Burlington Route—California Excursions

Cheap; quick; comfortable.

Leave Omaha 4:35 p. m. Lincoln 6:10 p. m. and Hastings 8:50 p. m. every Thursday, in clean, modern, not crowded tourist sleepers. No transfers; cars run right through to San Francisco and Los Angeles over the Scenic Route—through Denver and Salt Lake City. Cars are carpeted; upholstered in rattan; have spring seats and backs and are provided with curtains, bedding, towels, soap, etc. Uniformed porters and experienced excursion conductors accompany each excursion, relieving passengers of all bother about baggage, pointing out objects of interest and in many other ways helping to make the overland trip a delightful experience. Second class tickets are honored. Berths $5.

For folder giving full information, call at nearest Burlington Route ticket office, or write to J. Francis, general passenger agent Omaha, Neb.

The Way to go to California.

Is in a tourist sleeper, personally conducted, via the Burlington Route. You don't change cars. You make fast time. You see the finest scenery on the globe.

Your car is not as expensively furnished as a place sleeper, but it is just as clean, just as comfortable, just as good to ride in and nearly $20.00 cheaper. It has wide vestibules; Putsch gas high back seats; a uniformed Pullman porter; clean bedding; spacious toilet rooms, tables and heating range. Being strongly and heavily built, it rides smoothly; it is warm in winter and cool in summer.

In charge of each excursion party is an experienced excursion conductor who accompanies it right through to Los Angeles.

Cars leave Omaha, St. Joseph, Lincoln and Hastings every Thursday, arriving San Francisco following Sunday, Los Angeles Monday. Only three days from Missouri River to the Pacific Coast, including two stop-overs of 1 1/2 hours at Denver and 2 1/2 hours at Salt Lake City, two of the most interesting cities on the continent.

For folder giving full information, call at any Burlington Route ticket office, or write to J. FRANCIS, Gen'l. Pass. Agt., Omaha, Neb.

WOMEN IN TROUBLE.

The Approach of Motherhood is the Occasion of Much Anxiety to All.

Every woman dreads the ordeal through which she must pass in becoming a mother. The pain and suffering which is in store for her is a source of constant anxiety, fear and dread, to say nothing of the danger which the coming incident entails. The joyous anticipations with which she looks forward to baby's coming gives way to an indescribable dread of the ordeal when she fully realizes the critical and trying event which will soon approach and have to be endured.

Women should hail with delight a remedy which insures to them immunity from the pain, suffering and danger incidental to child-bearing. Such a remedy is now offered, and women need not fear longer the hour of childbirth. "Mother's Friend"—is a scientific liniment—and if used before confinement, gently and surely prepares the body for the great requirements and changes it is undergoing, insures safety to both mother and child, and takes her through the event with comparative ease and comfort. This wonderful remedy is praised by every woman who has used it.

What woman is not interested in "Mother's Friend"? This wonderful remedy has been tested and its priceless value proven by the experience of thousands of happy mothers who have used it during the most critical period of woman's life—the approach and culmination of motherhood.

It has won their everlasting praise, for it gave them help and hope in their most trying hour and when most needed. Every woman may some day need "Mother's Friend." The little book, "Before Baby is Born," telling all about it, and when it should be used, will prove of great interest and benefit to all expectant mothers, and will be sent free to any address upon application to the Bradfield Regulator Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Always Proves Effective.

There are no better medicines on the market than Chamberlain's. We have used the Cough Remedy when all others failed, and in every instance it proved effectual.

Almost daily we here the virtues of Chamberlain's remedies extolled by those who used them. This is not an empty puff, paid for at so much a line, but is voluntarily given in good faith, in the hope that suffering humanity may try these remedies and like the writer be benefited.—From the Glenville (W. At The Paris Exposition.

(Correspondence by Frank Rogers.)

Paris, March 19th, 1900.

A gentleman, a miller in Broken Bow, said to me in Harry Day's store one day that he was going to Paris and see the Exposition for something like $200 for the round trip. That was about a year ago when Broken Bow first began to talk of the Paris Exposition. If today that same gentleman can go from Broken Bow to Paris, see two weeks of the Exposition and get back home on $300, he can get a patent on his trip that any American traveler would willingly pay $400 for.

His case is something like the man up in Brussels who wrote to the American Express Co. in Paris a few days ago and wanted them to get him a nice, quiet room with breakfasts, close to the Exposition for fifty francs—$10—a month. The Express Co.'s correspondent answered him something like this: "Dear Sir, Taking all things into consideration, I think that about the best thing for you to do is to rent a small balloon and go up towards the top of the Eiffel tower; there you will find quiet, good air, and in fact everything you want but the dejeuner." One can be very economical in Paris until he has to sleep and eat, two very bad habits which all Americans practice. I have heard of people being held up for two francs for bread, butter and coffee. Very few are the places in Paris where one can get bread, butter and coffee for less than a franc. The following is the story told to a friend of mine by an American lady: "Dining at the Cafe American with my daughter I was served with the unclean dish of 'poulet a haut gout.' The attention of the head waiter was called to the fact, and the only result was a torrent of impertinence, unusual for a garcon de cafe. I then took my complaint against chicken and water to the woman at the desk. Here I found myself fairly out of the frying pan and into the fire. That person met my remonstrance with language that most people would call unparliamentary. Now this Cafe American since that lady's call does not permit ladies unaccompanied by gentlemen to enter. It is called one of the respectable restaurants of Paris. She thinks that perhaps the Cafe American is right in declining admittance to its tables of ladies unprotected by a gentleman. I learned yesterday from a very reliable source some very interesting facts about Exposition tickets. The tickets were numbered from one some where up to the millions, and put on sale at twenty francs for twenty tickets. So if they sold a million packs of these tickets they would have the nice little sum of four million dollars. Each number a man held on a ticket entitled him to a chance in a great lottery, and also insured him a uniform admittance to the Exposition. He might even if he wished sell his tickets and make what money he could on them.

So far the thing went all right and some people did win quite large sums of money; but now the management says, 'Only on certain days are your tickets good. Some days it will take four or five of them to admit you to the grounds. That has made holders pretty sore. Some are offering their tickets at from fifteen to eighteen francs, and even a few of the poorer holders are offering to sell their tickets on the street at from seven to ten cents each. In the American Express office I heard Mr. Peck air his opinion of the thing. Words seemed to flow from the honorable gentleman in big blue torrents.

A few nights ago the managers of the Exposition gave a grand supper at which four hundred guests were present. The affair cost one million francs. Some one has to pay for all such things, so I suppose they decided to make a portion of it come out of innocent ticket holders.

People in France are always looking out for some way to get the dollars and they are not particular how they get them. Last night an American who has been in France just long enough to get this instinct, proposed that we set some scheme afoot for making the millions of money that line the outskirts of Paris into some kind of fertilizer. When people just visiting the country get that bad what must the natives be?

From Our Exchanges.

Sargent Leader.

Senator F. M. Currie and Fred Cummings departed from here Monday morning for Billings, Montana. They expect to buy a car load of horses before they return.

Dr. Graham is making arrangements to build a new dwelling in Sargent. He expects to have the building ready for occupancy by the first of May. At which in time his family, who are living in Lincoln, expects to join him. The doctor has great faith in the future at Sargent, and has backed up his faith by investing in several pieces of real estate.

Merna Sun.

A few days ago while one of Hayes Williams' boys, living near New Helena, was making a bow and arrow his knife slipped, cutting quite a gash in his chest, from which the blood flowed freely. A doctor was called who checked the blood and dressed the wound. At last report the boy was getting along well.

Brewster News.

C. T. Anderson was in town yesterday from Lakeview, doing business. Charley appears to have occasion to come down every once in a while.

G. H. Tuttle is building fence these days preparatory to rounding up his cattle. He thinks with the new addition to the family makes it a necessity to labor an hour a day more.

W. H. Reeder of Merna who recently bought the Wes White farm at the mouth of Goose Creek, arrived yesterday with his first load of goods preparatory to a permanent location of himself and family on their lately acquired possessions in Blain county. Mr. Reeder is an enterprising farmer and stockman in Custer county and the news takes pleasure in seeing this family come to our midst.

Johnnie and Charley Frederick were thrown from a bucking horse yesterday morning breaking the leg of the former, while the latter escaped without injury. The father of the boys relieved a broken leg a few weeks ago by a horse falling upon him.—Callaway Courier.

Corn husking is about finished. We were told that James Houts finished his field one day last week.

John Cover returned from Cheyenne to Mason last Friday. He went to Cheyenne expecting to secure employment, but was disappointed.

Mason City Transcript.

Mr. Elijah Stoddard, of Omaha, who was one of the early ranchmen of this part of Custer county, is now here attending some business matters. Mr. Stoddard can relate many interesting and historical reminiscences of early days in Custer county.

Ed Burrows while on his recent hunting trip to the Platte encountered the business end of a poison weed or vine, with the result that he has been confined to his house since his return home. Ed's face and other portions of his anatomy were badly swollen.

Mr. D. F. Wimer left on Monday morning for Conway, S. C. where her husband has been for the last year. It is the lady's intention to remain away a year. The lady will spend a week visiting with friends in Otoe county, Neb., before proceeding on her southern journey.

Sidney Telegraph.

There have been at least twenty prairie fires between Bridgeport and Gering started from the sparks from the engines and it has kept every body busy in neighborhood of Northport fighting them; one day there being four different fires within a mile of Northport. It is becoming a nuisance as no one knows how soon his ranch and home will be burned up. The B. & M. Should have some preventive for this.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "A few applications of this liniment proved of a great service to me. It subdued the inflammation and relieved the pain. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please me." For sale by all druggists.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by all druggists.
