Of Interest to Women. Because in This Case They Proceeded From an Allment Peculiar to the Sex.

From the Herald Democrat, Huron, S. D. A few years since, J. W. Kelley came to Huron, South Dakota, from Osceola, Iowa, and purchased an interest in the Huron City Mill, an immense structure, having a capacity of 200 barrels of flour per day.

Soon after his arrival Mr. Kelley's family removed here and some months later they were joined by their son Elmer and family, who had purchased an interest in the concern, and the firm became known as J. W. Kelley & Son. Since their arrival they have built up an immense trade for their patent roller flour, and ship many carloads every month to eastern and other markets.

When they came to Huron, Mrs. Kelley was in very delicate health and the change of climate and conditions seemed to benefit her. But the relief proved only temporary, however, for after a few months residence here she lapsed into the same in- firm physical condition that had been her lot for then nearly twenty years.

"Mrs. Kelley is indeed a true mother in Israel; she is conscientious and earnest, faithful and devoted—a Christian in the truest sense of the term." In replying to inquiries touching her case Mrs. Kelley said: "I am sixty years of age, and was born in New York state, where I lived for fourteen years, then removed with my parents to Michigan, living there about the same number of years, then went to Iowa, remaining there till we came here four years ago or more. I have been troubled with weaknesses peculiar to my sex for the past twenty-five years.

"About a year ago my son read in some newspaper an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and urged me to try them. I hesitated because I had tried so many patent medicines without securing the much sought relief for the past twenty-five years. But he insisted so strongly that I finally decided to give them a trial.

"To affect the adoption of an amendment to the constitution of this state it must receive more than one-half the highest number of votes cast at such general election, whether such highest number be for the filling of an office or for the adoption of a proposition."

"Relics of the War Missing." Some time ago ex-Gov. Furnas was at the state house, and while visiting in the rooms of the adjutant general of the Nebraska national guard expressed surprise that the flags, guidons and other relics of the Second Nebraska and the four companies of the Curtis Horse were not in the state house.

"A Sensational Land Case." Dakota City dispatch: Attorney William P. Warner of this place today received notice of a decision handed down by Judge W. H. Mauger of the circuit court of the United States for the district of Nebraska, in the much litigated and strongly contested land case of Leon Grezard et al. vs. John M. Severson et al., in which the court finds for the complainants, which side Attorney Warner, in conjunction with Lahr, Gardner & Lahr of Sioux City, represented.

"The Trans-Mississippi Exposition." Washington special to Omaha Bee: Senator Allen had a conversation with Speaker Reed today relative to the two resolutions now pending in the house regarding the Omaha Exposition, and the speaker consented to allow them to be considered early in the week.

"Chinese at the Exposition." Arrangements have been completed for a valuable addition to the exhibits of the Trans-Mississippi exposition. It will be high grade Chinese exhibit and will occupy a separate building with a floor area of 5,000 square feet and fifty feet in height.

"Trio of Horse Thieves Captured." Barwell dispatch: Gust Gutten, Paul Rummie and M. Trewwler, the men who stole two horses from the barn of Nels Peterson, a prominent stock grower in the eastern part of the county last Friday night, were handed back by Sheriff Henschel this afternoon. The thieves were trailed and captured by Peterson twelve miles north of Neligh. For over forty miles Peterson was guided on by the trail. The horses were taken Friday night. Peterson started Saturday morning and the thieves were jailed Sunday morning.

COURT PASSES UPON THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The State's Judicial Tribunal Declares that They Were Not Adopted—A Majority of All the Votes Required—Only Three Judges.

The Constitutional Amendment.

The supreme court has decided that the constitutional amendment increasing the number of judges of the court from three to five was not adopted at the election last fall. This decision was handed down Thursday before the court adjourned for the sitting. The question was raised in a banking case by Johnson county and the court has passed upon it, holding that a majority of all votes cast at the election on any proposition is necessary for adoption of a constitutional amendment.

The court rendered practically the same opinion in the suit instituted by W. J. Bryan to prevent the city of Lincoln from issuing gold bonds. The question of adoption of the constitutional amendment was raised by attorneys in the case of the Teumseh National Bank vs. Anna R. Saunders, error from Johnson county, on a motion for a rehearing. The attorneys gave several reasons for asking a rehearing. One reason was that the case was reversed by the action of two judges, Chief Justice Post and Judge Harrison joining in an opinion for reversal and Judge Norval for affirmation.

The court has overruled the motion for a rehearing. Commissioner Ryan writes in the opinion, Judge Norval dissents, but concurs in that part of the opinion relating to the constitutional question. All members of the court and the commissioners concur in that part of the decision and in Judge Norval's opinion so far as it relates to the constitutional question.

The syllabus of Commissioner Ryan's opinion is as follows: "A rehearing will not be granted when it is clear that no other conclusion than that already reached, is possible."

"A proposition to amend the constitution of this state can only be submitted at a general election at which there is elected senators and representatives."

"To affect the adoption of an amendment to the constitution of this state it must receive more than one-half the highest number of votes cast at such general election, whether such highest number be for the filling of an office or for the adoption of a proposition."

"Relics of the War Missing." Some time ago ex-Gov. Furnas was at the state house, and while visiting in the rooms of the adjutant general of the Nebraska national guard expressed surprise that the flags, guidons and other relics of the Second Nebraska and the four companies of the Curtis Horse were not in the state house. The Curtis Horse was made up from Nebraska men, but was consolidated with the Fifth Iowa cavalry. The relics of the First Nebraska are at the office of the adjutant general, but whereabouts of the others are unknown. Gen. Barry wrote to Mr. Furnas about the matter, and has received a reply which says: "My dear General: Referring to yours of May 23, when I left the office of governor, all the war relics of the Second Nebraska cavalry were in the capitol building. What has become of them I know not. I have not one of them, nor do I know who has. As I said when in your office, I was surprised to find none of them in there. I advise that you advertise for them, asking that they be sent to you for preservation. It is important. All I can do to that end will be done willingly and cheerfully. Hoping that you may succeed in obtaining these relics for the state archives, I am, as ever, Yours very truly, ROBT. W. FURNAS."

"May Establish an Indian School." Senator Allen was recently in Omaha, and having been asked what would probably be done with the old Fort Omaha reservation, the senator said that he had had this subject in mind for some time and he had a suggestion which he thought might solve the problem to the eminent satisfaction of the government, the state of Nebraska and especially the people of Omaha. His plan is that the site be used for an Indian school. The interior department has decided to recommend that another Indian school be established to meet a positive necessity for the accommodation of about 500 pupils and Senator Allen is sure that the Fort Omaha reservation will so perfectly serve the purpose that he proposes soon to introduce a bill providing that the school be established there. It is thought that some of the buildings now on the site can be remodeled so as to be made suitable for the purpose without great expense.

"Morgan Must Hang." The judgment of the Douglas county court and death sentence in the case of the state vs. George W. Morgan has been affirmed by the supreme court. The date of execution is fixed October 8. Morgan, it will be remembered, was convicted of ravishing and afterward choking to death, little Ida Gaskell.

"State Fair Outlook." Secretary Furnas told a newspaper reporter that the prospects for a large attendance and a profitable exhibit at the state fair this year were excellent. So far the applications for space had been unusually numerous. The farmers throughout the state were looking forward to a large crop this year and were enjoying more prosperity than for several years back. He considered it an assured fact that they would turn out in large numbers to the fair and would swell the attendance last year over 20 per cent.

RAILROAD PROJECT.

O'Neill Will Back Up McLean's Railroad Scheme.

O'Neill dispatch: Donald McLean, the great railroad promoter, was in O'Neill tonight and met the citizens of this place at the court house and briefly outlined his plans for a new line from Ponca, on the Missouri river, to Los Angeles, Cal., by way of O'Neill. The meeting was very well attended and enthusiastic speeches were made by many of the citizens. A letter from Mr. Cheevey of Creighton was read and enthusiastically received, stating that his city and community were heartily in favor of the enterprise and would lend their assistance in every way possible. A committee, consisting of Mayor Gillespie, M. F. Harrington, O. O. Snyder, J. A. McCafferty, J. P. Mann and John McHugh, was appointed to act jointly with like committees selected by other towns along the new route in promoting the enterprise. The sense of the people here was expressed in the following resolution: "Resolved, That the city of O'Neill and surrounding country are in full sympathy with the proposed new route and are willing to render any assistance within the range of their ability to aid the enterprise."

The Bartley Case.

Omaha dispatch: The battle in the Bartley case this afternoon eventually resulted in a victory for the state, in that the ledger, which was the bone of contention, was all read to be introduced in evidence. By this ledger it was shown that the money was deposited to Bartley's credit, and that at the time the money was so deposited Bartley had no personal account at the bank, but did have an account as state treasurer. In passing upon the objection to the introduction of the book, Judge Baker's ruling was to the effect that it was good as secondary evidence, it having been shown that the state is not in possession of Bartley's checks, which would have been the best evidence. The books showed also that Bartley's account as treasurer was open at the time of the deposit of the proceeds of the warrant to Bartley's personal account. Attorney Mahoney cross-examined book-keeper Adair and elicited the fact that the entry of Bartley's name and the characterizing of the account as a "personal" account was made prior to April 10, 1895, and that prior to that date Bartley did have a personal account at the bank, though it did not contain a balance to his credit, as shown by witnesses' statements on redirect examination.

"Soldiers March Against Time." Valentine dispatch: In conformity with an official order issued by Colonel Andrews, commanding Fort Niobrara, detachments, consisting of one officer and thirty-five picked men from each company of the Twelfth infantry, marched this morning from the flag-staff at Fort Niobrara to and around the Grand Army of the Republic flag-staff here and back to the point of starting in a contest. The detachments started ten minutes apart, marched over a heavy, sandy road most of the way, and in coming this way faced a thirty-mile wind. Company D, Lieutenant Cochu, won in one hour, twenty-three minutes and fifty-four seconds. They carried rifles and ammunition, but no other accouterments. The contest was ordered to demonstrate what might be done on a forced march, and as one of the means employed by Colonel Andrews in keeping his regiment in physical condition for active service at any time. The contest excited great interest here, as well as at Fort Niobrara.

A Wax Spring.

"I believe that Utah will one day produce more mineral wealth than any state in the entire country," remarked a gentleman who had at one time made a tour of the country.

"When I was in the then territory, I made a prospecting trip into the Utah reservation, located in the northeastern corner of the state. During the trip my self and partner came upon one of the most remarkable curiosities in the west, a spring of mineral wax.

Enough had bubbled out upon the surface of the ground to have satisfied the demand for ten years. It was then worth $4 a pound, and was used for the insulation of electric wires, yet there was enough in sight at half the price to have made us two rich for life, if we could have carried it to market.

Two things stood in the way—the mandate of the government and the difficulty of transporting the stuff overland some several hundred miles into Provo. One of these days the reservation will be turned into the public domain and the wealth it contains will flow into somebody's pockets. As it is now, not a soul is permitted to trouble a single one of its resources. Well, we passed on and left the spring with a sigh that might have been heard at Frisco."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Any such Furnaces. "Furnace" is a geographical name not unusual in the Atlantic coast region just below Mason and Dixon's line. In many instances the actual furnace is a mere tradition, but sixty or seventy years ago many such furnaces were built to smelt the bog-iron ore usual in all that region. It was once profitable to smelt this ore, but the marvelous abundance and cheapness of iron deposits elsewhere have made it impossible to carry on the old furnaces.

Long Reign in France. While the reign of Victoria has been longer than that of any of her predecessors on the English throne, there have been monarchs who have surpassed even her phenomenal record.

Louis XIV. of France reigned for seventy-two years and Louis XV., his successor and grandson, held the throne for fifty-nine years. Thus two successive monarchs reigned for the extraordinary period of 131 years.

Tit for Tat. They are telling this story of how Prince Bismarck came to choose Dr. Schweninger for his personal physician: At their first interview the prince lost his temper and growled, "Don't ask so many questions," to which Schweninger replied, "What you need is a horse doctor; he asks no questions." Whereupon Bismarck scowled and presently tugged at the bell. The doctor was in doubt as to whether he was not to be shown out into the street. But the command was, "Fetch the doctor's things from the station."—New York Tribune.
