which murdered the Armenians and pillaged their homes were not accidental gatherings of fanatical people, but that there is every indication of their special organization and that it was known to, if not directed by, the authorities. The note, under seven specific clauses, gives evidence in support and concludes with a demand that the instigators and principals be punished with the utmost rigor. The Turkish government answered the note of the powers in a long communication in which the ministry practically denied the testimony of the representatives of the powers and this is now, with good reason, regarded as tantamount to a defiance of Europe.

As usual, the porte is relying upon the jealousies existing among the six powers, and as Abdul Hamid has so frequently escaped punishment, he has grounds for believing that even now Europe will not intervene.

DR. DEARBORN KNIFED. Attempt to Assassinate the Ex-Missouri State President of the A. P. A. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 14.—An unknown man made an attempt last night to assassinate the Rev. John A. Dearborn, ex-president of the American Protective Association for Missouri. The assault took place at the center of an alley on the west side of Michigan avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets. Dr. Dearborn was stabbed three times and struck over the right eye with a heavy blunt instrument. His injuries are serious, but it is not likely that he will die.

Dr. Dearborn is a minister of the Christian church, but for a number of years has been more prominent as a supporter of A. P. A. doctrines, of which organization he was state president until about three months ago. His attacks on the Catholic church have been radical and bitter, and he aroused fierce resentment from members of that church during his lectures throughout the country. His family and friends did not hesitate in saying to-day that the attempt upon his life last night was made by the enemies of himself and the order which he represents. Two former attempts have been made on the life of Dr. Dearborn as he was on his way home from A. P. A. meetings.

It is the maintenance of the country's honor and the preservation of the integrity of Democratic principles on whose perpetuity depends the survival of our institutions.
