HEAR IT TICK!

A loud ticking watch is not always the best timer. Usually, the stronger the tick, the greater the need of attention. The tick of a good watch in good condition is quite modest; in fact can scarcely be heard. The man who is always putting his watch to his ear to hear if it still ticks, is helping his ticker tick its life away. Don't wait for your watch to stop ticking. Save time, money, worry, and your watch, by prevention. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is watch care. Have it cleaned and oiled regularly, every year. I warrant all work done warrants don't want. Mine does.

He will fence it and stock it with cattle for Mr. Pershall, who has gone in partnership with him, and will have supervision. As Mr. Pershall had a half section of land, this will give him a fine stock farm. Mr. Pershall wants to buy a number of young cows, for which he will pay cash, and parties who have that class of cattle to sell will do well to see him.

Weather cold since last writing. I will not attempt any prediction on the weather until I hear from the Ground hog, who is booked to appear Friday.

G. A. Griffith has trapped five coyotes and Jessie Donnel two during the winter.

Have you noticed that the days have lengthened forty-five minutes during January.

January came in like a lion, was like a lamb during the middle, seems like he would go out with a roar.

The teacher and pupils at Riverside will put on airs, as the school furniture is on hand and will be put in place shortly.

The woman's suffrage meeting last Saturday night was a failure, whether the inclement weather was the cause we are unable to say.

Held Up.
Tuesday night as Chas. E. Rector of Green was on his way home from Broken Bow was held up by a man, when out about four miles from town and relieved of his money. The man was stationed on the brow of the "hog back" and just as Mr. Rector reached the top he drew a gun on him and demanded his money. He pulled 500 and handed it to him when he permitted him to move on. The robber had a handkerchief tied over his face for a mask; it was about six in the evening.

W. T. Stephens of South Omaha, bought 55 mules and horses here the first of the week. A large number of horses that were offered he would not buy because they were too thin in flesh. He paid as high as 187.50 for one span of mules, the horses averaged him about $55.

Tongues of the Cat Family.
The tongues of the cat family are covered with recurving spines. In the common domestic cat these are small, but sufficiently well developed to give the tongue a feeling of roughness. But in the lion and tiger the spines are strong enough to enable the animal to tear away the skin of a man's hand merely by licking it.

English Newspaper for the Riviera.
A daily English newspaper is to be started in the Riviera. About 250,000 people visit the Riviera during the winter months, and of these at least a third are English or Americans, who heretofore were forced to send to Paris for newspapers in their own language. The new publication will be called the Riviera Daily.
