Explanation of Sunday School Lesson.

BY REV. GEO. G. BURNS.

March 4, 1900. Jesus healing in Capernaum. Mark 1: 21-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—"And he healed many that were sick."

After Jesus had been rejected at Nazareth, he proceeded to Capernaum, where from now on, we find him making it his home. Capernaum was a much larger place than Nazareth and was the home of several of his disciples.

Again on the Sabbath Jesus went to the synagogue. It was a life long habit with him to be at divine service on the Sabbath. He being the son of God was nevertheless in need of such services. "I must be in my Father's house" said he when but a lad and that habit clung to him. Our Lord taught and did many wonderful miracles in the synagogues on the Sabbath. He was thus a help to others while receiving help himself. God has given to man one day out of seven of physical rest but also of mental and spiritual rest. The Sabbath has not been set aside by any foresight of man but by man's creator, who knows what man needs. Would that the American people understood the importance of keeping the Sabbath day holy. People live longer, better and happier when they keep holy the Sabbath. Every city is vastly better off with all business houses closed tight from Saturday night until Monday morning.

The people were surprised at the teaching of Jesus, for he taught them as one who had authority. He did not give them fine spun theories, that none but the educated could appreciate. It was living truth the Son of God gave to people. He spoke words that became the bread of life to those who understood. His word when preached in its own garb of truth will always be food to God's children; and to others who do not know its worth it is nothing but husks. Then comes the question "What is a good sermon?" "Who is a good preacher?" The Pharisees later on came and asked Jesus by what authority he "taught and did these things." Jesus Christ had authority to teach and work miracles. He proved this by his wonderful teachings, by his miracles and by being able to cast out devils. The elements obeyed him. He quieted the storm tossed sea; he called men and they followed him. The people said that "He taught with authority and not as the scribes." Jesus did not make an exposition of the law of Moses. He did not refer to any learned Rabbi for his authority. He even did not say as the prophets said "thus saith the Lord" or "God spake by the mouth of his prophets." Jesus said "But I say, unto you." He spoke thus on his own authority. Some preachers preach very dry, uninteresting sermons but Jesus spoke new and live doctrines, and yet the people soon tired of even Him. But the children of God are ever glad to hear him.

While he was teaching in the synagogue at Capernaum suddenly there was an out-cry from one who was possessed with an unclean spirit. Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God." If the unclean spirit intended to win favor with the Lord he was soon taught differently. Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit and he came out of the man and then left him. We of this day do not realize what it was to be possessed with devils. Often times even children were taken possession of by devils, and their bright lives were darkened and made very wretched. Men and women had friends within their own bosom that were worse than all the enemies they might have had among men. Without any rest these unclean spirits kept up a constant storm in these poor unfortunate people. Jesus in casting out devils shows that he is stronger than the evil spirits and is indeed the Son of God. The people who witnessed this were amazed. Here was a person who not only taught wonderful doctrines and opened the eyes of the blind but could cast out devils with a word. What iron chains and the best medical talent failed to accomplish Jesus did with a word. The people well remarked that this was new doctrine that unclean spirits obeyed him. It is not to be wondered at that his fame spread throughout all Galilee.

From the synagogue Jesus went to the house of Peter where he found Peter's mother-in-law on a bed of fever. Tossing in her delirium, burning with thirst, there seemed no hope of immediate relief. He who took our diseases and bore our sorrows took her by the hand, lifted her up and she, that moment, was a well woman. With this she ministered to him. Her gratitude was fitting and no doubt was graciously accepted by the Great Physician.

The work of Jesus was not done for that Sabbath. Word had gone out through the community how he was able to cast out devils, heal the sick, etc., and when the sun was set, the sick of that community were brought to him to be healed. Such another scene had never taken place in all the ages. The streets were crowded, the whole city had assembled about Peter's home. The sick were laid round about and the Good Physician went up and down the street speaking to one, touching another. He cast out many devils, and healed those who were afflicted with divers diseases. It is pleasant to know that the Son of God took delight in relieving those afflicted. There has never been such another person as this same Jesus. Sometimes people of other religions and unbelievers tell us that Mohamet Buddha and others were as great as Jesus Christ; but let them produce another such person walking among the sick, healing them as he walked. Jesus Christ is beautiful, the effulgence of the Father, as he passes among the sick with healing in his touch. What lesson shall we draw from these incidents in our Lord's life? He is still casting out the devils of passion. He is all the while causing men to be rid of evil within and without. All the plagues of life he is healing. In the cool of the evening he is dispersing to right and left his blessings.

A Letter From The Philippines.

Alaga, P. I., Jan. 1, 1900.

Mrs. Calista Grant,

Broken Bow, Neb.

Dear Aunt:—Sick call is over and the bugles are sounding, "Assembly for guard mount," while the bells from the church are ringing a merry peal, for they are obimes and it seems as if each one was trying to out strip the other. The weather here is cool and pleasant and at night it is very, very cold. This place has an altitude of 800 feet above the sea and, consequently differs in climate from Manila.

This is a beautiful little place that at one time had 25,000 inhabitants, but at present cannot count more than 5,000 souls. This town is built in a valley between the San Mateo Mts. and Mt. Arayat. It is quadrangular in shape and the native houses are clustered around a group of Spanish houses of which El Presidencia is one. This is the building I have selected for a hospital and which I occupy with seven patients.

I have charge of the Hospital in fact I am the hold cheese. I had to quit and give out some medicine just now and while I was doing that an educated mestizo came in and I translated what you had to say about the election. He didn't say much but he soon vanished. This is the Post Hospital and your humble servant is in command.

I hear there is an order discharged all soldiers enlisted between March 2nd and July 1st 99. And if that is so I enlisted one day too soon, but I will try and get my discharge.

I am very sorry to hear that you have been sick. I am all right except I have tropical ulcers on my feet, so I can't wear a shoe and have to chase around like a native.

I am writing this on the paper from a tablet and will send it in an envelope, and with a stamp that a young lady in San Jose sent me for Christmas. She sent me two tablets, fifty envelopes and twenty five cents worth of stamps. These were a God send for I can not obtain any here; that is one reason why I have not written before, another because I have been on the "Hike" since Oct. 26th, not staying in any place over two weeks with the exception of this place. I got my first mail yesterday for two months. I am midway between Cabanatuan and Tarlac. About 90 miles from San Fernando and 135 miles north east of Manila.

I cannot tell where I will be twenty four hours ahead. But my mail will always reach me in time if you direct it to my basis of supplies, 1st Div. Hospital, San Isidro P. I. These people are the darndest lot I ever saw. They can't appreciate a favor. If you give them medicine once, they expect you to give them ever after. Give a mother a bit of quinine and she will ask you for salts while the kids will cry for galliatas, (Hard Tack.) It makes them mad if you ask for anything in return. Or if you want to buy anything of them they will ask you three prices for it. For example There was a woman who has had three children very sick and we cured them. The other night I wanted to buy some matches, price sets mex. She couldn't change a peso, and said to wait till tomorrow for the pay. When I went to pay her the next day she wanted 12cets mex. I paid her, and in about five minutes she wanted me to give her some quinine. I told her to "Amos Bolica," (The drugstore) and she was mad, but when I told her how she cheated me she only laughed and said "Americano mucho malo no quiereaser bueno amigo." You can get Zeda to translate that, if you can't read it. How is every body in the Bow, and who was elected? I see by the Urbana Herald that Nebraska went dem-opop by a large majority and that Holcomb was elected by a large plurality.

Well I will close give my love and regards to all my friends and enemies, if I have any. Give my hello's to all my old comrades of Co. M., Hoping this finds you well and happy I remain as ever.

Your Loving Nephew,

CHAS. S. BUSEY, H. C.

1st Div. Hospital, San Isidro P. I.

P. S. I forgot to tell you that the natives have given me the name of "El Bueno Medico," or the Senior Doctor Carlos.
