S. B. Libby, D. K. Spacht, W.
M. Iodence, J. W. Baumgardner,

The people of this state are fortunate in that the most direct route by which they can reach the great exposition is one justly famed for the excellence of its equipment and service, the courtesy of its officials and employes, and the attractiveness of the country through which it passes.
We refer to the Burlington Route.

County Clerk Phelps went to Lincoln Saturday night to meet Mrs. Phelps who has been visiting in California for several months. They arrived Tuesday morning and are now domiciled at the Pinkerton. They will begin housekeeping soon in the Brandser house on Wyoming avenue.

gaged as teacher in the Hemingnot been hired yet but we understand the board has decided upon a gentleman if he will accept the position at the salary offered. There were about a dozen applications for each position.

tion convened at the Court house for the ensuing two years.

The Hemingford Creamery.

From the Up-to-Date Farmer.

The opening of the creamery separator station at Hemingford, Neb., on the 29th ult., was attended with more interest and display of enthusiasm than any enterprise of the nature ever witnessed. A member of the Up-to-Date Farmer staff was present and could not help but observe the determination and interest with which the residents of Box Butte county displayed. Such demonstrations prove that they welcome such a market for their produce and gives every assurance to the promoters that the institution will be a success. There is nothing that leads encouragement and confidence in success of these creamery enterprises more than to see the people of each community extend a welcome hand and a desire to assist and patronize them. Such was displayed by the good people of Hemingford and that station goes on record as the best one in the West, and already the town has been brought into prominence from New York and Chicago creamery journals as well as the press in our own state.

Besides the representative of this journal, Prof. A. L. Haecker and Dr. A. T. Peters of the State University, and W. W. Marple, general agent of the Beatrice Creamery Co., were present from Lincoln. As early as 7 o'clock in the morning farmers began coming in with their milk, and the machinery was set in motion and despite all was entirely new, everything run as smooth and to the delight of the operators. The little Alpha No. 1 separator was put to a severe test, but it did not seem to tire. Wagons kept coming up to the platform and stood in line six and eight deep all morning, and it was near 2 p. m. when the last can had been unloaded and weighed. The totals were figured up and 11,470 pounds of milk it showed had been delivered, which is said to be a record breaker.

Everybody then repaired to dinner and from there to the grounds arranged for a good time. A splendid parade had been arranged, and headed by the excellent band of twenty pieces, the procession marched through the streets to the grounds where seats and shade had been prepared.
The afternoon was passed pleasantly with dairy and farm talk from Messrs. Haecker, Peters and Marple interspersed with music both vocal and instrumental and it was late in the afternoon before the exercises closed, and the people seemed to have appreciated the day which will go down in history to the little town as a great event, while the visitors were loud in expressing themselves as enjoying the hospitality and interest displayed. Hemingford is the making of an excellent trading point if her people lend such an encouragement to the enterprises seeking entrance to the little city, and deserves all she gets.

In conclusion the Up-to-Date Farmer would like other towns to take a note of the success of this station and draw therefrom an object-lesson. Let your prejudices be buried and smothered and lend the glad and welcome hand and assistance to make every enterprise a success. Here an avenue was opened enabling farmers of this county to dispose of one principal product, for cash, heretofore bartered away at any old price, reducing the hard labor of the good wife on the farm and giving greater returns. It might be well to add also that this station is improving right along and since the opening day has gained something over fifty new patrons and is now receiving over 14,000 pounds of milk daily. So great are the receipts that it has become necessary to add a second separator to properly take care of the milk without delay to the patrons.

On the opening day there were eighty-eight patrons who delivered milk, and 330 pounds was the largest amount delivered by any one patron. From the 11,470 pounds of milk received over 1,100 pounds of cream was separated which means that something near sixty dollars a day will be paid to the patrons of the creamery or about $1,500 a month. Is such an enterprise a benefit or a detriment to the residents of the town and county? Who will say nay? Here's our regards to the people of Box Butte county.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT.

The Following Circular Letter Put Out by State Sup't.
Jackson Will Be of Interest to All Who Are Interested in Nebraska Schools.

Lincoln, Neb., July, 29, 1898.
To Nebraska School People.

Many have experienced difficulty in locating the Nebraska Educational Exhibit at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition; hence this circular.

This exhibit is to be found in the GALLERY of the MANUFACT-URES building. Some visit our EDUCATIONAL HEADQUARTERS in the Nebraska building and fail to find the exhibit, not knowing that it is put in another building.

The exhibit occupies some fifteen thousand square feet of floor space, and comprises all grades of school work from the kindergarten up through the State University, and is pronounced by leading educators of other states as one of the finest educational exhibits they have ever seen. The New England Journal of Education, published at Boston and Chicago, in its issue of July 14th, makes the following comment: "The educational exhibit of Nebraska at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition, Omaha, is one of the best, if not literally the best, ever made in the United States." Great credit it is due to the thousands of educators and pupils of the Nebraska schools who so faithfully co-operated with us in making the exhibit a success.

While we all are proud the Nebraska has the lowest percent of illiteracy, we feel that this exhibit is right in keeping with the high standing our sta-has attained.

The work is neatly arrange and tastefully decorated. Visitors can find seats where they can rest and examine the work. You can stand up for Nebraska perhaps in no better way than by taking your friends with you to see this exhibit, which no doubt is as fine an educational exhibit as was ever put up by any state. W. R. JACKSON, Sup't. Nebraska Educational Exhibit.
